BIG ARMIES BEGIN STRUGGLE FOR HUNGARY

BOYS PERILED BY POOLROOM LAW VIOLATORS

League Tells Chief Gleason "Joints" Lure Pupils of Schools.

ASK HIM FOR ACTION.

Charges of widespread violation of the law by poolrooms, particularly with reference to the admission of minors, are contained in a report of investigators forwarded yesterday to Chief of Police Gleason by Arthur Burrage Farwell, president of the Law and Order league.

In his letter Mr. Farwell says the league has received many complaints from parents. Some of the places mentioned are near public schools and are called a menace to the morals of the pupils.

The proprietor of one poolroom frequented by minors admitted to investigators that the joint is the toughest in the city. This proprietor, the league's operatives were told, was run out of St. Louis, where he had a string of poolrooms, by the police. Some of the places investigated were found, however, to be complying strictly with the law.

"We assume you will act on the information given," Mr. Farwell writes to Chief Gleason, "and correct the evil complained of."

Here Are Operatives' Reports.

Following are the cases taken from the reports of the investigators:

4758 West Lake street—I went to Johnson's pool and billiard and bowling halls and while in there I made the acquaintance of the proprietor. Johnson has two rooms facing on Lake street. In the east room there are four bowling alleys; in the west room there is a cigar counter, eight pool and billiard tables. Mr. Johnson told me he had four smaller rooms at the west end of the two main rooms. Johnson said he had a slot machine in one of them and he sometimes run a punch board in the other rooms.

They played cards whenever they wanted to. Johnson said the back room was closed that night, as Wednesday night the boys go to see their girls so it is a little quiet. While I was talking to Johnson some young men that were bowling ordered five beers from Johnson's assistant. He went to a dumb waiter that runs to the saloon and ordered the beers. In a minute or two the waiter ascended and he served the beer to the bowlers.

1409 East Sixty-third street—We next visited 1409 East Sixty-third street. There were three pool tables there, but no games going on. With the pool tables were two card tables. At one table were five men, three playing cards. They were taking particular notice of us and it seemed as though they changed the game. We left there, going to 1441 East Sixty-third street.

Here's Toughest Joint.

Lane school—Opposite this school building is a poolroom which has seven or eight tables. This room was crowded with young men and boys who came and went from school building, some of them having their school books with them.

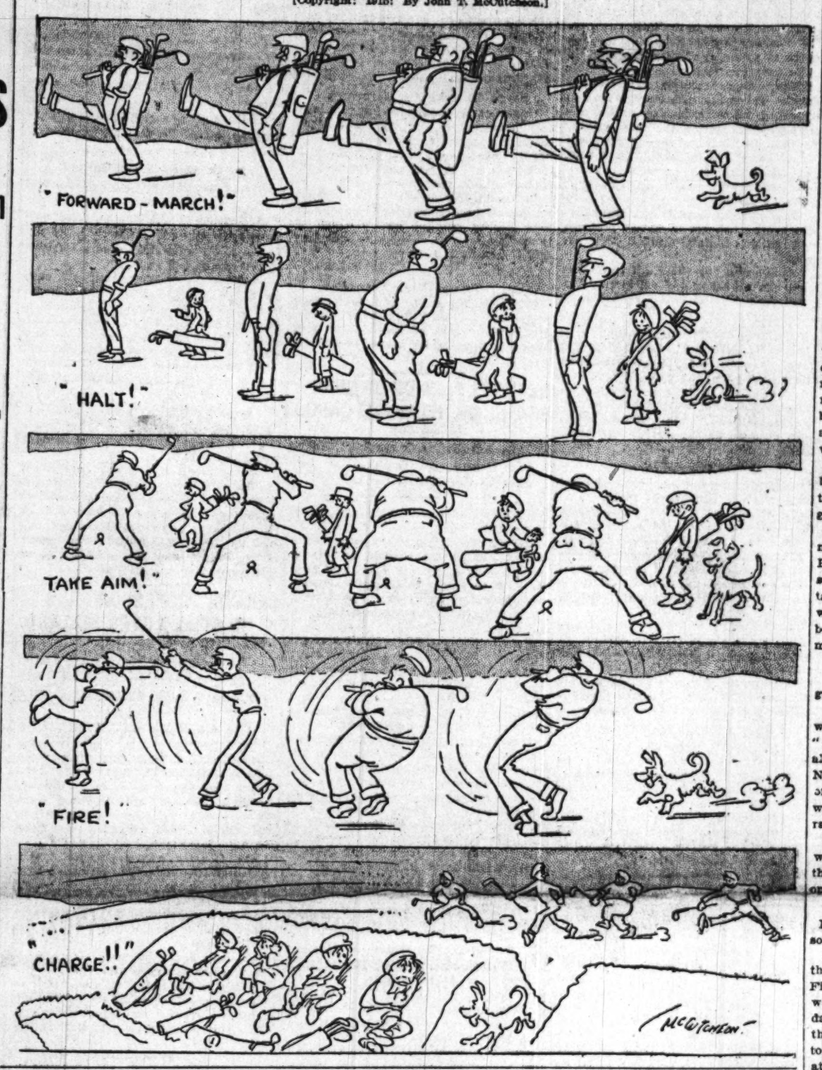

We were there over an hour watching the play. At the table nearest the door they were playing Kelley pool for money and we saw considerable money changing hands.

Many of them were smoking cigars and cigarets. We had a conversation with the proprietor regarding the conditions of the place as to its being quiet. He said, "Do you know this is called the

AND NOW SHE'S MRS. DILG AGAIN

Marguerite McLaughlin Reweds First Spouse Day After Annulment.

Marguerite Ives Dilg McLaughlin, whose marriage to Attorney Edward T. McLaughlin of New York was annulled on Tuesday by Judge Denis E. Sullivan, yesterday celebrated the twelfth anniversary of her first marriage to Will H. Dilg of the Will H. Dilg Advertising company by again becoming Mrs. Dilg.

It was the third marriage ceremony for Mrs. Marguerite Ives Dilg McLaughlin Dilg and the second ceremony for Mr. Dilg. This time the Dilgs assured Judge Newcomer the marriage was "for keeps." Mrs. Dilg's mother was present with her blessing.

Judge Quizzes Couple.

Judge John R. Newcomer, who performed the ceremony yesterday, gave the couple a course of sharp questioning before he consented to remarry them. As they stood before him, all spruced up in wedding clothes, the judge told them that he was "not dealing in trial marriages."

"Are you absolutely certain that this is to be a real marriage this time?" demanded Judge Newcomer.

"Judge, this is the third and last time," replied Mrs. Dilg.

"Yes, I am sure of it," was Dilg's response.

Says He Deceived Her.

Mrs. Dilg evaded admission that Dilg had courted her since her marriage to McLaughlin.

"I was deceived by Mr. McLaughlin's legal opinion," she said. "I took it from him as a lawyer, and not as a lover."

"Do you think the courtship in this present case has been sufficient to justify marriage?" asked the judge, turning to Mrs. Dilg's mother.

"Judge, I am certain of it," responded the parent.

"I am certain that I love Mr. Dilg more than any man on earth," pleaded the bride, who constantly called Mr. Dilg "dear."

To the question in the marriage ceremony as to whether Mr. Dilg would live with his wife "for the remainder of your natural life," Dilg replied "I will."

The Dilgs were divorced on complaint of Mrs. Dilg March 16, 1914.

WANTS NEW P. O. BETWEEN UNION AND N. W. DEPOTS

Chicago's new postoffice will be located in the two blocks bounded by Canal, Clinton, Adams, and Madison streets if the recommendation of Chicago postal officials is heeded.

Gen. James E. Stuart, postoffice inspector in charge, yesterday sent his report on available sites to the postmaster general. It is known that he recommended the location between the Northwestern and the new Union stations.

Last October A. S. MacGregor of the treasury department was sent here to investigate possible sites for a new postoffice. Mr. MacGregor's report was referred to Gen. Stuart for recommendations.

Mr. MacGregor took the position that a site immediately west of the new Union terminal would be preferable because it could be purchased at a figure somewhat nearer the available appropriation—$1,750,000. One estimate of the cost of the Canal street location was $6,000,000.

Gen. Stuart's report pointed out that celerity and economy in handling the mails are the prime considerations.

In the opinion of the inspector it will require a four or five story building covering two blocks to meet the needs of the Chicago situation.

PRISONER WRITES POETRY; FEEBLE MINDED, VERDICT.

Young Man Hits Upon Scheme to Get Out of Jail, but Instead Goes to Bridewell.

Charles Singer, arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, wrote a poem which he showed Judge Jarecki in the night court last night.

The first stanza read:

Seven long years in state's prison,
Seven more years I must stay,
For knocking a man down the alley,
And then:
I wish I had wings like a sparrow,
Out of this jail I would fly,
Right to the arms of my mother,
And there I would lay down and die.

Dr. William Hickson of the psychopathic laboratory said Singer, who is 23 has the mind of a boy 9½ years old.

"There should be a farm for that kind of boys," Judge Jarecki said, "but the only thing I can do is to send him to the bridewell."

Flee Kidnapers in Bath Blanket and Thin Sheet!

Couple of Northwestern Sophomores Have Wild Time in Escaping.

TREASURY CHEST GONE

Sophomores from Northwestern university managed to enjoy their class banquet at the Mission tearoom at Sheridan road and Irving Park boulevard last night despite the fact that an enterprising band of freshmen raiders had captured and concealed the treasury hoard which was to have paid for the dinner.

While policemen held back a mob of besieging campus enemies, the celebrators, safe in the tearoom, chanted the glories of '17.

Seldom in history had there been so many class officers at the soph banquet. President, vice president, treasurer, and secretary—every official and class dignitary save only little Chick Hogue, who was to have played the piano and had been unavoidably detained—filled the main table.

He Speaks, and Then——

Mr. Hogue called up to express his regrets in the course of the evening.

"They're going to throw me out the window if I tell where I am," he said. "It's somewhere in Rogers Park—that's all. The freshies got me in the Sigma Nu fraternity house. There's a dozen of 'em here watching me now. Here's what I think of 'em. Listen! Rah, rah, rah—sev'teen, sev'teen, sev'——!"

The captured pianist's telephonic cheers were abruptly cut short. Another hand than his apparently banged the receiver on the hook.

The Story of Prouty.

Ralph Prouty, the class treasurer, had something of a yarn to tell.

Prouty was captured by freshmen in the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house. First he was forced to give up the money with which he was to have settled for the damage done to the tearoom's cookery by the soph appetites. Then he was taken to the house of Mrs. Henry C. Bartling, at 6145 Winthrop avenue. Mrs. Bartling, having a son in the freshman class, provided a room to serve as prison.

To make sure Prouty would not wander away a half dozen husky freshmen undressed him and deposited his clothing on the far side of the locked door. Prouty, snooping about, found a pair of white duck trousers and a bathrobe in a closet. He put them on, jumped from the window, and fled barefoot.

Norman Ives, another class leader, also was captured by the freshmen. He was locked in a room on the third floor of the Beta Theta Pi house. His captors took the precaution of depriving him of all his clothing, but when an informal '18 gloating committee called a couple of hours later the room was empty.

From the window hung a rope of sheets and blankets.

Robbed of Shoes and Pants.

At the Calvary station the elevated train on which the surfeited sophs were returning to Evanston with their co-ed guests was boarded by an army of freshmen. There was no disorder until the sophs disembarked at Foster street.

Prof. James A. James, on the station platform in Evanston, made an eloquent plea for peace, but his words were as futile as the efforts of a squad of policemen.

James Beebe, a sophomore who strayed a few yards away from his fellow classmen, was seized and whisked out of his shoes, socks, and trousers. With his coat lowered to do duty as a kilt, he hurried home.

Tossed Into Lake.

By mutual consent, following this occurrence, the co-eds started home without their escorts. The co-eds of the freshman class chased the other young women to Willard hall. Three of the latter are reported to have been partly disrobed before being rescued.

The sophs, surrounded by the policemen, followed by jeering freshmen, and trailed by a police motor, headed for the campus. They reached their objective after desultory fighting along the way.

The freshmen, who were about 150 strong, against the even hundred sophomores, began a series of bedroom raids. Several captured sophomores were tossed into the lake.

LIKES WHEAT MARKET HERE.

New York Operator, Credited with Cleaning Up $350,000, Coming Back for More.

New York, March 24.—[Special.]—Joe Manning, big stock exchange speculator, who went to Chicago to get some thrills in the wheat pit recently, returned to New York just before the beginning of the swift rise in the stock market, but he's going back to Chicago again. When asked today if he'd made any money in his short stay in Chicago he said: "A little." A man from Chicago who keeps in touch with wheat said that meant about $350,000.

RAID BRINGS BATTLE IN AIR AT ANTWERP

British Drop Bombs on Submarine Base in Hail of Steel.

SHOPS SET ON FIRE.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, March 24.—Thrilling details of the raid by British aviators upon the German submarine base at Hoboken, three miles from Antwerp, reached here tonight from Amsterdam.

This report says that one submarine was destroyed and others seriously damaged. The official report adds that several shops were set afire by bombs dropped from the aeroplanes.

One of the aviators, Flight Lieutenant Crossby-Meates, because of machine trouble on the return voyage, was forced to descend at Kriningen, one of the Zeeland islands, and has been interned by the Dutch officials at Groningen.

Gives Details of Attack.

The dispatch from Amsterdam describes the raid as follows:

"Leaving their base, near Calais, early this morning, British airmen flew at a great height along the Belgian coast, passing over the German batteries, from which they were heavily fired at by anti-aircraft guns. From one place a Taube came up in pursuit. Its speed, however, was not equal to that of the English machines, which outdistanced it and safely reached Antwerp shortly after 7.

"Immediately after the raiders were sighted over the city they were subjected to a tremendous fire from all sides. Anti-aircraft guns were trained on them, and shells burst all about them, while hundreds of rifle shots also were fired, but the aviators went through the hail of lead unscathed.

"The people of the city rushed into the streets or climbed on the housetops to witness the remarkable spectacle, and the noise of the firing was almost as great as when Antwerp was actually attacked by the Germans.

Swoop Close to Ground.

"Undeterred by their reception, the aviators kept to their plans, swerving over the locality of the ship yards at Hoboken till they could get into a perfect position for dropping bombs. Shrapnel shells burst near them, but to no purpose, and with magnificent pluck and skill they approached their objective.

"Then each swooped down, with a steep incline, like a hawk at a sparrow. Each in turn passed immediately over the dock in which the submarines were lying, and, flying at a height of only 300 feet, dropped their bombs. Nearly every one took effect, completely destroying one submarine and badly damaging others.

"After having achieved their purpose the aviators returned in a southwesterly direction. Only one German machine got up in time to give chase, and its effort was as futile as those of the Taube which followed the raiders on the way out."

German Guard in Vain.

The Amsterdam dispatch says the fact the Germans had established the submarine base at Hoboken became known to London through information received in Amsterdam.

"A most ingenious plan was devised by the Germans to disguise the presence of the submarine dock," it adds. "The superstructure of a small steamboat had been constructed over it. This work had been carried out behind high and specially constructed walls on the wharves, but the secret had leaked out despite all the attempts of the Germans to guard it."

Report Made by Longmore.

The British admiralty statement was issued in the form of a report from Wing Commander Longmore. It says:

"A successful air attack was carried out this morning by five machines of the Dunkirk squadron on the German submarines being constructed at Hoboken.

"Two of the pilots were forced to return, owing to thick weather, but Squadron Commander Ivor T. Courtney and Flight Lieut. H. Rosher reached their objective and after planing down to 1,000 feet dropped four bombs each on the submarines.

"It is believed that considerable damage has been done to both the works and to two submarines. The works were observed to be on fire. In all, five submarines were observed on the slip.

"Flight Lieut. B. Crossley-Meates was obliged by engine trouble to descend in Holland. Owing to the mist, the two pilots experienced considerable difficulty in finding their way, and they were subjected to heavy gunfire while delivering their attacks."

Women Campaign in Jap Election; Result in Doubt

Fair Sex Takes Up Politics for First Time in History of Nippon.

FAVOR LARGER ARMY

TOKIO, March 24.—Closing an exciting campaign, during which the wives of several candidates at Tokio made personal visits and appeals to the voters, a general election was held today throughout the Japanese empire to choose a new house of representatives.

The last house was dissolved by the emperor on Christmas day, 1914, because of its refusal to ratify the military program of the cabinet.

The government insisted upon an increase in the army of two divisions, and Baron Kato, the foreign minister, declared that the adoption of this measure would not affect Japan's relations with the other powers. The Seiyuka party contended that the success of the government in pushing this measure through would be a blow to constitutionalism.

In the last diet the ministry was opposed by the majority, and should this majority, represented by the Seiyukai, or Conoservative, party, be returned the Okuma cabinet may have to retire from office.

Breaks Expense Record.

The campaign has been the most exciting and expensive in the history of Japan.

Premier Okuma made a whirlwind campaign, speaking from a special train, while leaders like Yukio Ozaki, the minister of justice, distributed their views by phonograph.

Indications before the election were that the contest would be exceedingly close. The governmental groups, consisting chiefly of the progressive Doshi-Kai and Chuse-Kai, as well as the nationalist group, Kokuminto, have waged a strenuous campaign. Virtually all the cabinet members made speaking tours in Tokio and the interior.

The appearance of women in the campaign, for the first time in Japanese history, caused a sensation. The wives of several of the candidates made a house to house canvass in behalf of their husbands, thereby provoking considerable comment in the newspapers concerning the development of the "new woman."

1,500 Arrested for Corruption.

The government used all its efforts against corruption in the elections. As a result, 1,500 persons were arrested.

The number of representatives elected today was 381, but in view of the difficulty of determining the balloting, the result will not be known for several days. In all there are about 700 candidates.

Taking into consideration the fact that the population of Japan is approximately 54,000,000, the suffrage is small, only about 2,000,000 persons having the right to vote.

HALF MILLION AUSTRIANS MASSED ON ITALY'S BORDER?

Villages Evacuated by Inhabitants and Houses Blown Up for Free Artillery Range.

LONDON, March 25, 4 a. m.—A Rome dispatch to the Daily News says half a million Austrian troops are massed in southern Tyrol and Trentino, indicating a fear of invasion.

Virtually all the villages between Sugana and Lake Garda have been evacuated by their inhabitants, and many houses along the front, which would be in the line of artillery fire, have been blown up.

Batteries have been posted at every point of vantage, and heavy guns have been mounted at an altitude of about 7,000 feet.

LLOYDS OF LONDON BETTING WAR WILL END BY SEPT. 30.

Insurance Rate Offered Is Four to Three on Losses Sustained After That Date.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, March 24.—Lloyds is betting 4 to 3 that the war will be over by Sept. 30, 1915. In other words, Lloyds is offering to pay 100 guineas on a premium of 75 guineas for losses sustained after that date and due to the war. Underwriters think the proposition is a good one.

GIRL QUITS PASTOR RUSSELL

Returns Voluntarily to Mother in Philadelphia and Suit Is Dropped.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 24.—[Special.]—Seventeen year old Ruth Galbraith, whose determination to remain at an annex of Pastor Russell's Brooklyn tabernacle was the cause of a suit brought by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Galbraith, has returned home and as a result the suit has been dropped. The return of the girl was voluntary.

CZAR PLANS VITAL BLOW AT AUSTRIA

Russians and Teutons Renew Fierce Fighting in Carpathians.

CAPITALS IN CRISIS.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, March 24.—One of the greatest battles of the present war and one fraught with farreaching consequences is being fought out in the Carpathian mountains. With the fall of Przemysl, giving the Russians control of all but the easternmost part of Galicia, it is the belief of military experts here that the forces of the czar have inaugurated a supreme effort to break through the mountain barriers and sweep into Hungary.

On the other hand, it is increasingly evident that the Austro-German forces are preparing to offer desperate resistance to the renewed Russian advance. The political consequences of another serious defeat for the Austrians and the overrunning of Hungary are too grave to permit of anything but the sternest measures to protect Hungary from invasion.

MASSING GREAT FORCES.

That Russia, Germany, and Austria-Hungary have subordinated the campaign in Russian Poland to the pending struggle in the Carpathians is evident. Dispatches from Petrograd, Berlin, and Vienna today told of the renewal of fierce fighting all along the front in Galicia, while along the northern line stretching from the Baltic through Poland only operations of small relative importance were reported.

The capture of Przemysl released a Russian investing army which is estimated at not less than 200,000 men and probably considerably exceeds that figure. This army with many batteries of new artillery is being rushed to the battle line before Cracow and along the Carpathians as fast as troop trains can carry it.

BATTLE IN FULL SWING.

A dispatch from Berlin quotes the special correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger in Vienna as telegraphing:

"The great bloody battle is now in full swing in the Carpathians. It has not yet reached a point where a definite judgment can be passed on the events at any point. The conflict is likely to be waged some days yet with equal fierceness by both sides.

"Conditions to the north of the Vistula river and along the Bug and Narew line appear to have changed little or not at all recently."

CRISIS FOR AUSTRIANS.

According to a dispatch from Vienna via Venice, Gen. Schoenaich, the former Hungarian minister of war, in discussing the war situation said:

"Everything now depends upon the tremendous battle raging in the Carpathians. If we succeed in defeating the enemy, then the fall of Przemysl will remain only an episode of the war."

A war correspondent of the News Freie Presse reports that the fighting in Uzsok and Dukla passes is proceeding with unabated fury and is apparently likely to continue for some time.

RUSSIANS MAKE GAINS.

The Russian war office in Petrograd issued the following statement:

"In the Carpathians our troops are advancing. They seized today several fortified heights on the front between the roads leading to Bartfeld and Uzsok. Everywhere the counter attacks of the enemy were unsuccessful. We took during the course of the day over 4,000 prisoners, one field gun, and dozens of machine guns.

"On March 22 the Germans again attacked without success near Kozlowka.

"In an Austrian attack on March 19 on the front in the vicinity of Ropitza the enemy opened a hurricane fire with 12 inch howitzers under cover of which twenty enemy battalions at 4 o'clock in the morning attacked our forces. Our infantry opened fire with extremely careful aim at the enemy, who, supported by reserves, approached to within 200 paces of our trenches. His reserves were exhausted at 9 o'clock and the enemy withdrew, leaving the area covered with his killed and wounded."

AUSTRIAN STATEMENT.

The following official statement was issued today in Vienna by the Austrian war office:

"In the western Carpathians the battle has developed on a front as far as Uzsok pass and continues with great violence. Strong Russian forces are attacking and positions on the heights are being bitterly fought for.

"In several engagements between the Pruth and the Dniester rivers in the most northerly part of Bukowina the enemy was dislodged from some villages and compelled to retreat toward the frontier. North of Czernowitz the villages beyond the Pruth, which served the enemy as a basis for operations against the city, were cleared of Russians.

"In West Galicia we destroyed a Russian pontoon bridge across the lower Dunajec river."

Campaign in the North.

BERLIN, March 24.—The German war office today issued the following statement:

"German troops are pursuing the retreating Russians northward of Memel, East Prussia. They captured near Polangen 500 Russians and took three guns and three rapid firers.

"German sea forces assisted the land forces in the operations to the north of Memel. They bombarded Thursday forenoon the village and castle of Polangen and kept under fire the road from Polangen to Libau.

"Near Laugszargen, southwest of Tauroggen and northeast of Mariampol, Russian attacks were repulsed.

"Northwest of Ostrolenka several Russian attacks failed. Here we captured twenty officers, more than 2,500 men, and five machine guns. Eastward of Plock several charges of the enemy failed."

Germans Drop Ossowetz Siege.

PETROGRAD, March 24, 9:45 a. m.—Official announcement has been made that the Germans since Sunday have removed all but four of their heavy batteries from before Ossowetz. The Russian statement adds:

"A couple of 42 centimeter howitzers were abandoned after the first battle, one of which was damaged by our fire. Shots from the howitzers failed to crush the masonry of the fortress. Superiority in artillery fire was distinctly on our side. Not only was the German attack far from endangering the Ossowetz forts, but the enemy failed to dislodge our infantry from its field works.

Hard Fighting on the Narew.

"On the right bank of the Narew river, on the Skwa-Orzyo front, including the right bank of the river Orzyo, the engagements for possession of isolated points of vantage are assuming a more general and extremely desperate character. The Germans, who brought up strong reinforcements here at the expense of their other fronts, are stubbornly defending their positions and are opening new and vigorous counter attacks.

"Our troops, however, are making slow but sure progress, capturing trenches and heights. Among the noteworthy actions have been hand to hand engagements fought near Vakh-Karask and Jednorozlep, where our troops gained the day, taking about 300 prisoners, eight machine guns, and two trench mortars.

"The Germans have been forced to evacuate Domarevitze farm, on the Pilica, and we have consolidated the ground won. Counter attacks in this region have been repulsed."

Garrison Being Removed.

As rapidly as possible the Austrian prisoners are being hurried out of Przemysl and across the Galician border to Russian prison camps, according to dispatches received today from the front. Several thousand already have arrived at Kieff, their clothing in tatters, some of them suffering from disease.

Several bodies of Russian troops have marched into Przemysl, but the main Russian force is still encamped outside the town. Before a garrison is permanently located in the Austrian fortress sanitary corps will give the city a thorough cleaning. The Russian general staff fears the spread of the diseases that ravaged the Austrian garrison in the last days of the siege.

Przemysl's Privations Described.

VIENNA, March 24.—The Neue Freie Presse describes the shocking privations to which the garrison at Przemysl were reduced prior to the capitulation of the fortress. Five airmen who made their escape relate that during the last few weeks the hospitals were crowded with people exhausted by hunger. Almost every second man was in hospital.

Before the last sortie on Friday each man received two tins of preserves, which were ravenously devoured. In many cases the sorely tried digestive organs could not support the unaccustomed quantity of food, with the result that the men fell ill and some of them died.

All of the horses had already been killed and eaten, including the generals' chargers. The last supplies of oats were ground into meal, which, with the horse flesh, was distributed to the starving.

Honor for Prince Friedrich.

BERLIN, March 24.—Prince Eitel Friedrich, second son of Emperor William, who is in command of a brigade on the western front, has been decorated with the Order of Pour Le Merite.

PUBLIC FEELING IN BRITAIN OVER WAR IS UNITED

Stern Purpose to Uphold Government Despite Mistakes Evident.

[WAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]

[Copyright: 1915: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The new arrival in London gathers no impression of war. The streets are crowded, the city busy. Popular plays are heavily patronized.

The placards calling for volunteers are modest, according to our standards. Soldiers and officers in service uniform are numerous, but unostentatious.

Last night there was an air raid in southern England and several bombs were dropped among private houses. If bomb dropping caused much excitement at the beginning of the war it has worn off. The public attitude towards it is very much as ours towards holdup men, although the authorities are making greater efforts to stop air raiding than ours to stop holdups. I have not been able to get any expression as to what action the authorities will take in the event of the capture of a raider. I believe, however, if one falls into the hands of the populace and is not immediately rescued by a constable lynch law will be introduced into England.

When one gets to talking with the people, however, he soon learns how serious a war is raging and how vitally the people are taking it. A lady who has lost one son and four grandsons in six months needs neither eloquence nor vocabulary to make her feelings plain.

Popular Feeling Hinted.

The complete unity of popular opinion is staggering. Everybody is convinced that the censorship (which amounts to a practical suppression of the press) is unnecessary and unwise, but everybody takes a pride in bearing this hardship. There is a general but well guarded opinion that several serious blunders marked the beginning of the naval war. It is therefore considered all the more necessary to uphold the hands of the admiralty.

It is also felt, and it is true, that whatever mistakes were made in minor operations, such as permitting the escape of German ships to Turkish waters, and allowing an inferior fleet to fight off Chile, have been more than counterbalanced by the general efficiency of the navy and by Churchill's brilliant work in having the fleet mobilized at the declaration of war.

The ordeal the English navy has been through in the last six months is the most terrible that any navy has undergone, excepting unsuccessful battle. In winter weather, torpedo boats as well as larger ships have kept the sea, kept it not only in the face of icy blasts but of the ever present invisible danger from submarines.

Praise for Men Withheld.

Four battleships and their men have been annihilated by submarines, three ships and their crews destroyed at Valparaiso; four successful naval actions have been fought in all parts of the world, yet the admiralty has issued no word of praise for officers or men. This cannot be by accident or indifference. It is intended to show a hardness of purpose more inflexible than that of the enemy.

Perhaps the greatest achievement of this war is Kitchener's army. It is not the best army in the war, nor can it hope to be unless the war continues a year or more.

As an achievement of military efficiency it exceeds anything the world has seen. The great German, French, and Russian armies are the growth of forty or more years; the Japanese army was two decades in the making.

The English have raised, equipped, and trained 3,000,000 men in six months.

An army of 3,000,000 men requires approximately 3,000 colonels, 30,000 captains, 60,000 lieutenants, and nearly half a million of noncommissioned officers.

Some of these have been taken from the regular line. All retired officers of serviceable age have been called. "Dugouts" they are nicknamed. Many have been promoted from the ranks of the regular army to their own excessive embarrassment, but the bulk, of necessity, have come from civil life.

Hold Class Distinctions Aid.

Both English newspaper men and English officers claim that the building of this army was facilitated by the class distinctions of the country, there being one class which is accustomed to command, another class accustomed to obey.

Whatever the reasons, Kitchener's army is rapidly growing into a fighting machine.

Yesterday at Aldershot I saw a division completing a twenty-five mile practice march in heavy marching kit. Twenty-five miles with a shotgun after quail or with a rifle after deer or bear, or even with golf clubs after an oversized quinine pill is easily done, but twenty-five miles with a forty pound pack, walking in close order, on a muddy road, and without the incitement of an enemy behind, or even in front, is the acme of drudgery.

When you realize that 3,000,000 men and boys, brought up in a civilian atmosphere, have been willing to undergo this for six months, and as much longer as their superiors deem necessary, you will get an idea of the spirit which must permeate the nation.

To my surprise I found the men of unusual vigor, not as tall as our soldiers, but muscular, active, and ruddy cheeked.

Formality Is Lacking.

There is less formality in this army than any I have ever seen. There seems to be no settled rule for privates to salute officers or for officers to salute one another, nor is there any familiarity between men and officers, a condition due, I suppose, to the class distinctions before mentioned.

The English have brought common sense into uniforms. Aside from imperceptible insignia, men and officers alike are dressed as they would be if starting for the woods, without shape to their clothes or waste of money upon material soon to be damaged by mud and blood.

Eye Witness Declares Allies Lost Heavily at Dardanelles

The following narrative by an Associated Press correspondent of the fighting in the Dardanelles March 18 differs widely from the official statement given out in London. According to the correspondent, the allies' vessels were sunk or damaged by gunfire from the forts and not by floating mines, as claimed by the British.

DARDANELLES, Thursday, March 18, via Constantinople and Berlin, March 21, and London, March 24.—One French battleship, the Bouvet, sent to the bottom; one British battleship, name unknown as yet to the observers on shore, driven on the beach, and battered to pieces, and three other ships of the allies damaged to such an extent that it was found necessary to take them out of action, while on the other side the Turkish forts on the Dardanelles have not been silenced and the losses sustained by their garrisons are nominal. These are details of the result of the tremendous efforts made by the allied fleet on March 18 to force the passage of the Dardanelles.

The Bouvet was struck by a 14-inch shell above the water line which caused an explosion in the magazine. Later it was again hit by a same caliber missile below the water line.

The battleship Irresistible was disabled by being hit in a vital part by a shell and it later was literally hacked to pieces by the 5.9-inch pieces of the Dardanos batteries. It sank at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of March 18.

A third British vessel, the Vengeance, was damaged, by guns of the forts and drifted helplessly toward the entrance to the straits, where its crew was taken off by torpedo boats. This vessel did not leave the Dardanelles waters, nor did any other British vessel enter during the night to bring help, but the ship had disappeared the next morning.

A fourth vessel was struck in a turret and otherwise damaged by a Turkish shell. It was taken out of action.

The British Queen Elizabeth was hit five times by howitzer shells and the battle cruiser Inflexible was struck four times.

One destroyer was sent to the bottom. It is reported that three torpedo boats of the allies also were sunk and that one other battleship managed to find safety but in a sinking condition.

The action lasted nearly seven hours, during which time there was a terrific cannonade. The Turkish gunners maintained their precision wonderfully, even when they were literally buried in the earth and debris which the exploding shells from the warships threw broadcast over their positions.

The allies appeared at about half past 11 in the morning, throwing their first shells in the town of Channak-Kalessi. Their vessels at this hour numbered four French and five British battleships. A little later five other British warships entered the bay and the bombardment rapidly became terrific.

The correspondent of the Associated Press had taken shelter in Fort Chimenlik, but he was driven out by shells to a position on a hill outside the town.

In the beginning the range of the British and French gunners was excellent. The correspondent saw a shell land fair on a corner of the Fort Kale Sultanie tower and tear out a large hole in the masonry.

While traversing Chanak-Kalessi several houses were knocked to pieces by exploding shells. The trip to the town was accelerated by the well directed shots. While the correspondents were on the water front several large shells exploded 100 yards away, and splinters from them filled the air. The correspondents were moving along in the center of a body of soldiers. The fire from the warships soon became general.

At noon the British had concentrated their fire upon the forts. The noise of the explosions and the replies of the Turkish batteries were deafening.

The British ships were firing heavily and continuously. At times the smoke was so thick that it completely blotted out the horizon and totally enveloped the particular Turkish fort under fire, but time and again the smoke cleared and showed the Turkish position virtually undamaged.

The fire of the Turks was rapid and accurate, so much so that the fire from the allied warships began to be erratic. Many shots flew high, while others fell short. One result of this was that the town of Ohanak Kalessi, behind Forts Hamidieh and Chemenlik, had wide avenues cut through it. Fire started in the Greek quarter and destroyed a number of houses, but Turkish soldiers were formed into fire brigades and they kept the flames down.

The bombardment reached its greatest intensity at 3:15, when the French battleship Bouvet was observed to be riding low by the stern. The next minute it swung a little to port. At the same moment the after deck disappeared under water. For about two minutes the battleship held in this position, the water nearing the conning tower. Then it settled completely by the stern. Boats rushed to the rescue, but only a few men were saved.

A few minutes later a large Turkish shell struck the deck of a British vessel. When the smoke of the explosion had cleared away it was seen that the vessel's foremast had been cut off near the crow's nest and bent to one side. The mast rigging was hanging down in a tangled mass. This same shot apparently also damaged the machinery, for it could be seen that the vessel was experiencing difficulty in gaining the open sea.

This was hardly over when another vessel was struck heavily. It also was obliged to retire under a galling Turkish fire.

But the greatest tragedy came at about a quarter before 5 in the afternoon, when a British warship (the Irresistible) was so badly damaged that it was obliged to run ashore within range of the Turkish guns. For one hour warships of the allies stood by and protected their stranded companions with a heavy fire on the Turkish forts, but the coming of night obliged them to withdraw, leaving behind them the fated vessel.

The Turkish gunners directed an accurate fire against it. Eight shots were seen to strike this vessel's deck full and square within ten minutes.

So far as has been ascertained up to the present time, the Turkish losses have been one gun jammed by debris, two men killed and fifteen slightly wounded. Other reports on damages have not yet come in, but it is understood that they are slight.

HAVE 120 UNDERSEA CRAFT?

Germans Building More Rapidly Also, Declares American Home from Europe.

New York, March 24.—Declaring the German navy had 120 submarines in readiness for a big raid on England and that 40,000 men are building others, Samuel Pearsons, an American who was at one time quartermaster general of the Boer army, arrived in New York today on the liner Hellig Olav. He said the German general staff expected to surround England with hundreds of submarines and that recent operations of these vessels had been considered a great success.

GERMANY AND HOLLAND FACE CRISIS IN RELATIONS.

Situation Over Seizure of Dutch Ships Considered Grave, Correspondent Says.

LONDON, March 25, 3 a. m.—The Times' correspondent at The Hague, in a dispatch concerning the recent seizure by a German submarine of the Dutch steamers Batavier V. and Zaanstroom, which were convoyed to Zeebrugge, where their cargoes were confiscated, says:

"The government has received no reply from Germany regarding its request for an explanation concerning the Batavier V. and the Zaanstroom, and the situation arising therefrom is considered grave."

BRITAIN WARNS ITS CRUISERS

Warships in All Waters Ordered to Avoid Breaches of Neutrality.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—All British cruisers, not only in American waters but in the Caribbean, Pacific, and South Atlantic, have been ordered to refrain from taking supplies from neutral countries in order to avoid breaches of neutrality.

Jap Officers Join Russians.

TOKIO, March 24.—Twelve Japanese artillery officers, headed by Gen. Nakjima, left today to join the Russian armies in the capacity of observers.

ALLIES RESUME THEIR SHELLING OF DARDANELLES

Land Troops on Peninsula of Gallipoli; Turks Oust Christians.

PARIS, March 24.—Bombardment of the Turkish fortifications in the Dardanelles was resumed at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by an allied fleet, according to an Athens dispatch to the Havas agency. The warships were accompanied into the straits by a number of mine sweepers.

The Athens correspondent says further:

"Navy officers at the straits declare the Turkish submarine defense was greatly weakened following the explosion of numerous mines during the last attack. They add that if it had not been for floating mines an entrance would have been forced last Thursday, as the forts themselves do not offer a sufficient obstacle to prevent a passage.

"The warships Gaulois and Inflexible, which are anchored in waters that are well protected, have finished their repairs.

"At Dardanelles the Turks have pillaged the habitations of subjects of the allied countries and have forced them to quit the city."

British Battleship Disabled.

BERLIN, March 24.—Included in the news given out today by the Overseas News agency is the following:

"The Giornale d'Italia of Rome has received a dispatch from Athens saying that the British battleship Cornwallis has been disabled in the Dardanelles fighting."

Allies Land Troops.

LONDON, March 24.—A force of allied troops was landed on the Peninsula of Gallipoli yesterday from transports in the Gulf of Saros, according to a dispatch from Athens to the Daily Express.

The Tenedos correspondent of the Times, in a dispatch dated Tuesday, says: "Mine sweepers are again at work in the Dardanelles, but the wind is still too high for other naval operations."

The Gallipoli peninsula is the northern or European side of the Dardanelles. At its head it is not more than three or four miles wide. If this neck of land were effectively held by the allies, Turkish communication with the strong positions on the peninsula would be impossible.

Russian Attitude Shown.

PETROGRAD, March 24.—The congress of representatives of the nobility now holding its annual sessions in Petrograd today unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"The vital interests of Russia require full possession of Constantinople, both shores of the Bosporus, the Dardanelles, and the adjacent islands."

BACK WILSON'S WAR POLICY.

Manufacturers Assure President of Support in Dealing with Foreign Commerce Situation.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—Assurances that American manufacturers support President Wilson in his negotiations with the European belligerents for protection of American commerce were conveyed to the president today by George Pope of New York, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Mr. Pope telegraphed that all manufacturers are suffering from the effects of the war [illegible] that many will suffer more should they be prevented from importing supplies through the enforcement of "the severe measures with respect to commerce recently announced by belligerent governments." He urged holding the belligerents to a strict accountability for their actions.

PRINCE PRAISES BAVARIAN ARMY

Rupprecht Says Seventh Corps Held Against 10 to 1 Odds.

PREDICTS A VICTORY.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, March 24.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung publishes the following army order, issued by the Crown Prince of Bavaria on March 14 to the troops of the Seventh army corps:

"The soldiers of the enemy succeeded, with forty-three battalions against three, in effecting a breach in our positions, after heroic resistance on our part. The recapture of the positions failed, but your attack has broken the enemy's spirit of enterprise. Two hostile army corps have not dared to advance from the captured village, whose possession is of subordinate importance.

Gives Thanks for Courage.

"My warmest thanks for your courage and devotion. Full retaliation must be reserved until later. Meanwhile, I confidently expect you to do everything to strengthen our present position, that all further attacks may be frustrated.

"I confidently expect you to oppose an insurmountable barrier to every further hostile advance until the day of reckoning with this enemy. This day will come and I rely upon you.

"RUPPRECHT."

Deny Prince Was Wounded.

MUNICH, March 24.—The report which has been circulated abroad that Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria has been seriously wounded by a shell is officially denied.

REFUSES PLEA OF OWNERS OF THE WILHELMINA'S CARGO

British Admiralty Court Says Hearing Cannot Be Granted at the Present Session.

LONDON, March 24.—Counsel representing the owners of the cargo of the American steamship Wilhelmina, which was seized by the British authorities while taking a cargo of food from New York to Germany, made an unsuccessful application today in the admiralty court to have the case heard in the present term.

No objection would be raised if the owners of the Wilhelmina unloaded its cargo and sent the vessel on its way, representatives of the attorney general said. In such a case the cargo would be sold, if desired and the proceeds paid into the prize court for later adjudication.

It had been made clear from the outset that the cargo and not the ship, was seized, and the intention had been to discharge the cargo and permit the vessel to proceed. At the special request of the claimants of the cargo it had been left aboard, which made the detention of the ship the result of their own action.

Assurances were given that the government would do all in its power to bring the case to trial at an early date in the next term.

U. S. Wants Germany to Explain Alleged Dropping of Bomb on Relief Vessel.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—The United States government will call to the attention of the German government a bomb attack reported to have been made by a German aeroplane on the Belgian relief commission steamship Elfland near the Dutch coast. Minister van Dyke at Amsterdam in a message to the state department said representations concerning the attack already had been made to the government at Berlin by the Netherlands.

Minister van Dyke's dispatch reported that the Elfland was laden with foodstuffs for the Belgian commission and that the ship flew the relief commission flag.

Morgenthau Told to Have Turks Protect Refugees in Peril at Urumiah, Persia.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople was directed by the state department today to ask protection from the Turkish government for American missionaries and refugees reported in peril at Urumiah, Persia.

Canada Votes Big War Fund.

Ottawa, Ont., March 24.—A resolution for a $100,000,000 war vote was moved by Prime Minister Borden today and was adopted after only a few minutes' discussion. The bill based on the resolution was also introduced and was given first reading.

PARIS REPORTS CONTINUED GAIN FOR THE ALLIES

Belgians Advance Along Yser and French Take Fresh Ground in the Vosges.

PARIS, March 24.—Continued progress of the allies in the Vosges mountains and gains by the Belgians along the Yser are reported in the official statements by the ministry of war.

"North of Arras," the latest statement says, "the Germans attempted two attacks on Notre Dame de Lorette during the night. Their defeat was complete.

"In Champagne a night attack was attempted against the fortified position of Beausejour, which was repulsed."

Says Belgians Have Gained.

The account of yesterday's events follows:

"A division of the Belgian army has made progress on the right bank of the Yser. Another has captured a German trench on the left bank.

"At Hartmanns-Weilerkopf we captured the first line of trenches referred to in the preceding communication; likewise a second line. On this section of the front our troops are organizing themselves on the further side of this second line. Within a short distance of the summit we captured some prisoners, including officers."

German Official Statement.

BERLIN, March 24.—At army headquarters today the following statement was given out:

"In the forest of Le Pretre, northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, the enemy attempted to win back ground gains by the Germans, but was repulsed. New attacks by the enemy northwest of Badonvillers and on Reich Ackerkopf broke down under the German fire. Fighting is in progress at Hartmanns-Weilerkopf."

GERMAN PROFESSOR SAYS HE STILL LOVES IRELAND.

Dr. Kuno Meyer Tells Chicago Irish-Americans Action of Cork and Dublin Doesn't Bother Him.

"Although it has pleased two Irish cities, Dublin and Cork, to take from me the Irish citizenship bestowed upon me in happier times, my love for Ireland and the things that are truly Irish is not affected in the least," said Dr. Kuno Meyer in response to greetings from more than 800 Irish-American citizens at the Hotel La Salle last night.

The occasion was one prepared by a group of Irish-American citizens for the purpose of listening to Dr. Meyer lecture on "Irish Civilization and History." His opening words formed the only reference made to the recent action of Dublin and Cork in withdrawing the honors that had previously been conferred upon him for his interest in Gaelic literature.

"It is to the Irish," he said, "that we owe the preservation of the earliest and most important documents dealing with the history and literature of western Europe."

AMERICANS DIE IN BATTLE.

Two Dozen Killed Fighting with Canadians in France, Dominion Official Says.

Ottawa, Ont., March 24.—"The Canadian people will be amazed to learn," declared Gen. Hughes, minister of militia, in parliament tonight, "that already more than two dozen Americans with the first Canadian contingent now on the battle line have fallen, and hundreds and hundreds more are in the Canadian regiments fighting bravely."

TERRIFIC FIGHT WITH BAYONETS; ALLIES VICTORS

Eyewitness Tells How French Carried Sabot Woods, Object of Months' Battles.

PARIS, March 24.—An official eyewitness describes the capture of Sabot woods, between Souain and Perthes, on the battle front in France. He writes:

"'Each time we attack we gain our end; each time they counter attack we maintain our gain,' said a sergeant, explaining the operations around Perthes.

"Between the adverse lines, where the fighting has gone on for months, many bodies lie—some of them dating from the first engagements, their dried faces reduced to the appearance of mummies. Beyond these lines, the Sabot woods, which the enemy held strongly for months, were the object of a systematic attack. The Germans strongly fortified the heights dominating our positions at that point.

Ordered to Take Woods.

"On March 1 the general order was given that the woods must be taken. The artillery prepared the ground for the first attack, which, in the face of a violent machine gun fire, resulted in the capture of two lines of trenches. A further advance was checked by a vigorous counter attack.

"Our success was costly. The lieutenant colonel commanding, a captain, and two lieutenants fell mortally wounded.

"On the morning of the 8th the Germans made a more serious attempt to regain the position. The spectacle furnished by our troops was magnificent. With fixed bayonets they bounded forward and in a few minutes the ground was covered with dead Germans, many of whom are still lying there.

Victory in Final Fight.

"From the 9th to the 12th further progress was made. We arrived to within twenty yards of the main German trench, which was well fortified. Unable to withstand the fire, we were obliged to retire until the 15th, when an epic combat at 4 o'clock in the morning resulted in its final capture. In pitch darkness our men approached silently, until ordered to charge; they then fell upon the line of defense so unexpectedly that the Germans were bayoneted in their tracks. Only a few survivors succeeded in retiring to their rear lines.

"This movement concealed a trick. A strongly organized blockhouse was unmasked behind the trenches and an enfilading fire from machine guns decimated our ranks, which, however, held good until 4:30, when the blockhouse itself was attacked with great fury. Hand to hand fighting on the parapet lasted one hour.

"At 5:30 we were inside. Bayonets were reeking with blood; many of them were bent out of shape by excessive use, after which the fighting went on with the butts of rifles.

"At dawn the Germans counter attacked twice, but were stopped by our bombs—and we were master of Sabot woods."

Briton Praises Enemy.

LONDON, March 24.—"Although stress has been laid on the German losses, our own heavy death roll must not be overlooked," says Earl Percy, who at present is acting as the official observer with the British expeditionary force, in a report given out here tonight by the official information bureau. Dealing with the Neuve Chapelle victory of the British, Earl Percy writes:

"We have had to pay the price. In this connection, however, it is well to bear in mind that the progress made by us during the action at Neuve Chapelle was gained in the course of one attack. It was, therefore, an entirely different kind of operation from those undertaken in other quarters, consisting of gradual advances lasting many weeks.

Spirit of Troops Good.

"Our casualties, great though they are, appear all the more severe in that they were incurred in the course of a few days, instead of being spread over a much larger period, although the net result would have been the same.

"Our troops have shown in attack, as they already had shown in defense, that they can endure the highest test of all. The cheerfulness of the survivors and their readiness for another fight are proofs that their comrades have not died in vain."

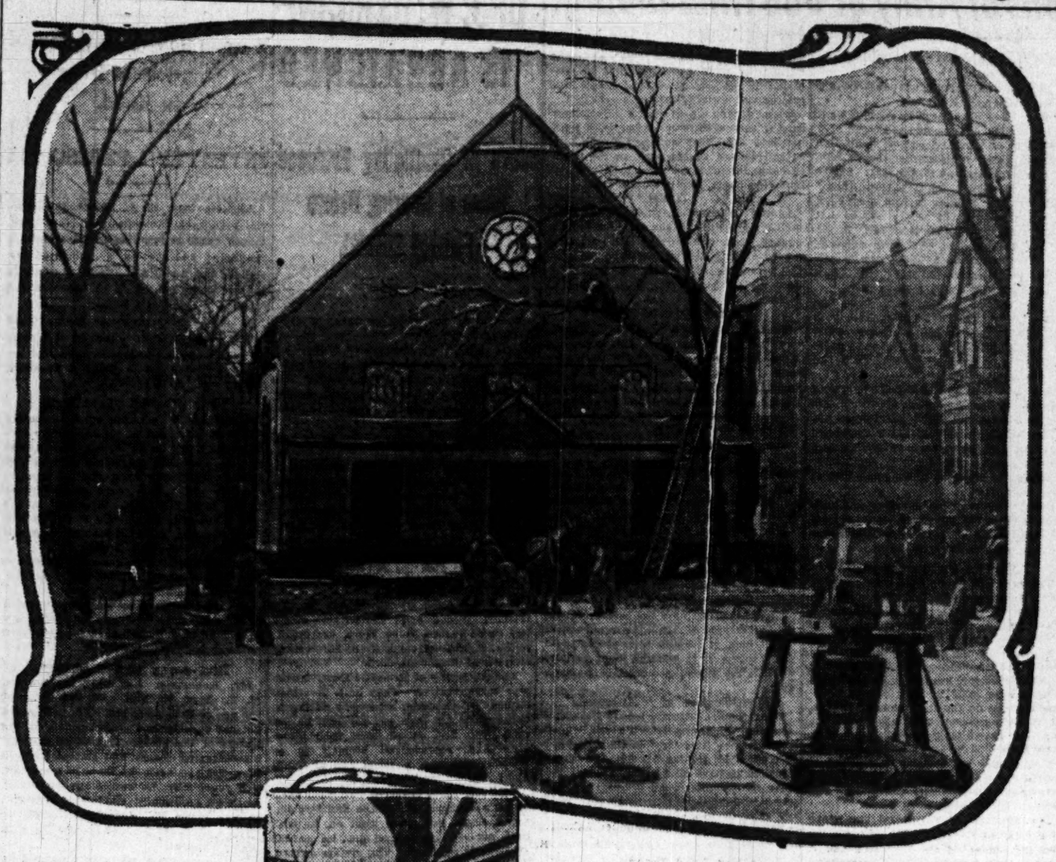

Gives Praise to Germans.

Concerning the Germans, Earl Percy writes:

"In their counter attacks from Bois de Ris, during the fight around Neuve Chapelle, the German losses were tremendous. Line after line went down before our rifles. Indeed, in their picturesque phraseology, some of our Sepoys said that shooting the enemy was like cutting grain.

"The German officers displayed the most reckless courage. On more than one occasion they invited certain death by riding forward on horseback to within a few hundred yards of our line, to direct attacks. None of those who so exposed themselves escaped."

Church on Way to New Site; Tree Cutting Neighbors Fought.

Housemovers began cutting down trees in Wellington avenue yesterday to permit the moving of St. Sebastian's Roman Catholic church from the northwest corner of Bissell street to the northeast corner of Halsted. Property owners at once swarmed out of the nearby houses and became so threatening that the movers halted their work and sent for the police. When the police arrived the movers showed a permit from City Forester Jacob H. Prost and the police protected them as they continued their work. Prost, when called by the property owners, explained the church had agreed to replace the trees with whatever variety the property owners desired.

FOODS EXPORTED MEAN VAST SUM

American Cereals Worth $357,091,823 Sent Abroad from July 1 to March 1.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—American breadstuffs worth $357,091,823 were shipped abroad during the eight months period ending Feb. 28 last, as compared with $115,215,881 for the same period of the preceding year. Figures given out today by the department of commerce showed the greatest increase was in wheat exports, which rose from $67,654,608 a year ago to $229,205,142.

For last month alone the breadstuff export totaled $62,875,959, compared with $8,772,235 in February, 1914, and the wheat export increased from $3,893,895 to $38,899,993.

The department's tables do not show the destination of these shipments, although it is known that the great bulk of them went to feed the soldiers and civilian populations of the belligerent countries of Europe.

Exports of corn and oats also leaped upward by millions of dollars last month, and the eight month period, and in February cotton shipments showed an increase of approximately $20,000,000 over the same month a year ago. The total of cotton exports for the eight month period, however, fell below the 1914 figures by more than $200,000,000, the respective amounts being for 1914, $406,910,358; for 1915, $243,947,192.

Some idea of the part American beef is playing in feeding the men in the trenches may be gained from the fact that exports of fresh beef increased last month to $47,813,161 from $513,845 in February the preceding year, while during the eight month period the total export was $57,000,000 greater than in 1914.

Canned beef valued at $7,264,720 went abroad last month, as against $245,709 a year ago.

Children Find Revolver.

Children playing in the rear of 1143 South California avenue yesterday found a revolver containing two discharged cartridges and three loaded ones. The detectives believe it is the weapon used by John Stroble in November of last year to kill John Heffron.

WOMEN SHUN ANTI-WAR PARTY

D. A. R. Leaders Insist the Honor of Country Must Always Be Protected.

Advocates of peace in the Chicago Woman's club were treated to a stormy session yesterday.

The peace committee brought in a report recommending the club join the Woman's peace party as a local group member. The report was made by Mrs. Edwin L. Lobdell. A number of members who are also members of the D. A. R. and other patriotic societies objected. They asserted they were not against war if that war were necessary to maintain the honor of a country involved. The recommendation of the peace committee then was turned down.

Some Kisses and Pats.

Mrs. Robert Hall Wiles, who has been active in the D. A. R. and the Daughters of 1812, led the fight against the proposal to join the Woman's Peace party. At the close of the meeting several of the women went to her and kissed her and others patted her on the back.

"I am against all wars of aggression," said Mrs. Wiles, "but I am not against all wars. If I had lived in Belgium last August I would have advocated war to the limit of my ability. I would have sent my two sons to fight, and if they had refused to go I would have felt that I had not brought them up right. But I do not like war. No one here could feel more deeply against it."

Against "Wars of Aggression."

Mrs. Wiles then presented a resolution reading:

"Resolved, That the Chicago Woman's club is opposed to all wars of aggression, and is at all times and under all circumstances in favor of peace based on righteousness and justice."

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 99 to 78.

Nominations were made for offices which will be filled at the annual election next month. Those nominated are: For first vice president, Mrs. Edwin L. Lobdell. Miss Anna Blanche Johnson; for recording secretary, Miss Mary West and Mrs. Floyd Frazier; for treasurer, Mrs. Frederick William Grower.

The club indorsed the bill before the state legislature for a unit system of vocational education, the child labor bill, and the removal act.

SEEKS DODGERS OF INCOME TAX

Clyne Says $15,000,000 in Salaries Is Evading Payments in Chicago.

District Attorney Charles F. Clyne yesterday declared war on income tax dodgers. He used the expression "blood letting" in describing the kind of prosecution that would be directed at thousands of men who have refused or neglected to comply with the law.

The district attorney has been informed there are 500 men in Chicago with incomes ranging from $60,000 to $100,000 who have failed to make the returns required by the statute. Julius F. Smietanka, collector of internal revenue, is of the opinion there are thousands of men with smaller incomes equally derelict. He makes a rough estimate that more than $15,000,000 in salaries is escaping the tax.

One-third from New York.

"The records show," said Mr. Clyne "that last year one-third of all the income tax collected in this country was derived from the island of Manhattan. The wealth of that locality does not bear any such relation to the wealth of the country at large. I am determined that Chicago shall make a good showing. I will prosecute, and I am going to prosecute, the violators of this law."

Mr. Smietanka is cooperating with Mr. Clyne in preparing the evidence. The collector said within a few days he will assign twelve deputies to make a house to house canvass in order to determine the delinquents. These men are now engaged in auditing the returns made on last year's taxes.

Small Taxpayers Shy.

"There are several thousand taxpayers who have not made a return as required by law." Mr. Smietanka said. "Most of these are small taxpayers. The public doesn't seem to realize that every man who has a net income of $3,000 or more must file a schedule, even if he is entitled to his net income.

"These people seem to think they will be lost in the shuffle; they flatter themselves the government won't pay any attention to them."

WALSH INVITES ROOSEVELT TO TESTIFY UPON "LOBBY."

Former President Asked to Explain Charges Implied in Article on Ship Bill.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—[Special.]—Theodore Roosevelt has been invited by Senator Walsh, chairman of the senate committee that is investigating the ship purchase bill lobbies, to appear and tell the committee how he came to write certain suggestions in a magazine that the legislation was purposed for the benefit of foreign ship owners.

Col. Roosevelt has been invited to appear Saturday morning, but the committee will change the date, if necessary, to meet his personal convenience.

The charges implied in Col. Roosevelt's writings are much the same as those voiced by Senator Burton on the floor of the senate at the time he introduced the resolution calling for the investigation.

GERMAN VESSEL FACES SEIZURE BY AMERICANS

Libel Proceedings Ordered as Result of Effort to Avoid Neutrality Guard.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—[Special.]—The case of the Hamburg-American steamer Odenwald, which was halted in an attempt to leave San Juan without clearance papers, is giving the administration much trouble.

The department of justice, with the approval of President Wilson, today instructed the district attorney at San Juan to institute libel proceedings against the Odenwald. If it should be determined that the attempt to leave the port was a violation of the neutrality resolution passed in the last congress the captain will be subject to penalty of a fine of from $2,000 to $10,000 or imprisonment not to exceed two years, or both, and the vessel will be subject to forfeiture to the United States.

Bernstorff Studies Defense.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, is in communication with his government upon the question of defending the captain. It appears that it is within the power of the German government to save the captain of the Odenwald from prosecution by assuming complete responsibility for his act.

This can be done by means of a notification that the Odenwald is a vessel of the German naval reserve and as such a public craft and that the captain as an officer of the Germany naval reserve acted as an agent of the German government. If the United States should accept this explanation the vessel would not be subject to confiscation or the captain subject to prosecution.

Vessel May Be Interned.

In that event, however, the vessel would be interned for the remainder of the war and its machinery dismantled so as to prevent it from leaving the harbor.

It has been pointed out that action of this character might raise a question concerning the status of the otner Hamburg-American steamers in American ports. They are all a part of the German naval reserve. If the Odenwald were interned and dismantled it might be deemed advisable to take similar action in regard to the Hamburg-American liners in New York and other ports over which the government is maintaining a close and costly watch to prevent any of them from slipping out to sea without clearance papers.

Inquiry on Schwab Concern.

President Wilson is determined that the neutrality of the United States shall be maintained inviolate. For this reason an official inquiry is about to be made concerning reports that the Bethlehem Iron and Steel company is making submarines in whole or in part for shipment abroad. Some months ago Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem company, following the receipt of a $100,000,000 order from the allies, gave his assurance in writing to the secretary of state that submarines then building in the Bethlehem plants would not be delivered until the close of the war.

Announcement that the government would make an investigation into the truth of the reports that the Bethlehem company had departed from this agreement was made today by Mr. Daniels, secretary of the navy. Unofficial information has reached the government that parts of submarines are being shipped from the Schwab plant at Fore River to Montreal.

ROADS PETITION TO LOWER RATES

Cheap Water Tariffs Via Canal to the Coast Have Stifled Competition.

CASE BEGINS APRIL 12.

Business got another charge of optimism yesterday when Edward Chambers, vice president of traffic for the Santa Fé railroad, announced that the transcontinental lines would appear before the interstate commerce commission on April 12 to ask for permission to reduce freight rates on all commodities from Chicago and the mid-western states to the Pacific coast to the level of the water charges from the eastern seaboard through the Panama canal.

The proposed reductions will affect the entire trade between Chicago and the coast states and will reëstablish the competitive market, which has been disarranged since the opening of the canal. The hearing will be held in Washington.

Shippers Ask Reductions.

"What was known as the transcontinental case proper," said Mr. Chambers, "included only 103 articles on which the railroads deemed reductions absolutely necessary. Since the victory in that case before the commission, thousands of shippers of the central states have asked the carriers to make a move for a sweeping reduction on all coast rates.

"The railroads will present their requests to the commission on April 12, when they will also ask that the maximum rates to intermediate points on the reductions already allowed be slightly raised. The lower rates on the 103 commodities will go in effect immediately after the meeting with the commission, providing there is no hitch."

Boon to Chicago.

"The country as a whole will get its first benefits if the railroads do reduce their rates," asserted Charles L. Dering, president of the Association of Commerce. "So far the Panama canal has been a detriment and as a result of the lower water rates the Chicago shippers have been compelled in many instances to ship to the eastern coast and then by boat to the west.

"In time we would have lost this market entirely and it amounts to millions of dollars annually."

BIRTH REGISTRY REFORM BOOSTED BY "MOVIE" FILM.

Illinois Board of Health Sends Out Reel in Effort to Wipe Out Stigma on State.

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—Calling attention to the fact that a "movie" film is being used to effect the desired reform, the secretary of the state board of health, Dr. St. Clair Drake, in a special bulletin issued today, said that in Illinois every year upwards of 40,000 children were born, who, because of lack of records, were destined to grow into manhood and womanhood without any legal proof of their legitimacy and without any official record by which to establish their identity, their age, or their right to inheritance.

"All progressive states of the union, excepting Illinois, have long since taken action which has removed from them the stigma 'nonregistration state,' and it is up to Illinois to fall in line with these states immediately," the bulletin says.

"In furtherance of the effort to encourage the recording of births in the state, the state board of health is conducting an educational propaganda, an effective feature of which is the employment of moving pictures. To impress upon the public mind the importance and necessity of recording a child's birth, the secretary of the board has written and produced a motion picture story in which is set forth the embarrassments and misfortunes which may beset any individual whose birth has not been recorded.

"This film is now going the rounds of the counties of the state, and is being shown under the auspices of the respective local county medical societies in practically every town having a motion picture theater.

"The title of this film story is 'Tommy's Birth Certificate,' or 'Why Births Should Be Recorded.'"

—you can not MAKE any bran bread as good as Sulzer's.

Sulzer's Bran Bread Is Not Merely Bread With Bran Added.

Its making begins when Sulzer inspects and selects the grain from varieties of hard winter wheat.

He grinds this choice wheat fresh each day and bakes it at once.

Sulzer spent 7 years learning just how to make bran bread so that it would keep sweet and be most nourishing and delicious. If you are wise you will profit by his experience by buying Sulzer's Bran Bread.

You will be delighted with it as a food and you will find it a wonderful laxative.

BOMBS BLOW UP VILLA TRAIN AND KILL FORTY MEN

Several Hundred Troops of Tampico Advance Guard Injured by Carranza Plot.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 24.—Dynamite bombs placed by Carranza agents were exploded last night under a trainload of Villa's advance guard near Forton, on the railroad between Monterey and Tampico, and forty men were killed, according to a message received today from Vera Cruz by Antonio Villareal, a Carranza representative. The injured numbered several hundred.

High Twine Prices Certain.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—[Special.]—Even if the government succeeds in releasing the sisal hemp crop of Yucatan at once it is probable that American farmers will be compelled to pay high prices for binding twine this year, according to independent manufacturers who conferred with Secretary of State Bryan today.

E. B. Bayley and A. P. Loring, representing the independents, say it is now too late to get enough sisal into this country to make the supply of twine necessary to harvest this year's crop. Already the price of sisal to the twine manufacturer has been advanced 20 per cent as the result of three export cuties imposed by Gen. Carranza.

Offers Use of Gunboat.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels informed the representatives of the International Harvester company and the other manufacturers today that he is ready to dispatch a gunboat to Progreso to carry the sisal purchase money. The twine men, however, have not reached an agreement on the joint supply of the funds and the apportionment of the sisal.

After the killing of John B. McManus, the former Chicagoan, in Mexico City recently the Zapatistas, it became known today, tore the American flag from the building on his ranch. It was shot full of holes and then dragged through the dirt and otherwise defiled.

A report of this insult to the flag was sent to the state department soon after the first account of the killing of McManus. Not only did state department officials suppress the report on the subject but they even denied all knowledge of the incident when inquiry was made.

Normal Conditions in Yucatan.

The Associated Press has received from Merida, Yucatan, under date of March 23, a message signed by a group of foreign consular representatives in that city requesting that the alarmist dispatches regarding conditions in Yucatan be corrected.

"The government under Gen. Alvarado has respected life and property and is extending every guarantee to the people," the message read. "We certify that this is a correct statement and we send it out in order to quiet the fears of commerce."

Reports to the state department and to the Mexican agencies here late today told of an impending battle for possession of Matamoros, the port across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, Tex., which apparently is to be the scene of the first real fight of the Villa campaign against the east coast of Mexico. Some of the dispatches indicated that skirmishes already had taken place.

American Held for Ransom?

Jefferson, O., March 24.—Leonard Worcester of this city, employed as foreman by the Granby company of St. Louis, is being held for $9,000 ransom by Gen. Villa's forces and is in prison at Chihuahua, according to word received here from Mrs. Worcester.

Germans Defy Hardships Battling Forces of the Czar in Poland; Blizzard Fails to Change Regulations of Army of Von Hindenburg.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT
[War Correspondent of The Tribune.]
[Copyright: 1915: By The Chicago Tribune.]

FIFTH ARTICLE.

LOWICZ, Russia, Feb. 22.—The blizzard that has been threatening for hours has come. Night has fallen. It is almost as dark indoors as out, for the supply of petroleum has run so low that it is served out in cupfuls and only to high officers and to cooks. Both must do their work, and the work of both is of the first importance.

The blizzard is sweeping across the wide square that the soldiers have facetiously renamed "Hindenburg platz." It is blinding men and horses.

At 8 o'clock, in getting to the officers' casino from my quarters, where I live with a Russian Jew, who prays every morning with his face turned toward Jerusalem, I have to step into a doorway to catch breath. One cannot keep his eyes open, so piercing is the sleet. The sound of the heavy guns has absolutely ceased, for the first time in five nights. Not even the cannoneers can fight this kind of weather.

I scurry along in the shelter of the dark houses and come full tilt into a soldier who also is plowing blindly ahead, hands thrust deep in pockets and head bent to the blast. We exchange donnerwetters, and he lunges into his drift and I into mine.

Casino Formerly Inn.

Soldiers wet to the skin and ravenous are stamping into the officers' casino. The place is soggy and its menu is limited. Before it was elevated to military dignity, through being designated as an officers' dining room, it was a sufficiently representative Polish-Russian inn—walls two feet and a half thick, ceilings low, floors undulating, highly colored pictures of Napoleon and murderous scenes from Slavic history on the greasy walls, and an extremely sickening concentration of the necessaries of human existence.

You approach the den through a long passageway paved with cobblestones and depressed in the middle to make a gutter for waste water from the kitchen. This devil's trap is good for at least two tumbles if you are without a pocket lamp.

More Wick than Oil.

Narrow passageways, where you encounter good natured little Polish waitresses, who take their nightly repose on couches made up in the dining rooms, lead to those dank apartments.

In the one where the correspondents foregather an oil lamp that is burning more wick than petroleum gives off a smell out of all proportion to the light it sheds.

An officer with arms outstretched has flattened himself against the high, porcelain stove, his head outlined by a halo of steam from his wet clothes. If you were in a mood for anything facetious, he might suggest to you a modern version of St. Lawrence and his gridiron.

No More Rum.

If we are lucky, we shall get a plate of watery soup, black bread, cold sausage, and hot tea, served in thin glasses. If we are not so lucky, we shall have to omit the soup. Two days ago there was rum, which, mixed with hot water and sugar, the Germans call Grok, but the rum has either run out entirely or been commandeered for the wounded.

The food is an intolerable time in coming. One by one officers enter and drop heavily into their places at the long, unclean table. They are too weary and homesick tonight to keep up conversation. Last night we were all cheery enough, but this fearful weather and that infernal lamp, which seems about to emit its last splutter, would take the heart out of even a Bavarian.

Stout, rubicund Zimmerman, wearing on his right sleeve the broad yellow band embroidered with the black B ("Berichterstatter," or correspondent), and who on past days has been the most genial of our detachment here in Lowicz, is utterly done up tonight.

"Colleague," he says, turning to me with watery eyes, "I am very sick man—I beg you to excuse me."

He goes stumbling away to his quarters to fight the influenza.

Response Not Required.

The officers sit in silence; occasionally a man sighs abstractedly and says "Ja! Ja" slowly and apropos of nothing, for nothing has been said for ten minutes. You are not required to respond to nor expected to notice this "Ja! Ja." It means among other things that the speaker is wondering when the food will come; how long the war will last; what Japan will do; how his wife and children are, and how the operations on the west front are going.

If he is very blue and very meditative he follows "Ja Ja!" with "Nein! Nein!" at the expiration of five minutes. That signifies that he is going over the thoughts again, and the various clauses are identical with those set down above. Nobody is expected to take any notice of "Nein! Nein!" either, but anybody may add his own "Nein! Nein!" after a fitting interval.

If you prefer merely to sigh heavily that also is understood, and not resented. But it must be an abstracted and not a querulous sigh.

Divides Aspirin with Soldier.

An under officer who speaks a little English and has the spirit to be friendly in spite of the fact that he is wretched with cold and fever sits shuddering by the bleak porcelain stove. I divide my aspirin with him and advise him to pack it into himself forthwith.

He protests that he ought not to take it because it is hard to get in this region. But when one is among soldiers "the day is long," as Moliere phrased it, when you don't get return kindnesses double-fold for any friendly act you may have done a man—perhaps not from the same man, but from some of his comrades certainly.

I suggest as much to the under officer, who, having cautiously turned the matter over in his methodical mind for some seconds, takes my view of it and accepts eight of the tablets of aspirin.

It was beautiful to see him again next morning; his fever was gone and he was breathing quite freely again.

Blizzard Becomes Worse.

9:30 O'CLOCK—I leave the casino. The blizzard has risen in fury. The streets are almost deserted. Four soldiers, laughing in rich gutturals, are carrying newly arrived mail sacks to the sorting station.

An officer passes, flashing his pocket lamp every thirty paces; not keeping it going continuously, for one must conserve the battery. The precious thing throws beams a block long.

A lonely horseman rides by. He is a uhlan and the mortar board of his helmet has caught a heaping handful of damp snow. It adds three inches to his great height. The footsteps of his horse make not a sound on the cobblestones, so deep are the drifts.

The synagogue shows black above the white roofs of the shops on each side of it.

The abbey church shows white. Light gleams fitfully behind its high windows, seeming at times almost to die away. Then there is a sound of chopping, and presently the light is brighter. It comes from the little fires that the Russian prisoners have built with pieces of choir stalls and of coffins. I stop and peer through the iron gates of the abbey wall.

Kinsman in Chicago.

A sentry calls, "Wer da?" "Kriegsberichterstatter aus Amerika," I say, and he gives a grunt of recognition and accepts a cigaret.

"Not so fine and clean in this Russia as in Germany," I say.

"For the will of God," he replies, "not a thousandth part as fine and clean.

We talk of America, and he would like to know if I know his brother-in-law, who lives in Wellisstrasse in Chicago. I have to confess that I don't, but add that I shall forward a letter to him when I get back to Berlin if the sentry will have it ready some time during the week. So we say good night and part very friendly. The Russians in their abbey prison continue laboriously chopping up choir stalls and coffins, and I move on.

A few hooded women wearing boots go clumping by. They are dishwashers from the officers' casino and are being taken to their homes by a detail of the guard. Ordinarily no civilians are allowed on the streets at this hour.

The snow has drifted the full length of the twenty foot archways that lead into the courts around which the houses are built. In an occasional house lights are flashing, and the servants of late arriving officers can be seen drawing curtains or stuffing bits of carpet into window frames that lack glass.

Everybody is in his quarters and huddled against the porcelain stove, if he is so lucky as to have found quarters containing a porcelain stove.

Heavy Firing Heard.

The next morning I rise very early, so as to have a long day behind the guns at Bolimow. The storm has died down. The dawn is sickly and grayish. At 4 o'clock the artillery has resumed firing.

I open the window and listen. The rumble of the guns all along that great line to the east is heavier and more rapid than I have ever heard it before.

I look out on the snow covered square. A fresh regiment, also bound for the front, is drawn up in the wan light; gray and blue clad masses of men who look cheerful and alert. The only sound in the square is the soft pounding they make on the snow when they stamp their feet to keep them warm.

Hoarse cries of command run along the lines and they swing through the narrow streets and out onto the plain. A wagon train follows them; then another regiment, then more wagon trains and detachments of uhlans, their lances making black menace against the low horizon line.

Ghostly Pageant Passes.

For an hour at a time in the dull dawn of these heavy Russian days and in the sad twilight I have stood on the banks of the Bzura and watched the majestic, ghostly pageant moving on the rim of the plain and then slowly dropping from sight.

The river at my feet makes no sound. The sentry at my side, like me, is silent before the wonder and the heartache of the picture. Faint cries of command come to us across the wide fields. Then all is still, and the light reflected from the snow plays curious tricks with the vision and makes the column seem to stand motionless, every wagon wheel and horse's head and uhlan lance etched sharply against the sky; the only sign of life the steam rising from the sweating column horses.

Quarter of Mile of Cars.

These are the pictures the war crowds upon the brain by day and by night, and it seems to me now that nothing can ever make them grow dim in my mind or deaden me to their thrill. There is exhilaration in every instant of existence.

Here is a quarter of a mile of freight cars emitting cannon and autos and tons of food under the swaying searchlights, while the frosty air rings with shouts for Hans, and Otto, and Johann, and Emil.

Here is a lowing, plunging herd of cattle driven up the narrow streets amid the strange cries of peasants clad in garments of red, and green, and purple, and orange and wearing caps of astrakhan.

Here, during three hours of exultant clamor one afternoon, there were passing into the abbey square through four entrances and passing out on the opposite side, infantry, cavalry, artillery, ammunition carts, and provision trains.

"Rechts!" "Links!" "Rechts!" "Links!" shouted the underofficers, who sat on horseback at the entrances of the square, and the various detachments moved swiftly and in perfect order to be fed, or quartered, or shod, or nursed, or shot at, as the scheme of things might demand.

Duties of One-Fifth.

They say it requires one-fifth of an army to take care of the other four-fifths, and what I am seeing in Lowicz shows me why. Forges are blazing and pots are boiling. Bodies are being bandaged and horses are being shod. Roads are being mended and prisoners are being marched out to do the mending.

Shattered autos are being repaired and new ones are being swung from flat cars. Minute maps of the town are being printed and issued to officers and underofficers, and the docker or portable barracks of asbestos that cost $714 each are being set up.

Every pay day, which means three times a month, hundreds of soldiers are sending off thousands of marks. Bridges and railway tracks are being guarded, cattle are being slaughtered, and so is the copy of injudicious correspondents.

Yes, the 12,000 who are taking care of the 48,000 lying within a few square miles to the east of Lowicz have plenty to do. Even when it is not the most perilous work in the world, soldiering is the hardest.

Significance of "Kolossal."

The Germans have the word "kolossal," sounding, however, little like our "colossal," for the first "o" is short and carries the "l," the "a" is flat, and the accent comes hard on the last syllable. Nor does the German word convey precisely the significance we give "colossal" when we apply it to statues or bulk.

With the Germans it suggests vastness of conception or a stupendous scale of operations, and it is on every lip just now, apropos of Hindenberg's victories or of just such sights as Lowicz daily discloses. I heard it a dozen times in the course of my walks around the town with German correspondents. It fits the situation.

Applause for Horse.

A soldier, looking very complacent, is coming along the street with a candle coyly tucked in his bootleg, a fitting place for booty surely. A comrade steps up behind him, extracts the candle as deftly as a conjurer might, hurries ten paces ahead of his victim, looking very businesslike the while, then gives a yell of triumph, waves his prize aloft, and runs.

A column horse, with a lunge and a prodigious showing of teeth, lurches forward and nips half a truss of straw from a soldier who is darting across the street with it. Half a regiment breaks into a roar of laughter. The soldier looks extremely foolish and there is prolonged applause for the horse, which meanwhile has to guard its prize from its yokefellow. Even a tired hospital chief has to give the incident the tribute of a grin. The passing regiment cries "Bravo!" to the horse.

Aye, Lowicz is "kolossal," and cold and squalid, too. But under all conditions its fascination is incomparable, and I would not take a year of routine living for the six months I have lived since the August midnight when London was seething around Trafalgar square and the world war burst upon mankind.

[Another Bennett article will appear in "The Tribune" tomorrow.]

WOMAN ACCUSER OF J. W. OSBORNE IS ARRAIGNED

Mass of Conflicting Evidence Given at Hearing Before Federal Official.

New York, March 24.—A mass of contradictory testimony was given before United States Commissioner Houghton today when Miss Rae Tanzer, who recently brought suit against James W. Osborne, former assistant district attorney, for alleged breach of promise, was arraigned for a hearing.

The proceedings will end tomorrow and at that time the commissioner will decide whether Miss Tanzer, who is charged with using the mails to defraud, should be held for the action of the grand jury. The charge is based upon a bundle of letters Miss Tanzer is said to have mailed to Mr. Osborne, whom she says she knew as "Oliver Osborne" prior to the time she filed the suit asking $50,000.

Three Sisters on Stand.

Slade & Slade, attorneys for the defendant, placed upon the witness stand her three sisters, Rose, Dora, and Ruth, and J. F. Safford, clerk of the Hotel Kensington at Plainfield, N. J.

The testimony of Rose and Dora Tanzer was corroborative. They both identified James W. Osborne, who was sitting in court with his wife and his son, as the man who had called upon their sister Rae and represented himself to be "Oliver Osborne, a ranchman of Santa Rosa Cal."

"Oliver," they declared, had given their sister a diamond horseshoe and two diamond rings, but, they went on, he took back his jewelry, saying that he wanted to have it repaired. The sisters agreed, too, that "Oliver Osborne" had told them that he liked Rae and that he intended to take her back to California with him. The sister said that they had been told by Rae, after she had known "Oliver" for more than two months, that she had found out that he "really was James W. Osborne."

Testimony of Hotel Clerk.

The hotel clerk testified that on Oct. 18 last there had come to the hotel in Plainfield a man and a woman who signed the register as "O. Osborne and Mrs. O. Osborne of New York." The witness identified James W. Osborne as the man who signed the register.

For the government James W. Osborne and W. J. Kitchen, proprietor of the hotel in Plainfield, testified.

Mr. Osborne denied emphatically that he had ever seen Miss Tanzer or any of her sisters. He denied also that he had ever been in the hotel at Plainfield. He did say that he had once talked to Miss Tanzer over the telephone.

After he received a package of letters signed by her name at the New York Athletic club and at his office he telephoned her to "put her right," as he said. He said he told her that she surely must be mistaken, as he had never seen her in his life and had never heard of her. In reply Miss Tanzer told him, Mr. Osborne said, that she knew she "had the right man."

Mr. Kitchen said that he had seen the man and the woman known in his hotel as "Mr. and Mrs. O. Osborne." Mr. Osborne stood up and the witness said:

"Absolutely that is not the man who was in my hotel."

NOTED WRITER DIES POOR MAN

Morgan Robertson Victim of Overdose of Drug in Hotel.

INVENTED A PERISCOPE.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 24.—[Special.]—Morgan Robertson of New York, whose name is familiar to thousands of magazine readers as a writer of sea stories, died under pathetic circumstances today, alone and ill, in his room at the Alamac, a boardwalk hotel.

A physician's certificate states that death was due to an overdose of a drug to which the work broken man had become addicted while using it to quiet nerves and lull to slumber.

Tells of Own Hardships.

A remarkable account of Robertson's life was contained in an unsigned autobiography, which he wrote about a year ago for a weekly magazine, in which he attributed the fact that after a wandering life and many years of success he found himself on the threshold of old age, without a cent, to one circumstance, that he was a sailor, a rolling stone, and unable to retain what he had won.

During his literary career Mr. Robertson had written, besides short stories, fourteen novels.

Mr. Robertson also was the inventor of the present form of the periscope, now in use on all submarines, but he received nothing from this invention.

Ran Away to Sea as Boy.

Mr. Robertson was born in Oswego, N. Y., Sept. 30, 1861. He ran away at the age of 16 to go to sea. For nine years he was a sailor and visited nearly all the waters of the globe. In 1886 he gave up his seafaring career and settled down in New York to learn the trade of a jeweler. Ten years later he was compelled to stop work on account of weakening eyesight. In this crisis Mr. Robertson thought to write a short story of sea life dealing with his own career.

Two magazines recently arranged to bring out a new four volume edition of Robertson's thirty short stories dealing mainly with sea adventure, and issued announcements that they desired all the friends of this writer of stories to aid them in rescuing him in his old age from increasing poverty.

MOST PERFECT BATTLESHIP MODEL TO BE EXHIBITED.

Samuel Orkin's 13 Foot Duplicate of Massachusetts, Which Cost $10,000, Acts Like Man o' War.

A thirteen foot duplicate of the United States battleship Massachusetts—declared by naval experts to be the most perfect working model of a dreadnaught yet constructed—will be placed on exhibition in the Boston Store today. The steel model, with a complement of twenty-eight guns, a speed of fourteen knots an hour, and a displacement of 750 pounds, is the result of two years' work by Samuel Orkin of Boston, who built it at a cost of $10,000.

The model does everything a real battleship does. It can send wireless messages, send torpedoes through its six tubes, find the enemy with its searchlights, and discharge its twelve fourteen inch guns, twelve six inch guns, and four rapid firing miniatures. It is manned by a dummy crew of 200 men, who scurry here and there to perform their various duties, disappearing and emerging through the various doors and hatchways which open and shut behind them. Even the ship's band comes on deck as it sails away and plays "The Star Spangled Banner."

MARSHALL OPENS BIG COAST FAIR

Expresses Regret Over Colombia Incident in Speech.

San Francisco, Cal., March 24.—Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, representing the president, formally dedicated today the Panama-Pacific international exposition. Standing beneath the great arch of the Tower of Jewels, the vice president addressed a vast concourse of people who crowded the Court of the Universe.

Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition, introduced the first three speakers, United States Senator James D. Phelan of California, Chester H. Rowell, representing Gov. Johnson, and Mayor James Rolph Jr.

The impressiveness of the scene was added to by the many foreign representatives and officers of the army and navy in full dress uniform. Conspicuous among these were the members of the Japanese commission, headed by Admiral Baron Uriu; Maj. Gen. Arthur Murray, Admiral T. B. Howard, Rear Admiral C. E. Pond, and officers of the Pacific fleet.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, and former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks also occupied seats.

Prior to the dedication came a review of the fleet's marines and bluejackets by the vice president, Admiral Howard, and Maj. Gen. Murray. A salute to Mr. Marshall was given by the fleet.

Marshall Praises Fair.

Characterizing the Panama-Pacific exposition as the "crystallization of the dreams and thoughts of genius and talent," Vice President Marshall in his dedicatory address praised the state of California and the men who made the exposition possible.

"I stand here commissioned to take, but not to fill, the place of the president of the United States," he said. "In justice to the day, Woodrow Wilson should be here.

"But duty said to him that justice to all the people bade him stay in Washington. You hope for continued peace. Do not forget that he is your greatest peacemaker.

"I am quite sure that I am only one of a countless throng in this republic who regret that this altruistic work has a real or seeming defect in the charge of an injustice done a sister republic to the south.

"Let us not be too much dismayed this day by reason of that fact. The American people are wise, and they know he is not wise who is not just. I look with confidence for the early arrival of that good hour when whatever wrong may have been done shall be righted and when there will be left no drop of bitter water to flow in that channel which unites the seas."

WILL SHOW CHICAGO MOVIES.

The Illinois commission to the Panama-Pacific exposition is planning a big event for the first exhibition in the Illinois building of "A Tale of One City," the plan-of-Chicago moving picture production.

All representatives to the exposition from foreign countries and all states in the United States will be invited, according to Adolph Karpen, chairman of the Illinois commission; also the civic and municipal bodies of San Francisco will be present.

This information was received here from Mr. Karpen yesterday by Chairman Charles H. Wacker of the Chicago plan commission.

NITROUS OXIDE NEW RIVAL OF GERMAN TWILIGHT SLEEP.

Presbyterian Hospital Physicians Say "Laughing Gas" Has No Ill Effects on Mothers.

The exponents of two varieties of "twilight sleep" lined up against each other last night at the meeting of the Chicago Medical society.

Dr. Frank W. Lynch and Dr. J. Clarence Webster exploited the new twilight sleep produced by nitrous oxide (laughing gas) used at the Presbyterian hospital. They asserted that it relieved pain at childbirth and had none of the ill effects laid to the Freiburg treatment.

"The only point that remains to be worked out is the cost of administration which should be lessened," said Dr. Webster. "However, we should not go crazy and think that all child bearing is painful."

Dr. Bertha Van Hoosen of Mary Thompson hospital rallied to the support of the German method.

"In fifty consecutive cases since Jan. 1," Dr. Van Hoosen said, "we have used scopolamine morphine with marked success. No children have been born dead, and all the mothers were able to nurse their children."

Von Buelow Leads Germany's Diplomatic Struggle to Keep Italy Out of War.

A CHARGE OF BERSAGLIERI, "THE BLACK DEVILS OF THE ITALIAN ARMY"

ITALY'S WAR PREPARATIONS MAKES ROME STORM CENTER

ITALY'S vast preparations for war have made Rome the diplomatic storm center of Europe. Here is being fought out the issue of whether King Emanuel and his people will maintain their neutrality or take the field against their former allies of the triple alliance, Germany and Austria.

The nation as a whole is clamoring for war. In response to this popular demand the government has put its military forces on a war footing. The army has been mobilized to a strength of 2,000,000 men.

The navy has also been put on a war footing, ready for sea. All the new dreadnaughts have been combined into a formidable squadron and put under the command of Vice Admiral Duke d'Abruzzi.

At each development of importance in the war there has come from Italy more alarming reports of her determination to attack her ancient enemy, Austria. So intense has the situation become that Rome has been credited with preliminary warlike moves against the Teutonic allies as affecting postal and commercial relations. Supplies of foodstuffs and arms have been purchased by Italy in great quantities in America and elsewhere.

During all this storm Germany has persevered in her determination to keep Italy to her pledge of neutrality and this arduous task was assigned to Prince von Buelow, the former chancellor of the empire. Five years before Von Buelow had been dismissed by the emperor, but for the great task at hand the kaiser was forced to turn to the man he had sent into retirement. How well Von Buelow has performed his delicate and arduous task is shown by the fact that Italy is still neutral despite the tremendous pressure to involve her in the great European upheaval. Von Buelow's influence at the Quirinal dates back to an early day, when in 1874-5 as attaché and later in 1893-7 as ambassador, he acquired the special fitness for his present mission.

If it was Germany alone involved in the present struggle Von Buelow's task would be comparatively easy. With the past transgressions of the Hapsburg monarchy against Italy saddled on his shoulders, however, he has almost an impossible task to perform. For it is Italy's desire to wipe out the history of Vienna's oppression that is the most powerful influence that is urging Rome to war.

The lost provinces of Trent, Carniola, and Istria have for many years been a thorn in the side of the Italians. Like France, Italy wants to regain her lost provinces, and if Von Buelow fails in his mission it will be because of the desire for vengeance and the regaining of the "Italia Irredenta" on the part of King Victor Emanuel's subjects.

Italy's warlike preparations, however costly, will be a cheap price to pay for this territory, should it succeed in recovering Trent, Carniola, and Istria without firing a shot. There have been reports that these provinces had been ceded to Germany by Austria for the purpose of transferring them to Italy as the price of her neutrality.

As to the part that England, France, and Russia are playing in the desperate game of intrigue at Rome there are diverging views. With Italy attacking Austria, some observers of the development of events in Europe hold that the task of the allies would be materially lightened and that their representatives at Rome are trying to bring this about. On the other hand, it is pointed out that Italy's neutrality, in view of the success of the allies in checking Germany's war moves, is all that England, France, and Russia desire.

The attempt on the Dardanelles is being watched with the keenest interest by Italy and many think that if the passage is forced Rome will at once throw her lot against Germany and Austria and Turkey in order to have a seat at the peace conference.

That Italy will be able to play an important part in the campaign should it decide to go to war is shown by both the strength of her army and navy. It is estimated that not less than 2,000,000 men will be able to take the field at once, with a sufficient reserve to maintain her frontiers.

Her fleet, with a tonnage of nearly 400,000, has been brought up to its highest point of efficiency. With this she will be able to guard the landing of her armies across the Adriatic and thus avoid the stupendous task of trying to force the passes of the Dolomite and Carnic Alps that mark the Austrian frontier on the north.

THE COMMERCE IN ARMS.

There is a tendency in the German press both in the mother country and in the United States to complain against the commerce in arms and munitions of war between our country and the allies. As this commerce is of substantial and perhaps even necessary service to the enemies of Germany, some such feeling is human. Nevertheless, it is not just.

Our government has not placed an embargo on the private commerce in arms and munitions of war because under international law it is not the duty of neutral governments to prevent such commerce, and because the exercise of the right to prevent such commerce in the circumstances existing would be in effect an affirmative official act of aid to Germany. It would make the United States government actively the most effective ally that Germany and Austria could obtain. It would end the war, the German press asserts—at the armed dictation of Germany.

But, if it is right for us to aid the allies by selling them war munitions, why would it not be equally right for us to aid the Germans by withholding war munitions from the allies?

The distinction lies in the fact that it is normal for neutral manufacturers to trade in arms and abnormal for neutral governments to prevent their own nationals from engaging in this trade.

We may not, if we would remain neutral, change preëxisting international law, to the immense advantage of one side and the immense disadvantage of the other side after war has started.

Germany in time of peace established the greatest arms industry in the world. The British put their money into a fleet, relying upon international law as it then existed and their ability to command the sea to supply themselves with arms by trade. This was the condition established and recognized. Our nationals' right is to trade with both belligerents if they can. If our government now acts to stop this trade it officially and affirmatively disturbs our normal established relations, giving unexpected affirmative aid to one side and withdrawing the normal relations upon which the other side has relied.

The German complaint against our trade in arms is not only unjust but inconsistent. Germany has carried on a great trade in arms and munitions of war not only in time of peace but in time of war. The best customer of the Bethlehem Steel corporation before the war was Germany; 50 per cent of the ordnance exported by this company went to Germany and Germans own 20 per cent of Bethlehem securities, though Bethlehem guns are now mowing down English, French, and Germans in Flanders.

During the recent Balkan war Germany sold munitions to the belligerents. Nearly every American soldier and sailor killed or wounded by rifle fire in Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines, and Mexico was killed with the German made Mauser.

Germany has benefited by this industry and commerce without protest, for it was acting within its international rights. Now that it is suffering from the exercise of these rights by others it is too late to complain, to ask different conduct in others, and to nourish hostility against those who are only following its example.

We are under no obligations to Germany to stop the export of war munitions to England and France. However, the time may come when we shall find ourselves under obligations to ourselves to do so.

If England sees fit to change international law after war has started, to our disadvantage, then we have certainly the right by way of reprisal against England to change international law to the disadvantage of England, after war has started.

We may, if it becomes clear that England intends to use her control of the sea contrary to preexisting international law and to our detriment, we may then and for that reason prevent the further exportation of American made munitions of war to England and English allies.

If the president decides that such a course has become wise, the country will stand behind him.

That after the present war is over the private manufacture and commerce in arms, either in time of peace or in war time, shall be prohibited is a question not without difficulty. Pacifists do not hesitate to favor this on humanitarian grounds, ignoring, apparently, its actual effects. If universal disarmament could be accomplished the problem would be solved. But if nations continue to maintain armaments, an international law prohibiting trade in arms and munitions after war is declared would compel each nation to make certain at all times of a large reserve of arms and munitions and to equip itself with armament plants adequate to supply its own needs throughout any war it might choose or be forced to undertake.

That this would check minor hostilities, prevent revolts, and discourage smaller nations from going to war is clear. That it would strengthen the strong, that it would compel even peaceable nations to maintain a far higher degree of preparedness than now is necessary or to make ironclad alliances with prepared nations is also clear.

But that it would make for peace and international justice it is difficult to see.

TWO PUBLIC BOND ISSUES.

The city of Chicago is congratulating herself on the successful sale of her 4 per cent bonds, and it is noted with special interest that a lively demand for these securities has sprung up in New York.

Even more satisfactory are the results of the New York state issue of 4½ per cent bonds to the amount of $27,000,000. Investors are paying a premium on these bonds.

New York is sensible enough to exempt state bonds from taxation. The investor gets the full interest nominated in the security. New York also has a secured debts act under which many classes of foreign bonds are exempt, once a small recording tax has been paid on them. Chicago bonds very likely are covered by the exemption.

But the Illinois revenue law taxes state, county, municipal, and other public bonds at the same rate as any other property, tangible or intangible. The investor, if he obeys the law strictly, is compelled to hand over half, or even more than half, of his annual interest to the tax collector. In other words, he has to pay an income tax—so far as his securities are concerned—of 40 or 50 per cent, or even more. Would our public bonds have any sale at all at current interest rates if every citizen could be forced to schedule them and pay what the antiquated law demands? The state simply invites and solicits general disregard and evasion of the law by failing to exempt public securities from taxation, or to impose a small, reasonable tax on them. What is true of public is true of corporate and other securities, of all evidence of "secured debts." A revenue system that fails to reckon with modern ways and habits, with investments and rates of income from sound securities, is a system that deliberately invites and promotes wholesale evasion and dodging.

"CALL IT A COUPLE OF TURKOS."

Collier's Weekly reprints for censorious comment the following from an account by Robert Dunn, American war correspondent, relating to himself and John Reed, another correspondent:

"He [Riegel, a German officer] took the Manser from the fellow in the scooped place by us. The next moment it was in Reed's hands, and, with the muzzle pointing through the eyehole atop the bank, he was getting a bead on the low, jagged crest of mud across the short and hellish space. Be it on our heads, we did it, both fired twice, turn and turn about. . . . It's useless to arraign our feelings—the eagerness with which, as in the dream which had so long held us, we leaped to do this!

"'Get any one?' chuckled Riegel at me.

"'Call it a couple of Turkos,' I gasped. Different from bear shooting, this. . . . Back to the officers' cave we sloshed, and to bottled beer."

The habit of writers of indicating a method of articulation hostile to the phrase expressed is revealed by the gasping of so much nonchalance as "Call it a couple of Turkos." It ought to have been yawned or at least shrugged. But captiousness is disarmed by the adroitness in the selection of the victims of such imperturbability. In their second of experience looking across the short and hellish space Mr. Dunn and Mr. Reed were inspired.

"Call it a couple of Turkos." Not—"O, call it a couple Parisians." Not—Call it a Norman and a Gascon; call it a baker and a blacksmith; call it a couple carpenters; call it a lawyer and an artist; call it a couple fathers; call it a couple sons; call it a brace of Breton peasants; call it a doctor and a nurse.

It was a thoughtful nonchalance, even if it did gasp instead of yawn. Call it a couple of Turkos and so back to bottled beer.

RECOGNIZING AN ELECTION.

If State Treasurer Ryan and State Auditor Brady of the state canvassing board had not been bold enough to decide that they were the judges of elections to the legislature, State Senator Austin of the Oak Park district and State Senator Baldwin of the Englewood district would have been recognized members of the senate in the first week of January. They are recognized in the last week of March. Almost three months of the legislative session passed with these two districts unrepresented.

The deal was so raw that Gov. Dunne, Attorney General Lucey, and Secretary of State Stevenson could not stomach it when it was in its preliminary stages in the state canvassing board, but raw as it was it might have been made much worse in the senate itself if it had not been for the refusal of a few Democratic senators, such as Compton of Macomb and Piercy of Mount Vernon, to tolerate the virtual invalidating of an election to obtain a partisan gain.

Editorial of the Day.

ARTILLERY THE SPIRIT OF WAR.

[From the Minneapolis Journal.]

The spirit of war has shifted its incarnation with the ages. When brute strength prevailed, it resided in the Greek phalanx and the Roman legion. When the turmoil of races and nations gave rule to the fittest few, it resided in the knight in armor. As the people came to their own, bowmen and pikemen swept knighthood into history and the spirit of war passed to the infantry.

The cycle seemed closed, but science opened it again. The invention of gunpowder seemed to perpetuate the reign of infantry, but invention of higher explosives and complex gunnery have shifted the spirit of war to the embodiment of artillery.

The great lieutenant of this arm who last upset Europe discovered the potency of it, but it has taken a century of science to make it supreme. In 1870 the needle gun overbore the chassepot. In every great land war since, field artillery has allotted the victory.

The Balkan war surprised the world because the states had French artillery and the Turks German. The Krupps have been working day and night since to achieve superiority. They have succeeded in the huge mobile siege guns, but not in field artillery. An army must reach a town to besiege it, and the comparative equality of the armies in field guns has put them in a deadlocked circle.

All the powers have assembled field artillery of light mobility and tremendous power of throwing shrapnel, even Russia, whose guns have won German praise by their effectiveness on heavy roads. They range about three inches caliber and ton weight. The Russian is lightest, and also most powerful, except the British, which is heaviest and three and a third inches caliber. Each has guns best fitted to the roads it must use.

But the artillery arm is so costly that the spirit of war may finally shift to the dull incarnation of finance.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

Motto: How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

A PRIMER FOR MUSIC LOVERS.

(Edited by Dr. Critticus Flub-Dubbe.)

C IS the keynote of the natural scale, so called because persons who play by ear play more naturally in C than in any other key. Flats and sharps bother them, especially sharps.

MIDDLE C is so termed because the piano tuner begins there and works east and west. The first thing a tuner does is to hit Middle C as hard as he can. If the string holds he doesn't have to put in a new one.

C is called do in Italian, to distinguish it from the si in do-re-mi-fa-sol-la-si-do.

C stands for many things in music, including Caruso, Canary, Conductor, Contra-bassoon, Chopinzee, Czerny, Cornet, Crwth, Catgut, Critic, and Clayton's Grand March.

THE national board of censorship is divided over the Dixon film, "The Clansman." Why, we wonder. Francis Hackett saw it the other day, and he reports that it is aggressively vicious and defamatory, spiritual assassination, and degrading to the censors that passed it and the white race that endures it. Otherwise it appears to be a fine film.

MR. STEDMAN, Socialist candidate, wonders what "thoughtful citizens" think of the word-war between Sweitzer and Thompson. As the election will not be decided by thoughtful citizens, it doesn't matter what they think.

Good Night!

[From the Ladies' Home Journal.]

Mrs. Galway had given up the parlor again and was in bed with a novel and a kerosene lamp.

"SUPPOSE that Wagner or Beethoven had launched his musical career in Chicago. Where would he have got the cachet, the official seal, that would have said he had done the real thing or the great thing?"—The valued Post.

We could answer, but modesty restrains us.

THE Post would "like to have the 'Adventures in a Perambulator' played in New York." Mr. Carpenter probably knows how to go about it. In case he does not we suggest that he submit the score, by registered mail, or express, to the conductor of the Philharmonic orchestra and to Mr. Damrosch. Both conductors are capable of arriving at a conclusion as to its merits.

A PRECIOUS TIME BEING HAD BY ALL.

[From the Tabor, Ia., Beacon.]

With a clear, sweet voice, every word intoning as distinctly as the tone of a midnight chime, and re-echoing as softly as the fall of a pearl in a golden cup, Just so sweetly and sympathetically did Miss Wolfe recite the sad, sweet poem, while Miss Viola Palmer at the piano told the same plaintive story in soft, low tones of Enoch's sorrow and Phillip's patient waiting.

BLOOD AND IRON PLUS WISDOM.

(From Bismarck's Speech in the Reichstag, 1888.)

IF I were to come before you and say: We are seriously menaced by France and by Russia; it is to be foreseen that we shall be attacked; that is my conviction as a diplomatist, based also on military information; for our defense it is better to employ the anticipatory thrust of the attack and open hostilities at once; accordingly, I ask the Imperial Diet for a credit of a milliard of marks, in order to start the war against both our neighbors—well, gentlemen, I do not know whether you have sufficient confidence in me to vote such a grant. I hope not. . . . We must not let the advantage of the defensive position escape us, even if at the moment we are . . . superior to our future enemies. . . . Even if we are attacked at an unfavorable moment, we shall be strong enough for our defense. And we shall keep the chance of peace, leaving it to Divine Providence to determine whether in the meantime the necessity of war may not disappear.

Now there is a great battle in Europe. This began because the Prince of Austria went to Serbia with his wife. One man of Serbia killed him.

Austria was angry, and so write Serbia.

Germany write a letter to Austria, "I will help you."

Russia write a letter to Serbia, "I will help you."

France did not want to fight, but they got ready their soldiers.

Germany write a letter to France, "You don't get ready, or I will fight you in nine hours."

Germany to fight them, pass Belgium.

Belgium say, "I am a country; I am not a road." And Belgium write a letter to England about Germany, to help them.

So England help Belgium.

SPRING FOOD.

As the spring approaches the bottle of spring tonic crawls off the shelf and, shaking the dust from its shoulder, takes a place on the breakfast table. Is it not plain that a spring tonic is needed? Are not the children sallow? Are there not eruptions on the skin of father? Has not mother a touch of neuralgia? Each of those in its way means that there is need that something different be done.

Taking a course of spring tonic, however, does not fill the bill. Taking medicine is not doing something different.

The wise man will throw the bottle of spring tonic out of the window and will proceed to modify the habits of his household. For one thing, he will start the boys to playing marbles and the girls to roller skating. He will see that the windows are thrown open; the house aired, and the sunlight allowed to pour in. It is very important that the family start a course of spring eating.

For want of a better term we call these spring conditions mild scurvy, masked scurvy, or scurvy tendency. The cure for them is not medicine, but food—potatoes, apples, oranges, lemons, limes, and in time radishes and spinach.

In the winter the diet has consisted largely of such acid forming foods as beef, eggs, bacon, rice, oatmeal and bread. Therefore in the spring a man should eat largely of such base forming foods as potatoes, apples, milk, celery, cabbage, beans, prunes, peas, turnips, and oranges.

Gautier tells us that the scurvy which prevailed during the siege of Paris was not due to the use of salt meat so much as it was to the lack of vegetables.

The ideal plan is to have a daily dietary in which acid and base forming foods are properly balanced. But when from necessity or choice a family has lived through the winter on an acid forming diet, and in consequence in the spring has eruptions on the skin, or neuralgia, or is sallow, it is wise to switch to a spring feeding, in which potatoes, apples, oranges, greens and radishes are prominent. These are the only blood purifiers of merit.

If the children are anæmic, as well as sallow, and it seems desirable to give them an iron tonic, very much the best one, at least for them, is a course of spring feeding arranged with a view of supplying food iron. The ordinary foodstuffs rank in iron as follows:

Dried lima beans	7.2	Raisins	3.6
Dried navy beans	6.7	Eggs	3
Dried peas	5.6	Prunes	2.9
Whole wheat	5.2	Medium fat beef,
Beefsteak [lean]	3.85	steak	2.2
Spinach	3.8	Potatoes	1.2
Oatmeal	3.7

In looking over the above list it will be noticed that dried foods rank high. This is somewhat misleading. What difference does it make that a family eats a peck of spinach if it does not thereby overeat?

Leaving aside the question of concentration, the rank of certain foods from the iron standpoint is spinach, easily first; beef, eggs, cabbage, turnips, dried beans, dried peas, potatoes, raisins and corn.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1915: By the Brentwood Co.]

SOME misapprehension seems to prevail on this side of the Atlantic with regard to the new general of the order of Jesuits, Count Vladimir Ledochowski, who is said to be intensely pro-German and to have been elected largely through the influence of the kaiser.

Now, Count Ledochowski was born an Austrian subject, but is first and foremost a Pole and is far from being persona grata with Emperor William or with the Berlin government.

Indeed, on his selection eight years ago as assistant to the late general for the province that included Germany, the choice was bitterly assailed by the entire German press, especially by that of Prussia, while he himself came in for no end of abuse on the part of those newspapers accredited with official inspiration from the Berlin government.

Moreover, it was not the Germans who played the leading rôle in securnig his election to the chieftaincy of the order but the American representatives thereof.

The electors were sixteen Italians, fifteen Americans, thirteen French, ten Spaniards, four Poles, four English and Irish, three each from Holland, Austria, Hungary, Portugal, Brazil, and Belgium, and three only from Germany.

From this it will be seen that the United States had five timems as many participants in the election as Germany and that, working in conjunction with the four Poles, the four English and Irish Jesuits, the three Belgians, and the thirteen French, they would have been able to carry the day even if the sixteen Italians had been against them, which was not the case.

One of the first acts of the new general has been to select a member to take his place as assistant for Germany, that is to say, to have charge and supervision of all Jesuit interests not only in the German empire but in Austria, Poland, Hungary, Belgium, and Holland as well.

Instead of choosing a German for the office he nominated a Dutchman—namely: Father Oppenrals, until now provincial of the order for the Netherlands.

The other four assistants of the late general have been confirmed in their offices.

The only trouble about the new general, who is 49 years of age, is his somewhat frail health. He is, like so many of his Polish countrymen, a marvelous linguist. He is a nephew of the late Cardinal Ledochowski, and his sister, Countess Ledochowski, is well known throughout the Catholic world as the founder and president of the work known as that of St. Peter Claver, which is doing so much for the African missions.

All those who had the opportunity of meeting Sir William Tyrrell when he was staying at the British embassy in the late fall of 1913 as the guest of his intimate friend, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, will be sorry of hear of the death of his son, Francis, a subaltern of the Coldstream guards, who has succumbed to wounds received while fighting for his king and country against the Germans in France.

The boy was a good looking lad of much promise, who was popular at the great Roman Catholic college of Downside and afterwards at Oxford. Through his mother he was a grandson of the late David Urquhart, M. P., while his father has been for the last eight years or more principal private secretary of Sir Edward Grey, K. G., secretary of state for foreign affairs.

Sir William was for a couple of years secretary to the imperial defense committee, is a senior clerk of the foreign office, received his knight commandership of the Order of St. Michael and St. George two years ago, and has a charming place known as Kithurst Warren, near Pulborough, in Sussex.

Commander Carlyon Bellairs of the royal navy, who has just been returned to parliament for Maidstone on the Unionist ticket, is no stranger on this side of the Atlantic, having married three years ago an American, Mrs. Charlotte Pierson Garrett, daughter of Col. H. L. Pierson of Lawrence, L. I., and widow of Horatio W. Garrett of Baltimore, Md. Her first husband was a grandson of J. W. Garrett, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Commander Bellairs is a veteran legislator, having represented King's Lynn in parliament from 1906 to 1909 as a Liberal, and having figured for the two following years as Unionist member for Lewisham.

During that time he made his mark both in and out of parliament as a naval critic and writer and as such is not precisely popular at the admiralty.

He was the bête noire of Reginald McKenna when the latter was first lord of the admiralty, and more recently has held up Winston Churchill to condemnation by a remarkable article in the Contemporary Review, charging him with the responsibility for the naval disaster to Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock's squadron off the coast of Chile, pointing out that the admiral ought to have had a much larger and better armed force there instead of leaving it in such a position of inferiority to the German squadron under Admiral Count Spee as regards the number of the warships, their speed, and above all the size and the number of their guns.

Commander Bellairs comes from a notable fighting family. His father served with the Forty-ninth regiment throughout the Crimean war; his grandfather, Gen. Sir William Bellairs, fought under Wellington in the peninsula and Flanders.

Another member of his family, a granduncle, was wounded as a midshipman at Trafalgar, and on recovering entered the army and took part as a cavalry officer in the battle of Waterloo. After the restoration of peace he was ordained a clergyman and finished his career as canon of Winchester cathedral.

Being in receipt of a prospectus of a London concern, entitled Clark's International Land company, Limited, which is flooding the United States and Canada with circulars inviting investors and particularly real estate men on this side of the Atlantic to subscribe for the purchase of $5 shares, twenty of which are necessary to qualify for appointment to agencies, I would warn my readers that the chairman and president of the company, as given in the prospectus, is no other than Lord Haldon, whose questionable record I gave in my letter to this paper on Monday, March 8, intimating that he had just made one of his periodical and numerous appearances in the bankruptcy court in London.

I related how his succession to his equally bankrupt father's peerage had found him in jail in Pretoria, in South Africa, charged with fraud, and how he was acquitted on the ground that he was a foolish tool rather than a confederate of the gang of swindlers with whom he had associated himself, and that when arrested he was acting as checker and conductor on the railroad at Pretoria, a position which he accepted when literally starving.

Investors are very credulous, and even the name of a so notoriously bankrupt peer as Lord Haldon in the rôle of president director on the prospectus of a concern is likely to serve as a bait to foolish people.

WILL REMOVE SIGNBOARD.

Chicago, March 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please advise me and others why the old dilapidated, unsightly signboards located on Sixty-third street between Troy street and Albany avenue, which are not erected according to specifications and which have been complained of to officials many times, should be left standing. Billboard is located at 6301 South Troy street. This is an old billboard, forty-eight feet long and nine feet high, erected about ten years ago, is of wood construction, and bottom of board is on the ground. Same is not dangerous but is unsightly. There is no name on it to determine ownership. Englewood theater uses same for posting purposes. This department will issue an order through the fire department to have it torn down.

Building Commissioner.

NO REASON FOR COMPLAINT.

Chicago, March 15.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly see what can be done to have the owner of the saloon at the corner of North Central Park and Belmont avenues stop throwing ashes and refuse in the street. F. L. S.

Central Park avenue at this point is unimproved, and the party complained of sifted some ashes on the street about where the curb line would be. The ward superintendent states this is an improvement, and makes a driveway, so that teams can reach the walk. He states there is no ground for complaint. WALTER G. LEININGER,
Superintendent of Streets.

NORTH KEDZIE AVENUE PAVING.

Chicago, March 21.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I would like to know if North Kedzie avenue between Milwaukee and Belmont avenues will be paved this year. H. K.

The improvement of North Kedzie avenue between Milwaukee and Belmont avenues has been held up on account of the proposed extension of the car line on this street. We cannot give any definite information at this time as to just when the improvement will be made. There is little likelihood that the street will be paved this year.
EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

RESPECTING "CHAIN LETTERS."

Olivet, Mich., March 20.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Are chain letters denied the use of mail privileges in this country? S. H. SHEPARD.

"'Endless chain' enterprises designed for the sale or disposition of merchandise or other things of value through the circulation or distribution of 'coupons,' 'tickets,' 'certificates,' 'introductions,' and the like are held to embrace the elements of a lottery, and also to be fraudulent. Matter of every kind relating to such enterprises should be excluded or withdrawn from the mails and treated in accordance with sections 547, 574, and 598 of the Postal Laws and Regulations." In the matter of chain letters in the United States mail for obtaining voluntary contributions of money in small sums for charitable or philanthropic use, the department has ruled them mailable so long as no evidence is at hand showing that the contributions are diverted from the purpose for which they were asked, and that no other fraud or deception is practiced.
D. A. CAMPBELL,
Postmaster of Chicago.

WILL NOT OPEN NEWPORT AVENUE.

Chicago, March 21.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly advise me as to whether Newport avenue will be opened this spring, from Cicero to Lavergne avenue, also Lamon avenue, from Waveland to Cornelia avenue. H. G. T.

We find a proceeding started for opening Newport avenue between Forty-eighth and Fiftieth avenues, but the assessment has not yet been confirmed, and the street will not be opened this year. We have no plans as yet for opening Lamon avenue from Waveland to Cornelia avenue.
EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

PROPERTY OWNERS MUST PETITION.

Chicago, March 21.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly tell me when Catalpa avenue, from Clark street to Ashland avenue, will be opened.
F. L. DERR, 1716 Catalpa avenue.

There seem to be no plans at present in this department for opening Catalpa avenue from Clark street to Ashland avenue. If such an improvement is desired, shall be glad to hear from the property owners.
EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

LOOKING ON WHILE GERMANY STARVES.

Oak Park, Ill., March 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Which is the higher moral law, to preserve peace in our own country or sacrifice whatever is necessary to keep another nation from starving? Much is said about the atrocities of war, but what is the virtue of a cowardly inactivity which fosters the starvation of millions of people? It is popular to express humanitarian views as long as we are benefited by them, but the subject of sacrificing our own self-complacency for the welfare and just treatment of another country is carefully avoided.

As long as England knows that America is afraid of war she will exert her tyranny of the sea to the last degree. Why does America continue this passive attitude, knowing that it means starvation for Germany? Is America afraid to take her stand on the side of justice and right for all, or is she wilifully causing the massacre of millions under the protection of partial international law? When international law is corrupt, should not moral law be the standard?

I am not German, but of pure American ancestry, and I stand for fair play. Germany has been misunderstood because the public has been swept off its feet by the majority of opinion and does not try to see matters any other way.

Chicago, March 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—We wish to compliment you for reprinting in your editorial of the day an article appearing in the Wall Street Journal entitled "Some Bread Comparisons."

It might be a good plan to call the attention of your readers to the fact that bakers all over the country had the same opportunity to provide for their future needs at low prices that foreigners had, yet the foreigners understand better than our own people how to use our own markets to protect themselves on supplies against their future needs.
LAMSON BROS. & Co.

READS ALMOST LIKE SATIRE.

Chicago, March 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your course in the present war has been so discreet and impartial that one reads with surprise your scathing editorial on the sinking of the William P. Frye. Is it just to condemn the commander who sunk it in the unsparing terms you use? The unspeakable behavior of the French and British in dragging our merchant ships off to prize courts is of course repugnant to every American heart, and you very properly condemn it. But what, after all, did the German commander do? Without loss of life or time, he simply and efficiently sunk the Frye after taking the wise precaution of throwing the grain overboard. What a marvel of unhurried thoroughness that was! A thoughtless captor would have sunk the Frye without first throwing its cargo overboard. The wisdom of throwing out the cargo before sinking the ship is obvious, for after it was once sunk it would have been impossible to do it! Yet you condemn this careful officer and say that "The Frye was served in an offhand manner, with, as we think, small regard for its rights." In further denunciation of this brilliant action, which Decatur himself might have envied, you go so far as to say, "If a wrong was committed, there is a remedy for it." Be just. What is there wrong about sinking a neutral merchant ship laden with grain? Do you forget that the crew and captain were saved? Even the women and children were rescued. What a chivalrous proceeding! Yet you offer not a word of thanks. Think how graciously Decatur would have acknowledged such nautical courtesy. How much better we have been treated than some.

You owe it to Commander Thierichens to devote another editorial to his exploit. In it you might do justice to the knightly chivalry of his conduct in saving the crew, even including Mrs. Kiekne and the children, when he might, had he been submarinely inclined, have drowned them all. You might also tell how long it is since an American merchant ship has been sunk in time of peace by a warship, and if it should prove to be several weeks or months this would throw added luster on Commander Thierichens' exploit. You might also point out how grateful Stephen Decatur would have been, were he still alive, to Commander Thierichens for his courage, courtesy, and thoroughness. A final paragraph might contrast the detestable high handed methods of the allies with those of the Germans—and Turks. JUSTICE.

DRUG HABITS AND CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

SURANCE BILL RGED BY POTTS TO END COMBINE

easure Drawn by State Superintendent Is Analyzed; Fought by Companies.

n behalf of the Illinois state insurance erintendent, Rufus N. Potts, the following statement is made by Chase M. ith of the state insurance department arding the measure now before the eral assembly aiming toward the regtion of fire insurance rates:

The Potts fire insurance bill, house No. 274, is being made the subject of determined fight between the supporters of state control of fire insurance rates the fire insurance companies. Every rt is being made by the companies to at the bill. Its purpose is to secure and nondiscriminatory fire insurance mium rates to property owners of Illiand to break up the control of the fire rance 'combine.' As yet the defendof the companies have confined themves to assaults on the Potts recondation without offering any remedies their own.

Purposes of Potts Measure.

During the year 1913 the stock fire inance companies collected $26,037,910 premiums from Illinois citizens, of ch they returned 54 cents on the dollar losses. For the five year period, 1909, the return was 50 cents on the dollar. Certain features of the bill stand out dominantly, as striking at the root of evils of the present system; rates are be determined by a state commission. d on classified experience on risks ssed by like hazards; simple but effive provisions will bring about immeimprovements in individual risks municipal fire protection, and a conent reduction in fire waste, and a insurance fund is ready for operaany day the insurance companies draw from the state in an effort to business interests into action nst the reform measures.

Makeup of State Commission.

The commission will be composed of insurance superintendent, as chair, the fire marshal, and a third mem appointed by the governor. Emds will be under civil service. Under supervision of the commission, the panies are assured of a reasonable , and they are entitled to an appeal he courts of this state from any r of the commission.

The bill gives the commission entire rol over fire insurance rates. The mission is empowered to make investions, conduct hearings on complaints petitions, and can compel the attendce of witnesses. It shall fix the standfor credits and charges for the varimprovements and hazards, public individual, that affect rates; and, for purpose of determining equitable , it may avail itself of all statistical rmation now in the possession of the panies.

State Fund Is Provided.

The bill provides that a state insurfund may be put into operation by commission, with the approval of the rnor, at any time the companies draw from the state or cancel poliin such numbers as to materially imthe insurance protection of the state. This insurance fund will be in compewith the companies and rates will the same until there is accumulated an rgency fund, when the rates will be fied as experience justifies. The compulsory feature applies to public ds; it is mandatory that public erty shall be insured in the state d, if put into operation.

Companies shall grant insurance to applicant in a reasonable amount, ess there exists a substantial reason refusal. The safeguards thrown nd the companies and the reasons stituting ground for refusal effectly prevent any company from being posed on.

Defends State Insurance.

The companies contend that the state rance fund would not afford reliable tection, because losses are made payout of premiums. No system of rance can be devised whereby the ured will not pay the loss. Under the ent system the amount of capital put for security is insignificant as protec, and any other assets of companies only accumulations of excess preums over all losses, expenses, and idends. A small percentage set aside m each year's premiums would soon ate a fund sufficient to meet any rgency. It is simply, therefore, a estion of what system of administrawill, first, reduce the fire losses, and ond, eliminate the unnecessary exnses consumed in carrying on the busi."

For a State Inquiry.

Besides the pending rate making bill solution will be introduced asking for legislative investigation to inquire into d report to the public on the feasibility state fire insurance. Advocates of state insurance stand on the theory that re are a misfortune and that the state uld not permit the necessity for proection against this misfortune, created commercial conditions, to be seized by a 'combine' as a means of forcing payment of excessive premiums."

Death to Widow of Dixie's Hero.

MRS. STONEWALL JACKSON.

Charlotte, N. C., March 24.—Mrs. Mary Anna Jackson, widow of Gen. (Stonewall) Jackson, died this morning. She had been ill for months and suffered a relapse yesterday.

Mrs. Jackson was born near this city July 21, 1831, the daughter of the Rev. Robert Hall Morrison, a Presbyterian minister and founder of Davidson college. She attended Salem (N. C.) academy and college, finishing in 1849.

Her marriage took place in July, 1857. Jackson then was a major, serving as instructor in Virginia Military institute at Lexington. After her husband died of wounds in 1863 she wrote a volume of memoirs of his career.

In 1910 Mrs. Jackson visited Washington as the guest of Mrs. Levi Leiter of Chicago. She was widely entertained, President Taft and Mrs. Taft being especially cordial to her.

Gen. and Mrs. Jackson had two children, both daughters. One died in infancy and the other married William E. Christian.

YOUTHS PERILED BY POOL ROOMS

hardest poolroom in Chicago? If my friends knew I was running this joint they would cut me dead. You ought to be in this place evenings—this is some place, its full, and if the crowd don't suit us, we put out the lights, drive them out, and wait for a new crowd." We were informed by one of the boys that this man used to run several places in St. Louis and they got so tough the officers ran him out of St. Louis.

A young man who made our acquaintance informed us that this man was an expert card shark and gambler and got so bad that this was one of the reasons he was run out of St. Louis.

This place is located at the southeast corner of Sedgwick and Division streets.

Hangout for Boys.

2726 North Clark street—This is a poolroom. Seems to be a hangout for young boys and they play and hang around there, seeing everything that goes on. Presume the reason for this is that a few doors from here is a billiard and pool room that will not allow a boy in the place.

1441 East Sixty-third street—Here we found twelve young boys, one who might be 21, but the rest were young boys. There were some playing, some looking on the game. We watched this place for some time, saw the man who appeared to be the proprietor talk to the boys. They were smoking cigarets and swearing, but no one appeared to notice this.

1357 East Fifty-fifth street—We went to 1357 East Fifty-fifth street to "Britt" poolroom. Here all the lights were out in rear over the tables, but lights in front over cigar case. We walked in, found over twenty men and boys sitting back in rear in the dark, talking of "dope." We remained in this place for some time and "dope" was the subject with the proprietor and all the rest. They complained that "dope fiends" got their habit from rough poolrooms and saloons.

Boy Owns Slot Machine.

2257 West Van Buren street (near Crane High school)—There were 1,600 boys at this school from 13 to 21 years of age. At noon hour they are out in two sections, the younger boys coming out first. At 2257 there is a lunch counter and candy store, above there a few doors a bake shop. At noon hour the smaller boys came out in droves, went to these eating places for a lunch; after lunch they went into a vacant lot near lunchroom, played ball, smoked, and stood near the lunchroom and sidewalk, going in and out; the place seemed to be crowded.

The next batch came out and did the same as the first. After they got into the lunchroom our operatives went in and got a lunch.

Under the stairway was a young boy who was handling a slot machine, and there was a crowd of boys playing it. You put in a penny and stand a chance of getting a check in trade, 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, and 50 cents.

Reports on twenty-three other alleged offenders are included in the survey.

VOTE TAX BOOST SO SCHOOLS HERE MAY KEEP OPEN

House Committee Members After Plea Recommend Helwig Bill's Passage.

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—Speakers before the house revenue committee tonight in behalf of the Helwig bill, which would increase the tax rate in Chicago for educational purposes, declared that unless relief came through the legislature it would be necessary to close the Chicago schools a part of the time and make a flat reduction in the wages of teachers. The committee voted out the measure with the recommendation that it pass.

Speak for Home Rule.

James G. Skinner, assistant corporation counsel of Chicago, and Ald. Ellis Geiger, chairman of the railway terminals committee of the Chicago council, appeared before the house committee on public utilities this afternoon in behalf of the two "home rule" bills before that committee.

The Frankhauser bill, one of the measures, applies only to Chicago. It provides that the council may either control public utilities or create a commission to have control of them.

The Roderick bill is the "home rule" section that was cut out of the public utilities act when it passed the legislature two years ago.

Chairman McCormick announced that William Hale Thompson and Robert M Sweitzer, rival candidates for mayor of Chicago, are expected to appear before the committee in support of the "home rule" proposition.

The bill introduced by Representative Igoe, Democrat, of Chicago, providing for six additional Circuit court judges for Cook county, was passed by the house today. The Igoe bill is an emergency measure and if passed the new judges would be elected at the judicial election this coming June.

Bills Introduced in House.

Among the bills introduced in the house were:

By Thomason—Prohibits manufacture, sale, or giving away of cigarets. Penalty of $100 or imprisonment in county jail not to exceed thirty days.

By Sonnemann—Provides for appointment of five by governor to serve without salary, to purchase and superintend erection of monument in memory of John M. Palmer, former governor and United States senator, to be erected at Carlinville. Appropriate $25,000.

By O'Rourke—Short ballot bill. Authorizes governor to appoint trustees of state university at expiration of present terms and to appoint tax commission of five members to take place of state board of equalization. Also authorizes governor to appoint boards of education or trustees of all state educational institutions, trustees of all drainage and sanitary districts. Provides Cook county commissioners shall appoint members of board of review, board of assessors, town collectors, town supervisors, and town clerks in Cook county. Boards of supervisors outside of Cook county shall appoint county surveyor, county auditor, and all county officers except sheriff, state's attorney, county judge, probate judge, county clerk, coroner, and county clerk. Administration measure.

By O'Rourke—Provides four year terms for members of legislature, one-half to be elected every two years. Provides that judges shall appoint clerks of courts. Provides that all persons holding office when H. B. 487 goes into effect shall hold terms for four years. Administration measure.

Bills Introduced in Senate.

Among the bills introduced in the senate were:

By Barr—Chicago Commercial club's bill, providing for teaching of vocational trades in public schools.

By Harris—Creating minimum wage commission of five members, four to be appointed by governor and the four to select the fifth. Fixes a fine for failure to abide by rulings of commission. No appeal provided for.

By Meeker—Makes registration and voting compulsory.

By Swanson—Amends annexation act so as to include the tract known as "No Man's Land" between Morgan Park and the city of Chicago in the city.

By Tossey—Provides for a uniform text book system, and creates a state text book commission, to be composed of the state superintendent of instruction, the presidents of the five state normal schools, and the superintendent of the Chicago public schools.

WATERWAY PLAN GETS BIG BOOST

Business Men and State Officials Discuss It at Capital.

HOUSE ACTION SOON.

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—Gov. Dunne's deep waterway plan was given enthusiastic impetus at a public meeting held tonight in the house of representatives. State officials, engineers, business men, and commercial associations united in voicing their approval of the project and in urging upon the assemblymen its early enactment into law.

The meeting was an open session of the waterways committee. Mr. Igoe of Cook county, chairman of the committee, and the member who introduced the house bill, which embodies the governor's plan, presided.

The speakers included Gov. Dunne, Attorney General Lucey, United States Senator Lewis, Lyman E. Cooley, consulting engineer of the Chicago sanitary district; E. J. Kelly, assistant chief engineer of the Chicago sanitary district; Leroy K. Sherman, member of the rivers and lakes commission; E. T. Harris, chairman of the waterways committee of the Illinois Manufacturers' association; H. C. Barlow, traffic manager of the Chicago Association of Commerce; John E. Wood, mayor of Joliet, and L. A. Sackett of Morris.

Many Indorsements Read.

Before the speaking began letters and resolutions indorsing the project were read from Mayor Harrison of Chicago, Gov. Major of Missouri, former Gov. Eberhart of Minnesota, Charles L. Deering, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and many other men of prominence.

Gov. Dunne was the first speaker. He was in his office every morning, every afternoon, and would be there every evening that is necessary for the discussion of this proposition, he said. He preferred that the subject be discussed by the manufacturers, shippers, and business men present, instead of taking the time himself.

Attorney General Lucey, welcoming the citizens of the state in behalf of the officials and members of the legislature, said the bill in question had been before the attorney general's department several weeks, and that he was prepared to say that it is constitutional.

Senator Lewis told the legislators if they act within a reasonable time he could assure them that federal aid will be forthcoming at the next session of congress.

Engineers Explain Feasibility.

Lyman E. Cooley and the other engineers present explained the feasibility of the governor's project from an engineering point.

S. A. Thompson, secretary of the national rivers and harbors congress, compared the cost of shipping by water and by rail and showed by statistics how every waterway has resulted in the immediate reduction of transportation rates.

He suggested to Gov. Dunne that it might be well to incorporate in his bill a requirement that cities along the route construct water terminals.

Gov. Dunne replied that he already has notified the cities along the route, in anticipation of the passage of the bill, to acquire water frontage rights.

Mr. Barlow, the traffic manager of the Chicago Association of Commerce, emphasized the fact that the people of Chicago want a waterway and all interests are now united in support of the project before the assembly.

No action was taken on the bill by the waterways committee tonight, but Chairman Igoe expects to get it on the floor of the house early next week.

AID FALLEN WOMEN PROBLEM

The Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus Tells Sunday Evening Club Society Must Act.

"Not what we can do with fallen women, but what we can do for them, is the problem society must face," said the Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, pastor of Central church, last evening to the midweek meeting of the Sunday Evening club at the City club.

FINAL VOTE ON NEW BASIC LAW DELAYED A WEEK

Supporters Are Confident That Illinois House Will Accept Plan for Convention.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—[Special.]—Next Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock is the time at which there shall be final roll call in the house on the submission to the people of the constitutional convention joint resolution.

Judgment of the friends of the resolution determined that the house was not in proper temper this morning to make the test roll call. By an overwhelming majority—79 to 2—it was reported favorably from the committee of the whole and is now up to the house for final action.

Conference of representatives and of representatives of the Constitutional Convention league of Illinois tonight resulted in the determination to fix the final decision for next Wednesday morning.

Cole Is Still Optimistic.

George E. Cole, president of the Constitutional Convention league, tonight gave out the following optimistic statement:

"The constitutional convention resolution will be passed by the house. The vote in the committee of the whole today indicates this result beyond a doubt. In addition to the seventy-nine men who voted for the resolution in committee of the whole, where a majority vote only was required for safety, thirty other members of the house have pledged their support to the proposition over their signatures, when the joint resolution comes to a record roll call in the house.

"There is no question that these representatives will vote on the real test roll call for the submission of the question to the people, and on this basis the joint resolution will receive at least 115 affirmative votes next Wednesday."

Some Claim Bill Beaten.

In some quarters the vote in the committee of the whole was hailed as a decisive defeat for the measure, and Lee O'Neill Browne was said to have claimed the credit.

Analysis of the roll call showed that but two votes were cast in the negative, one cast by the secretary of Mr. Browne's Democratic caucus, Dr. Lipshulch, a Harrison Democrat from the west side, and the other by a Springfield Republican, William J. Butler. Republicans, Democrats, Progressives, and Socialists joined in the affirmative vote.

Nearly the entire Democratic side and many of the wet Republicans refrained from voting. Classified politically, the representatives who did not vote one way or the other were Chicago Republicans who are conspicuously for William Hale Thompson for Mayor; Chicago Democrats who are for Sweitzer for mayor, and the Democratic contingent that accepts Lee O'Neill Browne's authority in leadership.

Dunne Men Fail to Vote.

The biggest nonvoting element today, however, came from the administration forces on the Democratic side. It is repeatedly declared that Gov. Dunne had abandoned his position of neutrality in the matter and that the administration Democrats had been urged to refrain from voting for the resolution, which in effect was a vote against it.

This is denied tonight in administration circles and it is the claim of the governor's friends that when the record roll call is had in the house all of them will be found to be with the resolution, and, as a matter of fact, many of them already are pledged to its support and made their campaigns upon this sort of a promise.

Stiff efforts have been made to hook up a trading proposition as between the constitutional convention resolution and the quiet trial to put over a salary increase bill, but with no success.

Lineup on Test Vote.

The vote in committee of the whole today was as follows:

Atwood,	Gregory,	Richardson,
Barker,	Groves,	Roderick,

DISPUTED SEATS IN SENATE OCCUPIED BY REPUBLICANS

Percival G. Baldwin of Englewood and Henry W. Austin of Oak Park Sworn In as Illinois Solons.

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—Percival G. Baldwin of Englewood and Henry W. Austin of Oak Park, Republicans, representing the Eleventh and Twenty-third districts, respectively, were seated by the senate today. The elections committee, which made a recount of the ballots in the two contested districts, recommended the seating of the Republicans in preference to the Democratic contestants, Joseph Strauss and Thomas G. Byrne.

The new members were given the oath of office by Judge James A. Creighton of the Sangamon County Circuit court.

Through Senator Barr, the Republicans presented and put through their slate of employés. James H. Paddock, for many years clerk of the senate, who was deposed at the beginning of the session by the Democrats, was made journal and executive clerk. A. E. Eden retains his position as secretary of the senate.

Senator Glackin's joint resolution recommending that congress pass an old age and disability pension law for federal employés was passed.

SENATE TO CONFIRM TODAY BIG GRIST OF APPOINTMENTS

Illinois Upper House Will O. K. Naming of 600 Jobholders—Fight on Six Names.

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—[Special.]—The senate tomorrow will confirm all of the governor's 600 recess appointments, according to present indications, with these exceptions:

Frank H. Funk, as member of the public utilities commission, George W. Dowell, as member of the court of claims; J. A. Robinson, as president of the state board of health; B. J. Shanley, Rudolph M. Patterson, and J. F. Brown, as members of the live stock commission; Rufus Potts, as superintendent of the insurance department, and John Anda, as west park commissioner.

No opposition, it is anticipated, will be made to the confirmation of William L. O'Connell, former Cook county treasurer, whom Gov. Dunne named as chairman of the public utilities commission, succeeding James E. Quan. Mr. Quan, without doubt, is to become secretary of the commission, consummating an arrangement which was made in July, 1913, when Quan became chairman while Mr. O'Connell was serving as county treasurer.

SWEITZER AIDS WORK TO DELAY JUDICIAL FIGHT

Harrison Men's Convention Call on Bench Held Up After Conference.

Judicial politics threatened for a time yesterday to mix up the Democratic mayoralty campaign, but at the close of the day it looked as if the judicial contests would be put over until after the city election.

Congressman A. J. Sabath and twenty-one other members of the Democratic county committee who are friendly to Mayor Harrison, after holding three or more caucuses, one of them in the mayor's office, authorized a call for a meeting of the full committee for tomorrow afternoon with the purpose at that time of issuing a call for a convention to be held on Tuesday of next week.

It was planned to have this convention consist of the precinct committeemen, the vote of each to be apportioned by the committee on the basis of the Democratic vote cast for some candidate at a recent election.

Would Rename Sitting Judges.

It also was the purpose of the Harrison majority of the committee to renominate the seven sitting Democratic judges of the Circuit court, seven other Democrats to succeed the retiring Republican Circuit court judges, and one to succeed Judge Brentano, Republican, of the Superior court. Two of these new nominations were to be given to the Sullivan Democrats, while the Harrison men were to take the other six.

Democratic leaders supporting Robert M. Sweitzer oppose entangling the judicial contest with the mayoralty, and a conference was held with Congressman Sabath and a few other Harrison Democrats at the Hotel Sherman headquarters late in the afternoon. The result was a tentative agreement to delay the convention until after the April election.

Mr. Sabath was not so sure, however, that could be accomplished. When seen after the conference he said:

"The committee will meet Friday afternoon at the Briggs house, and if it can be done, I think the call for the convention will be postponed."

Sabath Evades Answer.

When asked if he personally was in favor of delaying the nomination of judicial candidates the congressman evaded an answer. Incidentally his brother, Joseph Sabath, is said to be a candidate for one of the judicial places. Others who are mentioned are D. J. Normoyle, N. L. Piotrowski, Frank Wilson, Gustavus Tatge, Frank J. Johnston, John W. Beckwith, Thomas Johnson, Philip J. McKenna, and James E. Maher.

It has been understood that after the city election it was the purpose of the Sweitzer Democrats to get together with the Harrison leaders and send a strong delegation to Springfield to try to get an amendment to the election law to permit the names of candidates to appear on more than one ballot.

STEDMAN SAYS THE CITY IS SHORT ON CAR INCOME.

Socialist Candidate Asserts Joker in Unification Ordinance Lets Company Fool the Municipality.

Seymour Stedman, Socialist nominee for mayor, in the Thorp school in South Chicago last night said the city is not getting all the money from the traction companies it should get.

"Under the ordinance of 1907 the mayor had a right to see the books of the traction company," Mr. Stedman said. "This was taken from the mayor by the unification ordinance of Nov. 13, 1913, which limited the mayor and the city council to seeing the books only by permission of and under the authority of the board of supervising engineers. You must read the paragraph in the ordinance several times to see the joker.

"The near side cars used by the Chicago City Railway company are manufactured by J. C. Brill & Co., Philadelphia. From February, 1912, to January, 1913, the company purchased 125 of these cars, paying an average price of $6,352. The Philadelphia Traction company purchased similar cars for $4,906.

"Had the entire number of cars been purchased at the price paid by the Philadelphia company the saving would have been $205,823 on the 125 cars. The Chicago City Railway paid an excess of more than $200,000. Who got the difference? The city of Chicago lost over $100,000."

LEVEE LEADERS DOUBTFUL AS TO "WIDE OPEN" TOWN.

"Things Ain't Going to Be Any Better," Sighs Veteran to Colleague in Political Discussion.

It was a south bound Indiana avenue owl car and it hardly resembled a returning band of Sunday school picknickers. At Twenty-second street, among others who boarded the car were two levee characters.

"It's pretty tough," offered one to the other.

"Yea, but wait until after election," replied the other. "Everything's fixed."

"Say, listen," responded the other.

"After twenty years you're as big a sucker as ever. Haven't you heard that just before every election we ever helped to carry? When we beat Merriam and elected Harrison, didn't they tell us everything was all fixed! It was all fixed, all right, all right.

"It ain't going to be any better after election," he shook his head sadly. "It ain't ever going to be any better."

Discussion of the Proposition Ballot.

(Published by the Central Municipal Citizenship Committee of the Woman's City Club.)

THE proposition, or "little" ballot, which will be submitted to the voters on April 6 is some forty-eight inches long and contains seven bond issues, one question of public policy, and five questions of annexation.

The proposition ballot of last spring was but forty inches long and contained five bond issues, two questions of annexation, two of public policy, and some miscellaneous propositions.

This comparison leads to an interesting query: "Is the proposition ballot going to lengthen each year and will the request for bond issues increase?"

A first glance at the bond issues might lead the voter to think that the election commissioners had made the mistake of submitting last year's propositions to the voters, so familiar do many of the questions appear. Last year the citizens voted in favor of bond issues for a contagious disease hospital for the health department and for bathing beaches. This year they are again asked to vote in favor of bond issues for the same purpose. Last year the proposal to issue bonds for new buildings in the fire department and police department was defeated. This year the propositions for the same departments are again submitted. Whether the citizens vote "yes" or "no," the same questions seem to confront them the following year.

THE HOSPITAL BONDS.

The first bond issue is:

1. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to issue bonds of the city of Chicago in the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) for the purpose of completing the municipal contagious disease hospital, including the erection of an additional pavilion, nurses' home, and the equipment of said buildings and the ground thereof for the health department of the city of Chicago.

Last year $470,000 was voted for the health department, of which $250,000 was to be used for an isolation hospital. The plans as proposed contemplate a group of eight large buildings and one small receiving station and will care for 1,000 patients when completed. The site has been secured. One hospital is ready to be roofed in and the administration building is well under way. In order to complete the plans $500,000 more are necessary.

JOHN WORTHY SCHOOL.

The second bond issue is:

2. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to issue bonds of the city of Chicago in the sum of sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) for the purpose of constructing a dormitory of the John Worthy school for the boys of correction of the city of Chicago.

The boys of the John Worthy school are to be removed from close proximity to the bridewell and placed on a farm, which has already been acquired. The board of education will maintain a public school and the money from this bond issue is to be used to construct a dormitory.

SHELTER FOR WOMEN.

The third bond issue is:

3. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to issue bonds of the city of Chicago in the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for the purpose of constructing a house of shelter for women and acquiring a site and constructing buildings for a farm colony for the house of correction of the city of Chicago.

There is a bill before the legislature at present to abolish the fining system for prostitutes. The records of the Morals court show that over 50 per cent of the women who are arrested for immorality are subnormal, many of them feeble minded, and, as the judge says: "Fines do not cure enfeebled minds." There should be an institution to which these girls could be committed for hospital care and vocational training.

A farm colony for the house of correction is greatly needed, where men who are epileptic, alcoholic, and feeble minded can be committed and the product of their work be applied to the support of their families.

GARBAGE.

The fourth bond issue is:

4. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to issue bonds of the city of Chicago in the sum of seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000) for the purpose of constructing additional buildings and completing the reconstruction of present buildings and purchasing and installing the equipment composing the permanent outfit of the municipal garbage reduction works for the health department of the city of Chicago.

The garbage reduction works at Thirty-ninth street have been enlarged and so thoroughly renovated that our city engineer calls them the cleanest in the country. But it has been impossible to develop the commercial side of this industry because the city was so pushed to meet the demand for the actual disposal of the city's waste. There is a rich by-product in grease which can be sold for from 2½ to 6 cents a pound and in fertilizer. A certain proportion of this bond issue is to be used to erect the plants and install the machinery necessary to develop the commercial side of garbage disposal. One hundred and seventy thousand dollars will be used to complete the Ninety-fifth street incinerator and $70,000 for the Goose Island incinerator. Seventy thousand and five hundred dollars will be used for transportation equipment, such as new motor trucks and barges.

BEACHES, PLAYGROUNDS.

The fifth bond issue is:

5. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to issue bonds of the city of Chicago in the sum of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) for the purpose of acquiring sites and improving bathing beaches, playgrounds, and neighborhood centers in and for the city of Chicago.

Three hundred thousand dollars of this amount is to be used for bathing beaches and $300,000 for acquiring playgrounds in those wards which do not already possess them. Last year the citizens voted $350,000 for bathing beaches. This was used to complete the Clarendon avenue beach and to acquire a strip of land on Seventy-ninth street, a rocky ledge with natural scenic beauty. Some of the tract purchased did not carry riparian rights. The best beach for bathing purposes is north of the tract already acquired, and doubtless will be purchased if this bond issue carries.

FIRE AND POLICE.

The last two bond issues are:

6. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to issue bonds of the city of Chicago in the sum of six hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars ($663,000) for the purpose of acquiring the necessary sites and constructing, remodeling, repairing, and moving buildings for the fire department of the city of Chicago.

7. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to issue bonds of the city of Chicago in the sum of one million one hundred ninety-nine thousand dollars ($1,199,000) for the purpose of acquiring the necessary sites and constructing buildings and remodeling existing buildings for the police department of the city of Chicago.

A real need for new buildings for the fire and police departments was recognized last year, but the issue as proposed then was refused by the citizens of Chicago. The need is greater now and the request in last year's proposal for $1,800,000 for a large central police office has been omitted, and the entire sum now proposed will be used for erecting new stations in outlying districts. The bond issue for the police department has an additional safeguard this year. The buildings are to be supervised by a committee consisting of three aldermen, three policemen, and three citizens. In the last group one woman has been appointed, Miss Harriet E. Vittum.

The total amount of the bond issues is $3,972,000. Last year the request was for $4,700,000. In voting on them the citizens are confronted with the same problem which they had to solve before. In a report issued last spring the central municipal citizenship committee summed up the situation as follows:

Much of the present revenue of the government is wasted, due to the multiplicity of our governing bodies. For this we cannot of course hold the present administration responsible. The simplification of the government is a problem for all citizens to consider and reform. But there is reason to fear that the present officials are not administering the funds which they have with the greatest possible economy and efficiency, since they refuse to allow a body of citizens to investigate the department of finance. The citizens have a right to feel some hesitancy about placing $4,700,000 in the hands of a city administration which denies them this right. An administration which has to ask for so large a sum in order to carry on its necessary functions ought to invite the widest scrutiny from its citizens. If the voters could have some assurance that the money would not be dusted, it would seem advisable for them to act favorably on these bond issues.

Last year the bureau of public efficiency pointed out that there were $2,184,000 corporate bonds authorized but unsold. Are these still available? If not, for what purpose were they used?

DOUBLE PLATOON.

The last question is:

10. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—The adoption of the provisions of an act of the general assembly, entitled, "An act to regulate the hours of labor of employés in the fire department in cities and villages," approved June 28, 1913. Which said act provides in effect that in all cities and villages adopting said act no employé of the fire department shall, except in cases of great emergency or necessity, be compelled to be on duty more than ten (10) consecutive hours during the daytime nor more than fourteen (14) consecutive hours during the nighttime, and that the working hours of each such employé shall be arranged so that such employé shall work, as near as may be, an equal number of hours each month.

The fire department itself seems to be divided on the advisability of the double platoon system, the Helmet club, composed largely of officers, opposing it, and the Firemen's association favoring it. At present the men have every third day off. Under the two platoon system the men would live at home, to do their work every day for ten hours for a certain period, when their work would be shifted to fourteen hours at night.

Those opposing the system claim that it will do away with many of their present privileges, such as fifteen days' vacation, leave of absence for sickness, marriage, or death in the family, and full pay when sick or injured for a year. They also fear a reduction in their salaries and claim that wherever tried the two platoon system has not been a success. They estimate that it would take an additional $1,000,000 a year to install the system.

On the other hand, those favoring the measure claim that it makes for a more normal family life, to have the father live at home instead of at his place of business. They point out that their present privileges, vacations, sick leaves, and salaries are granted by city ordinance, and that the same sentiment which induced the city to pass these ordinances could be invoked in case of attempted repeal.

ANNEXATION.

Four questions of annexation follow:

8. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to annex the village of Clearing to the city of Chicago.

9. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to annex the village of Elmwood Park to the city of Chicago.

11. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to annex the city of Blue Island to the city of Chicago.

12. "FOR" or "AGAINST"—A proposition to annex a region known as Caldwell's addition.

In order to become effective these propositions must be approved both by the voters of Chicago and by those who live in these districts. This territory naturally belongs to the city. Chicago needs the votes of its suburban population to help in the solution of its many problems.

BATTLES IN MAYOR'S OFFICE.

Mrs. Leonora Dorning Fights Two Policemen When "Strong" Language Brings Arrest.

Two policemen had their hands full when they attempted to oust Mrs. Leonora Dorning from Mayor Harrison's outer office yesterday. She was placed under arrest. Mrs. Dorning called to see the mayor. When Clerk Abe Merinbaum told her Mr. Harrison was not in he asserts she indicated her disbelief in terms more emphatic than suave and sprinkled with expressions scarcely current in ordinary conversation.

Royal Master Model Ten—the typewriter of perfect presswork
Other men judge your letters just as you judge theirs
Generally it is not your fault, nor that of your stenographer, if a letter goes out poorly typewritten, the lines uneven, letters faint or jammed clear through the paper—
But the man or firm getting that letter may have no other way of judging you and your business.
You judge others in just the same way.
You've seen letters written on the Royal, most likely.
That even, smooth, beautifully legible print truly has personality in it.
The Royal is instantly adjusted to the individuality of the operator. A little thumbscrew does it—and the operator forgets there is a machine between fingertips and paper.
That's only one reason why the Royal is the choice of "big business."
The Royal not only writes everything, but it bills and charges, and it writes cards—writes anywhere and everywhere on a card—without a single extra attachment or the least change.
When you install a Royal you end the "trading" evil of the typewriter business. The Royal is built to live long, and it is built to give such unchangingly satisfactory service that you'll never want to trade it.
For the same reason it keeps the repair man away. Work goes on as it should. Your stenographer is pleased with that, and also pleased because the Royal is practically frictionless and dustless—it requires much less cleaning and oiling.
Get the facts. Know the Royal, whether you require one or a hundred typewriters, and whether you are considering a purchase now or not. A demonstration takes but a few moments. It places you under no obligation—we'll thank you for the opportunity. Telephone us now, or drop us a note.

To California Expositions Via Burlington's Scenic Route
The Burlington's Grand Circle Tour of both expositions and the Pacific Coast is winning deserved popularity.
The California Expositions will attract immense crowds. Most of those who are going are making a careful selection of routes in order to include the largest number of famous scenic points on the way.
In this respect the Burlington is offering unusual inducements. Its Grand Circle Tour seems to have omitted nothing of importance that appeals to those who are "seeing America first."
For example, the tourist can see Denver, the new Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado Springs, the Pike's Peak region, Salt Lake City, and Great Salt Lake—all in daylight. Tour includes beautiful Los Angeles, the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego, the Panama-Pacific at San Francisco—a delightful ocean voyage (rail if desired), San Francisco to Portland (meals and berth on steamer without cost to Burlington passengers). It includes Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane, Glacier National Park, or Yellowstone National Park, Minneapolis and St. Paul, and return to Chicago via the Burlington's Mississippi River Scenic Line—"Where nature smiles three hundred miles." Special Excursion fare for Burlington Grand Circle Tour only $80.00.
There is certainly big value in this $80.00 round trip tour. From two to five weeks are necessary to make the tour, but ninety days are allowed. Special rate in effect daily to November 30th. A shorter tour can be arranged through Colorado in daylight, including both expositions, for $62.50, round trip.
Burlington officials are always glad to co-operate with prospective tourists in outlining their trips, making suggestions for their pleasure and convenience. If you are planning a Pacific Coast trip this year, get literature, maps, photographic views, etc., by writing, calling on or telephoning A. J. Puhl, Gen. Agt., Pass. Dept., 141 S. Clark St., Cor. RACE FOR MAYOR DEVELOPS INTO ATHLETES' WAR

Thompson's Gridiron Feats Pitted Against Rival's Baseball Prowess.

Efforts of the rival campaign managers to corral the votes of the sporting fraternity for their respective candidates are furnishing the spectacular features in the closing days of the mayoralty battle.

The burning question in all the camps now is, Who has the better athletic record—Thompson or Sweitzer? And if one happens to be an athlete, or ever was, or is an advocate of outdoor sports he or she is a mighty important personage at present in the eyes of the campaign generals.

High salaried secretaries have been put to work compiling the athletic records of Thompson and Sweitzer. The city has been raked from end to end in the effort to enlist voters who may have at any time expressed a favorable word for any kind of outdoor sport.

Thousands Being Spent.

Thousands of dollars are to be spent on the athletic demonstrations in behalf of the rival candidates.

The Sweitzer people will stage their biggest event of the campaign at the Coliseum Saturday night, at which time they will endeavor to show that Sweitzer, though he is a little extended around the girth now, was once the pride of the west side ball fans, the envy of the Kelly pool sharks, some billiard player, and of recent years not to be despised on the golf links.

The Thompson people meanwhile are staging a full week of athletic stunts at the Coliseum next week under the auspices of the Sportsmen's Club of America.

They will recount Thompson's exploits on the football field with the old champion C. A. C. team that won the national honors, his record as a yachtsman, and his approval of the manly art of self-defense.

Tell of Sweitzer's Prowess.

The Sweitzer people have prepared a chronological record of the Hon. Bob's baseball career, which is being circulated throughout the city by the hundreds of thousands. It follows:

Member of the Spaldings.
Member of the City league.
Member of the Walker team.
Member of the Commercial league.
Member of St. Patrick's Academy team.
Secretary of the Mercantile league.
President of Royal League Baseball association, 1912.

The Sweitzer Baseball Boosters' club has issued an appeal to fans, which says: "Sweitzer stands for personal liberty and favors Sunday baseball. The players and fans appreciate that it is of vital importance to have a man in the office of mayor who favors broadminded ideas."

Baseball Men Back Him.

Among the boosters for Sweitzer in the baseball organization are James J. Callahan, Hank O'Day, Ed Sweeney, Joe Mulligan, Matty Fitzpatrick, Mike Malloy, Jim McGuire, Johnnie Farrell, "Silk" Shevlin, Cozy Dolan, Jimmy Archer, Ed Konetchy, Bill Killefer, Jimmy Callahan, Ed Walsh, Jim Scott, Ed Cicotte, Joe Benz, Ed Scanlon, Ed Cunningham, Ed Reulbach, Jimmy Vaughn, Jimmy Lavender, Jimmy Lavanaugh, and J. Carney.

The Thompson people will bring their athletic show to an end with the big demonstration the Saturday night before election.

The same night the Sweitzer people plan will try to break into the athletic parade by pulling off a show in Dexter park pavilion at the stock yards.

The Thompson people are confident they will have the bulk of the athletic stunts with them, as certainly as he used to tear great holes in the line of the opposing eleven.

Sweitzer's aids laugh at these claims and insist the Hon. Bob will knock a home run on April 6.

MUST FILE TAX SCHEDULES, HOYNE WARNING TO ALL.

State's Attorney Ready to Prosecute Persons Who Fail to Obey or Violate Law.

"April 1 is the first day to file personal property schedules. The best advice the state's attorney's office can give to all taxpayers, whether individuals or corporations, is to file a schedule and file it under oath. This should be ample warning to all."

The above warning was issued yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Henry A. Berger, who will have charge of the investigation of tax law violations for which the county board recently appropriated $10,000.

"During the coming year I intend investigating all violations of said law, and, wherever the facts warrant, will institute prosecutions," said Mr. Hoyne.

SWEITZER HAS DAY OF GAINS

Increases Percentage Lead in Straw Vote and Cuts Thompson Margin.

FOUR GROUPS BALLOT.

Progress of the Straw Ballot.

The standing by percentage:

Sweitzer	145,083
Thompson	142,793
Stedman	5,767
Scattering	701
Total	295,244

Robert M. Sweitzer, Democrat, gained heavily all along the line yesterday in THE TRIBUNE'S nonpartisan straw vote on the mayoralty election. Not only did he retain his lead in the percentage list, but he boosted his lead from 1,522 to 3,190, a gain of 1,668 for the day.

Sweitzer also outdistanced William Hale Thompson, Republican, on the day's straw votes cast, getting 163 more test ballots than the G.O.P. candidate. Thompson, however, still retains his lead on the straw votes by 355.

The discrepancy between the test votes and the percentage lead is due to the numerically larger groups which have given majorities for Sweitzer in the actual balloting.

Four New Groups.

The day's straw voting comprised 400 votes from four additional occupational groups. With 7,900 ballots previously reported the new votes brought the grand total up to 8,300. All four of the day's groups gave Sweitzer majorities.

Here are the straw vote figures to date:

THOMPSON.

Total for the day	118
Previous	4,087

SWEITZER.

Total for the day	281
Previous	3,569

Returns by Groups.

The day's returns by groups are:

City and County Employes.
[Division and Bureau Heads.]
Sweitzer ..... 91 Republican 9

Leather Workers.
Sweitzer ..... 69 Socialist 12
Thompson 80

Bookbinders.
Sweitzer ..... 62 Thompson 38

Brass Molders and Brass Works Employes.
Sweitzer ..... 59 Thompson 41

The four groups gave Sweitzer a percentage for the day of 2,828, Thompson, 1,160, and Stedman, 12. Computations were based on a voting strength of 50 per cent of the total number in each group.

MARION DRAKE TERMED A "POLITICAL COQUETTE."

Olaf E. Ray, Progressive Leader, Calls Her Disloyal for Deserting Thompson.

Miss Marion Drake, erstwhile foe of Ald. Kenna and Ald. Coughlin, has turned out to be a "political coquette," according to Olaf E. Ray, president of the Fifteenth Ward Progressive club and one of the Chicago leaders in the new party.

Mr. Ray issued a signed statement last night in which he said:

"Miss Drake appears to have just formed a 'Can't Stand for Thompson club.' Shortly after the last primaries she was one of the speakers at a Progressive rally of leaders at the fusion headquarters in the Otis building, and on that occasion she condemned both Thompson and Sweitzer and wound up by saying she would vote for the Socialist candidate, Seymour Stedman.

"Now she has gone back on him again and advocates 'anything to beat Thompson,' which of course means that she is for Sweitzer. She certainly does not expect to beat Thompson with Stedman."

Cars Kill Switchman.

James McCarthy, a switchman, whose relatives live in New York, fell off a car on Tuesday night in the St. Paul yards and two cars passed over him, killing him.

NEW LEAGUE OUT FOR THOMPSON IN MAYORALTY RACE

Civic Improvement Body Indorses Entire Republican City Ticket.

William Hale Thompson has been indorsed by the County Voters' league as the most desirable candidate for mayor. The indorsement also was extended to all of the other nominees on the Republican city ticket.

Edward T. Lee is president and C. F. Manahan, secretary, of the league, which was organized a year ago to pass on the qualifications of candidates other than those for the city council. The league is a central body representing several civic and improvement associations.

Delegates to the league met in the rooms of the John Marshall Law school yesterday and heard reports on the various candidates for city offices.

Indorse William H. Thompson.

The delegates decided on the following text of a letter to be sent to all of the constituent bodies:

"As a result of the investigation of the four candidates for mayor, and after considering their availability and chances for election and the relative merits of the two leading candidates and their experience in office, the league has reached the conclusion that in the present emergency the cause of good government will be best promoted by your voting for William Hale Thompson for mayor.

"The league also recommends your voting for Charles H. Sergel for city treasurer, John Simon for city clerk, and Hosea Wells for judge of the Municipal court."

At a meeting in the Garrick theater at noon Mr. Thompson said he had been informed that $250,000 had been expended to carry the mayoralty primary for Mr. Sweitzer. Last night James A. Pugh, one of Mr. Thompson's managers, said $505,000 was spent to win the nomination for Mr. Sweitzer. Mr. Pugh also said that $205,000 was spent on primary day.

How Will He Repay Sullivan?

"And why was it necessary," Mr. Pugh inquired, "to expend $175,000 for printing, hall rents, postage, newspapers, etc.? And $50,000 for pay roll and velvet carpeted headquarters on the Mezzanine floor of the Hotel Sherman? Is it not true, Mr. Sweitzer, if you are elected mayor, you will repay Mr. Sullivan for the enormous sums he has spent in your behalf by allowing the city to fail in prosecuting its suits against the gas company to secure for consumers the return of upward of $10,000,000 now held by the gas company in trust for them?

"I demand that you give the people an answer to my question previously propounded as to what method you would adopt in prosecuting these suits.

No Strings on Thompson.

"In order that the people may know the facts in this discussion between the candidates Mr. Thompson has answered honestly and frankly every question you have propounded. He is glad to answer your questions, Mr. Sweitzer, or those of Mr. Sullivan, because he has accepted no political favors from any one."

Mr. Thompson and Mr. Pugh called on Charles S. Deneen, former governor, at his residence in the afternoon, Mr. Deneen having been shut in by illness almost constantly since the primaries. The visitors said they found the former governor confident of a Republican victory next month, and that he expressed the hope he would be able to be on the stump every night next week.

PLAYS TAG; KILLED BY AUTO

Girl Darts Into Street After Touching Playmate at Cameron School.

"You're it!" laughed 8 year old Mabel Rasmussen of 1214 North Hamlin avenue, tapping a playmate on the shoulder and darting out into the street in front of the Cameron school during recess yesterday. She was looking over her shoulder, when screams of the other children caused her to turn her head, but too late. She was knocked unconscious by a motor truck and died an hour later at the Garfield Park hospital. Joseph Schneberger, driver of the truck and son of a grocer at 3610 West Chicago avenue, was held, but later released.

GOMPERS GIVES SWEITZER BOOST

"Shanghaied" at Banquet, He Says "Bob" Would Make Good Mayor.

LEADS THE CHEERING.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, strolled into the Boston Oyster house shortly after 11 o'clock last night. Two husky diners promptly jumped from their seats, took him by the two arms, and led him to a table on a raised platform, where he was jovially forced into a seat between Julian Eltinge and Joe Ray, famous White Sox fan, of Wilmington, Ill.

Mr. Gompers, absent mindedly fingering a roll, turned to Julian and started to ask what it was all about. Then his eye lighted on a portly figure, evidently in the place of honor.

"Holy Cats! I'm Caught!"

"Isn't that Bob Sweitzer?" he asked.

"Sure," replied Eltinge in his best manner. "This is a Sweitzer blowout. Glad you came."

"Holy cats!" mused the diminutive labor leader. After a moment he hunted up the reporters' table.

"Say," he said. "I didn't know what I was doing when they got me up there at the speakers' table. I'm not boosting Sweitzer or Thompson or anybody else, you know. Just make that plain, will you?"

Then he went back and sat down.

"We have with us tonight—" the chairman later said, and every one, turning to Gompers, yelled "Speech!"

"Well, I surrender," Gompers said. "I know when I'm locked.

"But, seriously, it is not my province, my friends, to mix in Chicago's mayoralty campaign. But I like Bob Sweitzer. I have known him for a number of years and I can tell you this—if the people do elect him I know that he will serve the city faithfully and well."

And then Mr. Sweitzer lead the cheering.

Records of the city council were called on by Robert M. Sweitzer, Democratic nominee for mayor, in his speeches last night in an effort to disprove the statement made by William Hale Thompson, Republican nominee, that he was the father of the small park system in Chicago. The original resolution providing for the small parks commission, Mr. Sweitzer said, was introduced in the city council by William S. Jackson, an alderman from the old Fourth, now the Second ward, some time before Mr. Thompson was elected to the council.

Another Straw Ballot.

Managers of Mr. Sweitzer's campaign have been taking a poll among several of the larger lines of employment, and the first one completed was that of street car men. The figures follow:

	Sweitzer.	Thompson.	Stedman.	Doubtful.
Cottage Grove [38th].	47	16	11	21
Rockwell [38th]	52	8	2	21
Kedzie station	54	18	8	40
Vincennes road [77th]	73	23	11	39
Lawndale	43	16	6	27
Ashland	32	13	2	24
Totals	301	94	40	168

Democrats plan one of the big demonstrations of the campaign tonight in the Thirteenth ward, which is the home ward of Mr. Sweitzer. The meeting will be held in the Delano school at Wilcox and Crawford avenues.

MAYOR AGAIN PUTS LID ON CADILLAC HOTEL BARROOM.

Girl's Complaint of Attack and Fact Doors Into Rooming Portion Were Open Reasons.

For the second time within nine months Mayor Harrison yesterday closed the barroom of the Cadillac hotel at Wabash avenue and Twenty-second street.

There were two causes for the revocation of the license cited by Chief Gleason in his report. One was a violation of the condition imposed at the time the license was restored in October—that the doors leading into the hotel be barred permanently. The other was the complaint of May Smith that she had been assaulted in the hotel. The owners of the place are Rothschild & Bahlau, but the license was in the name of Samuel Cohen.

The mayor also acted favorably upon the request of W. L. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, that the poolroom of W. A. Leonard at 1355 East Sixty-third street be closed. Mr. Bodine reported the owner, in spite of repeated protests, permitted Hyde Park High school boys less than 18 years old to frequent the place.

The Klavicle

(By the House of Kuppenheimer)

FORTUNATE man—if your dealer can supply you with a genuine KLAVICLE Spring Overcoat, under the actual Kuppenheimer trade-name and trade-mark, as exclusively designed and tailored by this great House.

The KLAVICLE, as first created and introduced by the House of Kuppenheimer, became at once the sensation of the overcoat world.

It is the most widely imitated overcoat style in America—there being endless attempts or variations in the way of copying the style or the name.

The Kuppenheimer KLAVICLE is a superb coat as interpreted for Spring, with silk yoke and sleeve lining and light skeleton treatment inside.

Its great feature is the absence of all seams in back and arm-hole. The entire sleeves and back cut from one piece of cloth—making a perfect draping, roomy coat that doesn't bind the arms or shoulders—a military idea based upon the Cavalryman's cape.

It has wide collar and lapel, full soft roll; the front buttons through. There are outside patch pockets with flaps.

You must try on this coat to realize how becoming it is, what a dash it has of its own, and how it separates itself from many loose models and "slip-over" coats offered so generally this Spring.

Prices—$20 to $40

Kuppenheimer Clothes are sold by a representative store in nearly every Metropolitan center of the United States and Canada. Your name on a post card will bring you our Book of Fashions.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, Ohio.

JOHNSON AND WILLARD DRAW BIG CROWDS AT HAVANA.

BOXERS WORK AT FAST PACE FOR BIG BOUT

First Training in Open in Many Days Held; Willard Develops Left.

HAVANA, March 24.—Warm weather today gave Jack Johnson and Jess Willard the first opportunity in several days to work in the open air in training for their battle for the world's heavyweight championship on April 4. Both pugilists drew crowds of people who were anxious to see them at work.

Willard trained at Miramar in the presence of 500 spectators, a third of whom were women. Many tourists were among those who watched the challenger do an hour and a quarter's hard work at the pulleys, punching the dummy, throwing the medicine ball, and boxing twelve rounds. He faced John Pentz for three rounds, Walter Monahan four, and Jim Savage five, and later wrestled with Tex O'Rourke.

Willard Develops Good Left.

Willard has developed a good straight left. His wind is only fair. His sparring partners landed repeatedly today, and despite the fact that they are smaller men the challenger was easily thrown off his balance in the clinches. Willard hits a terrific blow when he lands, but is still far from a finished boxer. Without defending himself he took punishment about the head and body, apparently not being distressed. During the morning Willard did six miles of road work.

Johnson took a six mile run this morning. The champion boxed nine rounds with Bob Armstrong, Colin Bell, and Dave Mills without intermission.

Johnson declared that he could fight today if necessary and said that in another week he would be in perfect condition.

Negro Favorite at 11 to 5.

Americans have begun to bet in favor of Johnson, offering small sums at 11 to 5. Thus far there is only a fair demand for seats at the championship fight. Harry Frazee, principal backer of the syndicate which arranged the bout, arrived today and took personal charge of affairs.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who is here on the yacht Wayfarer, visited both training camps today. He is planning a large party for the big battle.

WELSH DANCES WAY TO VICTORY

Detroit, Mich., March 24.—[Special.]—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, gathered in some more easy money tonight when he outclassed Patsy Drouillard, Canadian champion, in an eight round bout before the Windsor A. C.

For seven rounds Welsh contented himself with keeping his opponent at arm's length, landing a left occasionally to vary the monotony. When Patsy became aggressive the champion easily evaded his punches by clever footwork. He drew blood from the Canadian's mouth early in the bout and thereafter his wonderful left hand played on the injured member, but never with sufficient force to do great harm.

Drouillard always was willing and game, but the champion was too fast for him. In the eighth Welsh cut loose and had Drouillard gasping, but did not follow up the advantage. Few real hard punches were struck. Welsh left the ring unmarked, while Drouillard's only sign of punishment was a bleeding mouth.

REICH KNOCKS OUT PELKEY.

New York, March 24.—Al Reich of this city, former amateur heavyweight champion, knocked out Arthur Pelky of Chicopee, Mass., in the third round of a scheduled ten round bout tonight. It was a hard battle, Reich taking the first round and Pelky evening it up in the second. A left to the face and a right cross to the jaw sent Pelky down for a count of nine in the third round. He arose and boxed for another minute, but a left hook on the head and several rights and lefts to the jaw ended the contest. Each weighed 206 pounds.

JACK WHITE STOPS KELLY.

GEORGE CHIP TO BOX M'COY.

New York, March 24.—Manager Weissmantel of the Broadway Sporting club today announced he had secured George Chip to meet Middleweight Al McCoy at his club on April 6. McCoy claims the middleweight title by virtue of his defeat of Chip at a local club last winter.

MAGUIRE WINS GOLF MATCH.

Howard Bruce Maguire of Armour Tech defeated W. W. Schoff, 3 and 2, in the city indoor golf championship at Rothschild's yesterday. Maguire began with a count of 16 and followed with 19, 17, and 17 for a total of 69. Schoff turned in a card of 21—16—17—17—71. The third round will be completed today. The third round for the Spalding cup will be played at the Golf Shop school this morning.

TENNIS VETERAN GETS JOB.

John C. Neely, the old time tennis player, has been appointed manager of the retail department of the sporting firm of Wright & Ditson. Neely will take charge of the new offices at 18 South La Salle street on the first of the month.

Champions to Defend Tug of War Title at Coliseum.

BY JACK PROCTOR.

ONE of the features of the athletic carnival to be held at the Coliseum on Saturday is the tug of war contest which has drawn the entries of four teams, two of which are bitter rivals of long standing. The Chicago Police team, which holds the Central A. A. U. championship, which it won from the Sleipner Athletic club last year, will be forced to defend its title against the pull of the Sleipners and this match is certain to be desperately fought.

The Sleipners for several years reigned as champions before the police outpulled them, and it is said the athletes of the former team have been in training for several months in the hope of getting the chance to regain the honors.

The police squad is formed of several star tug of war men. C. Magnuson, the anchor, is considered one of the world's greatest stars. The team has captured six trophies.

Other teams which have entered the contest are the Chicago Firemen and the Western Electrics. The tug of war contest will be held in the afternoon, the track contests being scheduled for the night entertainment.

GIBBONS AND CLABBY MAY FIGHT 20 ROUNDS

Mike to Answer New Orleans Club Today; May Also Tackle Packey.

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

A match between Mike Gibbons and Jimmy Clabby over the twenty round route and a battle between the Phantom and Packey McFarland over any old route are on the fire. Gibbons faced the managers of McFarland and Clabby yesterday and a pair of interesting conferences made the matches look closer than ever before.

Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee promoter, who is the representative of Dominick Tortorich of New Orleans, was in the city on his way to Cuba to see the Johnson-Willard fight. He held a confab with the St. Paul scrapper and Larney Lichtenstein, Clabby's manager, and when he departed southward he announced that the Hammond boy had signed, while Gibbons intended to hold off a day before accepting the match.

Gibbons Demands $7,000.

There is only one possibility of a hitch, and that may come from Gibbons' demand for coin. Andrews offered him $5,000, but Mike thought $7,000 would be the proper amount. However, it is thought likely that Gibbons may cut down this amount so that a compromise can be reached. He is to wire Andrews a final answer to New Orleans today. At any rate Mike's attitude last night indicated that there was a good chance of the bout taking place.

Emil Thiry camped on Gibbons' trail last night and when they met put it up to Mike in plain language. Thiry told Gibbons that a match with Packey McFarland could be made quickly if Mike would agree to scale at 145 pounds at 3 o'clock.

To this Gibbons answered that he did not know whether he could make that notch, as he hadn't made it for more than a year. He asked for twenty-four hours in which to find out and will meet Thiry in another confab this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when it is expected that the match will be made or called impossible.

Clabby Accepts in Hurry.

There wasn't the least bit of hesitation from the Clabby end when Tortorich's representative offered the Hammond scrapper $5,000 for his end. Since he received a trimming at the hands of Mike in Milwaukee Clabby has repeatedly stated he could defeat the Phantom in a twenty round contest, and he didn't dicker over terms. The Crescent City promoter is to give the two fighters a privilege of 65 per cent of the house, which they can split to suit themselves.

Efforts to arrange a match between Gibbons and Eddie McGoorty or Jack Dillon at Milwaukee were passed up by Andrews, and there isn't likely to be anything of note doing in Brewery City pugilism until the promoter returns from Havana. Andrews yesterday stated that he would like to stage Dillon against the Phantom, but that was as far as he went in the arrangement of the bout.

Ahearn Would Fight Clabby.

While the managers and promoters are busy trying to find bouts for Gibbons, Clabby, and McGoorty, the three middleweights are taking things easy around town. Clabby spends a lot of his time playing billiards. Gibbons is busy playing two shows a day at a local theater.

Dan McKetrick, manager of Young Ahearn, writing from New York, seems dissatisfied over the many decisions given after the recent six round Ahearn-Clabby bout and wants to pull off another contest. McKetrick says that if Clabby wants another bout he can get quick action, the One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street club being ready to stage the contest.

Jimmy Walsh, the local lightweight, has been matched to fight Louis Pappas at Des Moines on March 29. Pappas is a Kansas City scrapper.

WHITE FIGHTS CROSS IN GOTHAM TONIGHT

Charley 7 to 10 Favorite Over Dentist Boxer for Ten Round Clash.

New York, March 24.—[Special.]—Charley White is a 7 to 10 favorite over Leach Cross for their ten round bout at Madison Square garden tomorrow night. The odds are offered that White will win on points. While White is favorite, the friends of Cross are offering 3 to 1 that the Chicago boxer does not knock out the east side dentist. This is the answer of Cross' friends to White's boast that he will stop Cross before the end of ten rounds.

To show their confidence in Cross his admirers are willing to bet that Cross, and not White, will win by a knockout. Each lad will be able to make the weight, 135 pounds, at 3 o'clock.

White Anxious to Win.

White is anxious to win this bout. The New York fans did not give him much credit on the showing he made against Joe Shugrue last winter. Because of this he wants to prove he is a real knockout artist. In bouts outside of New York he has accomplished this trick many times.

Besides these reasons he has another important one. He has been offered a match with Freddy Welsh, to take place in Connecticut, and wants to clinch it. A knockout over Cross would help do this.

Charley in Good Shape.

White has been preparing for the bout at Rye Beach and has shown plenty of speed and hitting ability in all of his work. Cross, like the Chicago boxer, has several matches hinging on a victory tomorrow night. He has been offered bouts with Freddy Welsh, Willie Ritchie, and Johnny Dundee.

DRIVER REFUSES TO LEAVE A. A. A.

BY REED L. PARKER.

That the rank and file of racing drivers will remain firm in their allegiance to the American Automobile association was indicated yesterday when William Chandler, known for his driving of the Braender bulldog over the big racing circuits of the country last year, arrived in Chicago with the information that he had resigned from Alex Sloan's racing outfit because the latter considered a trial with the outlaws.

Chandler has been in Racine this winter working on Case cars for a barnstorming campaign under Sloan's direction this summer. He now is looking for a mount. He was in conference with Charles Erbstein, the owner of a fast Marmon, for several hours yesterday, but could not come to an agreement.

The match race between Burman, Cooper, and Disbrow, scheduled for Ascot Park, Cal., on April 4, will be run under the direction of the A. A. A. The drivers declined to start under the sanction of the Automobile club of Southern California, according to Ed Duffield, a member of the Chicago Automobile club contest committee, who received a letter from Burman.

Barney Oldfield is negotiating with the English agents of the Mercedes company for the 300 inch car Lautenschlager drove to victory in the Grand Prix at Lyons last year. It is understood Oldfield is willing to pay $7,500 for the car. He is likely to get it at that figure, according to New York importers.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

In the three cushion tournament at Mussey's Holliday and Carr [43] defeated Hubbard and Perry [43], 43 to 40. Wadsworth and Lewis will play Juul and Ricks tonight.

Charley Morin of Weeghman's defeated William Kalthoff of Cincinnati, 50 to 38, in sixty-one innings in the Interstate Three Cushion league at Weeghman's last night. Morin had high run of 6, Kalthoff getting one of 4.

Sporting News Notes.

George Winters and "Kid" Kelly, local lightweights, have been matched to box four rounds in private tonight.

The Olivet Reds basketball team will meet the Columbian A. C. five of St. Louis tonight in the Marshall High school gymnasium.

A three mile amateur roller skating race will be held at the Coliseum Saturday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Western Skating association.

The South Side Bible Class A. A. has made preliminary plans for the baseball season. Another meeting will be held tonight in the Westminster building, room 1307.

Earl Pruess, a local semi-pro player, has accepted terms with the Escanaba club of the Wisconsin-Michigan league. Pruess has been recommended by Umpire Arnold of the Texas league.

The Northwestern Walking association will join the squad from the Sportsmen's club in a hike from Irving Park boulevard and Milwaukee avenue to the Desplaines river and return on Sunday.

The Royal Arcanum Baseball league has been organized for the year with eighteen teams separated into three divisions. The officers are: A. J. Murphy, president; A. J. McGee, secretary and treasurer; J. J. McHugh, umpire in chief.

Adolph Ernst will be the headliner at the Haymarket theater tonight, where a double mat bill is to be staged. Ernst will meet Ed Scher in a finish match. Yussiff Hussane and Wladek Zbyszko have been matched in the other half of the bill.

GAMES FOR TODAY.
3:00—De Oro and Moore.
8:30—Huey and Daly.

BY J. G DAVIS.

In a battle brimful of tabasco William Huey of Chicago defeated Alfredo DeOro, 50 to 33, in the last game of yesterday's card in the world's three cushion championship.

The Chicagoan, displaying fine execution and excellent strategy, went out in sixty-three innings. His victory put him in second place next to John Daly, who snatched a much needed victory from Charley Morin in the second game of the afternoon, 50 to 47.

DeOro's defeat practically killed his chance of retaining the championship, although he still has a chance to tie Daly.

Kieckhefer Beats Ellis.

The other two games had no bearing on the title. The opening contest, however, added one more remarkable finish to the many that have occurred. August Kieckhefer defeated Charley Ellis, 50 to 37, in sixty-five innings. Ellis at the forty-seventh inning led, 34 to 24. Then the Milwaukee southpaw made a run of 10, and with this as a starter made 26 points while Ellis was getting 3.

Jevne and Hahman galloped along, finishing their game in 1:04, the fastest time yet made. Jevne came strong at the finish, winning, 50 to 36.

Never in the history of local billiards has there been greater excitement than in the De Oro-Huey battle. Previous to starting De Oro had objected to Fred Conklin as referee, but he was told by the officials he would have to play or forfeit. The champion claimed Conklin was antagonistic to him.

Near-Foul Causes Row.

Huey ran two in the forty-ninth inning. On the second shot De Oro claimed a foul, but Conklin called two for Huey. Then began a rumpus which looked as if the gentleman's game had suffered an attack of "reverse English." De Oro put his cue on the table as if he intended to quit, but after a heated discussion, a lot of hostile demonstration by the crowd, and some heated exchanges between Huey and De Oro, the game was resumed. Huey won a well merited victory, as he played a better game than the champion.

De Oro claimed after the match that several spectators said they had seen the foul and also reiterated his assertion that all through the tournament Conklin had been antagonistic to him. The officials, however, support Conklin and he will continue to referee.

Seward Pk., 49; Cornell Square, 9.

Seward Park Emeralds defeated the Cornell square 105 pound quintet, 49 to 9, in the former's gymnasium last night. Wells and Flannery featured with nine baskets each.

P S. Jack Martines Sends his Best Reguards to U.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—"Silent" Martin of New York gave Champion" Al McCoy a nine pound handicap in the weights and an artistic trimming in a ten round bout which went the limit at the Broadway Sporting club of Brooklyn tonight.

"A dandy spot for a couple of idle " quotes."

Mr. Schrage of Sheboygan, Wis., submits this puzzle:

23-5-19-20-5-18-14 19-16-18-9-14-7-19 21-5-2-5-18 1-12-12-5-19.

Hint—Each number represents a letter in the alphabet and each set of numbers a word. Further hint—The sentiment expressed is ridiculous.

Mrs. Bill Donovan has started suit for divorce. As the poet said: "One may smile and smile, etc."

A good reporter does as he is told. Floyd Gibbons was sent to Mexico to cover the fight. So he went to Mexico and covered the fight.

THE FRAME OF PUBLIC FAVOR.

There is a tie for first place in the Frame contest to decide whose picture shall be run a week from next Tuesday. The standing:

Candidate.	Votes.
Charles W. Murphy	1
A Man with a Doc Evans Sanitary Jag	1

Mr. Ursus of Seymour, Ind., who voted for the man with the jag, did so at considerable expense. But let him tell it:

Dear Sir: What do you think I did? Cut out that fool coupon, pasted it and sent it to you. Then I took the Trib. and started where I had left off. When I came to Kitty Kelly's Little Garden and started to read about the film on Madison street that escaped the censors, I picked up a bit of interest. Right where the heart interest part was described I ran into the cut-out, the back of your coupon. You could have put it somewhere else. Either mail me another paper of March 23 or tell me in your own words the climax to the Kitty Kelly story.

Several of the weaker clubs in the Pacific Coast league sincerely wish that the Sox Yannigans would join the league.

NEW TRIER WINS PREP SWIM TITLE

BY PREP.

The team representing New Trier Township High school yesterday clinched the championship of the Chicago Suburban High School Swimming league by defeating the Evanston High school aggregation in the latter's pool, 33 to 27. Weld of the winning team broke the league record in the 100 yard breast stroke by swimming the distance in 1:20 2-5. The former record of 1:22 was held by Weld.

The victorious team will go to Milwaukee Wednesday to meet the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. natators in a dual meet, and on the following night they will clash with the Sheboygan High school team in the latter's pool. Summaries:

Fancy diving—Won by Gould, Evanston; Allen, New Trier, second; Stafford, New Trier, third.

C. A. A. TANK ME[N] BEAT HAMILTON[S] BY 41-17 SCOR[E]

Victory of Huszagh Over Brow[ne] In Century Features the Water Meet.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

In a dual swimming meet featured by the close race between Kenneth Huszagh of the C. A. A. and Clement Browne of the Hamilton club, swimmers representing the Cherry Circle organization defeated the Dearborn street natators last night in the C. A. A. pool, 41 to 17.

As expected the 100 yard clash between Huszagh and Browne was the tightest event of the meeting. The Cherry Circle swimmer got away to a good start and at the end of the first length led by a good two yards. He maintained this advantage for three-quarters of the distance, when Browne began to cut down the lead. He gradually narrowed the gap until he was a scant foot behind at the finish. Huszagh swam the distance in :59.

Plunge to Princell.

Another creditable performance was registered by B. H. Princell of the Hamilton club, who won the plunge for distance by negotiating the distance of the tank, sixty feet, in :21 1-5. J. P. Lichter of the C. A. A. traveled the full length in [...]

Because of his victory in the 220 yard swim, which he won easily, and his taking of second place in the century, Clement Browne of the losing team was the individual star with eight points. In addition he swam a good race on the last lap of the relay race, which was won by the Cherry Circle team by three yards.

Summary of Events.

Plunge for distance—Won by Princell, Hamilton club; Lichter, C. A. A., second; B. W[...], C. A. A., third. Distance—60 feet in 0:21 1-5.

I. A. C. NATATOR RETAINS TITLE

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 24.—[Special.]—H. J. Hebner of the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago tonight successfully defended his title of national A. A. U. 150 yard back stroke champion against Buckland of the University of Pittsburgh and Maisack of the Pittsburgh Athletic association. Hebner finished twenty-five feet ahead of Maisack in 1:54, one-fifth of a second slower than the world's record for the distance.

Hebner got away to a good start, and at the first turn, seventy-five feet, had a slight advantage over the other two men. This lead was increased to a yard on the third turn. At the end of the fourth lap Buckland was forced to give up. Hebner, leading by about six yards, in the next two laps the Chicago wonder increased his lead over Maisack, and at the finish was swimming strong.

Here's something you well-dressed men and young men want us to do.

A SPECIAL demonstration of Hart Schaffner & Marx Spring styles in suits and overcoats; the new varsity models for young men; the other smart styles for older men; all the lively, snappy ideas from the best designers.

We want you to see particularly the values in suits and overcoats at $20, $25, $30, $35.

They're better than they're priced; in spite of the high price of wool, twenty to thirty per cent advance, and going higher, we sell these goods as we bought them.

That's our general policy; to give our customers the benefit of our early contracts and large buying power; it's our creed; we couldn't do less, for our own sakes.

We have the greatest variety in fabrics ever seen here in overcoats and suits; foreign and domestic.

Young men are especially invited to this great style show of Hart Schaffner & Marx Spring goods.

OUR fifth floor boys' department is gaining the approval of all parents who visit it. The novelty suits for small boys are not only very attractive, but the moderate prices are an interesting feature. Norfolk suits for older boys, most of them with extra knickers for double service. New, attractive fabrics and patterns. Special values at $5.95, $6.75, $8.75, $10, $12, $15, $18.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

[Dee]land, Fla., March 24.—[Special.]—[...] facing defeat for several rounds [...]the Cubs exploded a bunch of grape [c]anister in the eighth inning and won [the] first game with Louisville, 4 to 2. It [was] a sand lot contest, as the playing used by the Colonels is brand new [and] has only the native soil of Florida [for] foundation. Base hits were diffi[cult] to get, because the soft diamond [slow]ed the ball and errors were excus[able] because of the pockets in the surface. [The] Cubs could do little with the bend[ers of] Jake Northrup, who once had a [trial] with the west siders and was dis[missed] in 1912. Northrup allowed three [hits in] five innings and the Cubs failed to [score]. Two of the hits came together in [the fo]urth and put runners on third and [second], but there were two out, and [Northr]up disposed of Archer with a long [fly].

[Cub] Supporters Fail Cheney.

[Chen]ey, who opposed Northrup on the [mound], escaped with only three hits off [him], but was double crossed by some of [his ba]ckers. Errors by Fisher and Mc[Larry], combined with two singles in the [fifth], made a pair of Louisville tallies. [Prev]ious to this Cheney pitched himself [into] a small puddle, when Weinberg [reache]d third base with nobody out in the [second] round. It required a single and [two wil]d throws by Cheney and Archer to [get th]e runner there. Saier disposed of [the] Colonel without letting in the run. [Chene]y struck out the next one, and a [fly] to Good closed the incident.

[Adams] went on in the sixth and kept the [Colonel]s from scoring again. Two hits [and a] walk were made off the tall young[ster]. He was given good backing, partic[ularly] by Fisher and Zim.

Rally with Two Out.

[Adams] relieved Northrup in the sixth and [the] Cubs could do nothing to him until [two m]en were out in the eighth. Then [Fish]er pulled a single into right and [scored] when Zim pushed a double to left. [Good] walked and Zim stole third, scor[ing on] Clemon's wild throw. With the [score] tied up the Cubs took the bit in [their] teeth. Williams and Hargrave [swat]ted a pair of three baggers into the [left] field corner for two more runs.

[The] battle was enlivened by a verbal [clash] between Bert Daniels of the Colonels [and] a local druggist, who started it by [kiddin]g the former Yankee outfielder [when] he struck out for the second time. [Danie]ls started for the open faced stand [in wh]ich his tormenter was perched. [The s]pectator in the front row reached [for] his hip pocket in a significant manner [and] Daniels showed his discretion by re[turnin]g to the coop. Then the peace[lovin]g spectator withdrew his hand from [his h]ip pocket with a new cob pipe in it.

Breaks Up Old Feud.

[Tha]t broke up amid loud laughter a feud [whi]ch dates back a fortnight, when the [dru]ggist sold Daniels a roll of films which [he] claimed were tainted with age and [whic]h the druggist claimed were perfect[ly g]ood if Daniels knew anything about a [cam]era.

[Th]e Cubs returned to Tampa directly [afte]r the game, but will come back to[mor]row for a second tilt on the same spot. [Man]ager Bresnahan remained in camp to [set] the pace for Vaughn in reducing [wei]ght and to keep the rookies busy. In [spit]e of the diminutiveness of the town of [Dee]land about 300 watched the game, [whi]ch more than paid car fare.

[M]UST ANNOUNCE BATTING ORDER

[N]ew York, March 24.—A new system of [ann]ouncing the official batting order will [be] used in the National league this year, [Sec]retary John A. Heydler announced to[nig]ht.

[H]eretofore only the names of the bat[tery] men have been called out by the um[pire].

In consequence of a request that an [offic]ial announcement of the batting or[der] of the teams be made to the press [prior] to the start of games, President [J.] K. Tener has promulgated a rule [maki]ng it incumbent upon the umpire in [charge] himself to announce or have it done [by a m]egaphone man, the official batting [order], names of players, and positions [they] play, just as they are obtained from [the m]anagers or captains prior to the [start] of the game," said Secretary Heyd[ler].

NO-HIT CONTEST FEATURES PLAY AT WHALE CAMP

Southpaws Shut Out Right Handed Team in Five Rounds.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Shreveport, La., March 24.—[Special.]—Two more combats of five innings each between the left handers and right handers featured the training of the Whales today and honors were even. The right handers took the morning contest, 1 to 0, while the lefts took the afternoon affair by the same count.

The pitching of the left handers in the afternoon was so strong that the rights did not get a base hit. Ad Brennan hurled them over for the first three innings. He was succeeded by Ray Ashenfelter, who set the rights down for the remaining two rounds.

Brown Works for Rights.

These southpaws were opposed by the veteran Mordecai Brown, who yielded five hits. A bunch of two in the fourth with an error produced the lone tally. Brownie wasn't attempting to throw curves and the opposition was walking up on his fast ball.

Hendrix and Rankin Johnson had quite a slab duel in the morning affair. Only three hits were made off Claude, while Rankin allowed four. Two off the latter were doubles bunched in the first inning and they produced one run.

It was the intention of the manager to send his athletes through nine innings in the afternoon, but a strong wind with a bit of chill in it caused him to call a halt at the end of five rounds.

Calls Off Sunday Game.

Manager Tinker is anxious to play regular ball games whenever possible, but there is little chance for any practice matches with outside teams. Today Tinker called off the proposed match with George Stovall's tribe, booked for Sunday in Marshall, because he does not care to trail over there again with his boys and thinks they will get more good and almost as much gate money by staging an exhibition here among themselves.

A year ago the Federals were able to get some good drill by playing the Centenary college nine here, but this year the collegians have a weak team and all thought of working against it was given up after one game.

Williams on Way Here.

Secretary Williams left today for Chicago following a summons to go and help make out a new schedule. He had been acting as umpire for the practice games and had become quite expert at the business. The players were afraid to kick on his decisions for fear he'd put them in upper berths or refuse to be around with the bank roll when they went broke.

Tinker has been requested by President Weeghman to cut his squad to twenty-one men, but is not in favor of it. He will be satisfied with a twenty-three limit, as he desires to carry six outfielders, six infielders, four catchers, and seven pitchers.

SOX YANNIGANS PILE UP 21 RUNS

Santa Paula, Cal., March 24.—[Special.]—The White Sox Yannigans walloped Santa Paula today, 21 to 6. The Chicago boys hit fiercely, getting twenty-two safeties. Bromwich, who met the Seconds here, made four bingles, three doubles, and one triple. Demmitt, Kuhn, Baker, and Walsh got thre apiece. Benz pitched the whole game and breezed along. The squad motored up from Los Angeles. The Seconds play the Angels tomorrow.

BY SAM WELLER.

Modesto, Cal., March 24.—[Special.]—Modesto's modest ball team loked so helpless before the sizzling speed and twisting curves of Reb Russell that Manager Rowland derricked the southpaw in the last inning today and let Lena Blackburne show how not to pitch. The change saved the locals a shutout, but the White Sox won, 8 to 1.

Two were out when Lena essayed the slab job. He pitched just three balls, every one of which was tagged hard. Two of them went for hits and drove home a run Breton put on the paths with a boot. The third went straight at Blackburne at a mile a minute pace, but Lena gamely stabbed the sphere and tossed out the hitter, thereby qualifying as a pretty good fielding pitcher.

Shortstop a Sou'paw.

Modesto sprung a surprise on the Sox in the person of Walter Golvin, who used to pastime with Quincy in the Three Eyes league. Mr. Golvin is of the southpaw persuasion, but he fitted in at short and helped keep down the Sox score with some pretty fielding stunts. Yet it is an axiom of baseball that a lefthander has no business on the infield except at first base. Golvin had nine chances, most of them difficult, and he took care of all but one.

Secretary O'Neil did not have a busy day of it, for there wasn't anything near $100 in the crowd that turned out. With no cheering multitude to spur them on the Hose made sport of the alleged battle after pounding across four runs in their first attack.

Russell Also Some Hitter.

In addition to his fancy pitching display Russell also dragged down the hitting honors for the day. He smoked three safeties to various parts of the field, one a home run which sailed high over the right field barrier. Things looked so soft Eddie Collins quit after a few rounds and gave Breton a chance to perform at second base.

Five hits broke up the game right at the start. Eddie and Shano of the Collins family began the riot, and three more swats by Felch, Brief, and Roth made the count four runs for the inning. A youthful southpaw named Owens was the victim.

Russell Swats Homer.

Russell came along later with his four ply drive; then the Sox rested on their bats until the seventh. A northpaw labeled Mobley was doing the hurling when that round happened, and three hits with a wild pitch yielded two markers. Roth and Daly singled, Russell contributed a double, and the wild heave let in the second run. Hits by Daly and Russell with a Modesto error produced the last Sox run in the eighth.

Three former Goofs were waiting when the first team got in this morning. Tommy Daly, Red Faber, and Jimmy Breton were the boys promoted. Daly went behind the bat and Breton also broke into the score books, but Faber wasn't called on. In trade for the three Rowland shipped Pitcher Ed Klepfer to Los Angeles tonight to help out the second team.

Tomorrow the Hose will exhibit at Oakland. Jim Scott will be sent against the coast leaguers.

TIP TOPS TO GET HOOSIER STARS

New York, March 24.—As the result of the transfer of the Indianapolis club of the Federal league to Newark and the return of the Kansas City team to that city a tangle involving players of the Brooklyn, Newark, and Kansas City clubs developed today. The makeup of all three clubs is likely to undergo a change when the league officials meet here on Friday to adopt a schedule.

According to prominent Federal league men Robert B. Ward of the Brooklyn club, as settlement of a debt of $10,000, arranged for the transfer of Pitcher Fred Falkenberg and Outfield Benny Kauff from Indianapolis to Brooklyn. In consequence when the league gives the Indianapolis team over to Harry Sinclair and Patrick Powers, the Newark owners, it will not include the two players named.

It was also learned that Nick Cullop, the pitcher now with the Brooklyn club, who was obtained in a trade with Kansas City after that franchise had been declared forfeited, refuses to return to Kansas City, as is stipulated in the agreement signed by the league officials. Word has been received in Newark that Edward Reulbach, signed by the Newark officials and now with the Kansas City squad, will not go to Kansas City. He insists that he signed to play in Newark and will go nowhere else.

Powers insisted that he would not accept the Indianapolis club unless it included Falkenburg and Kauff.

The contract for the construction of the Newark ball park, which calls for an expenditure of $80,000, was awarded today. Complete plans were filed with the building department of Harrison, N. J., where the grounds are located.

VIRGINIA TRIMS SENATORS.

KLING WILL NOT LEAD KAWFEDS

Kansas City, Mo., March 24.—John Kling, the baseball catcher, when shown a Chicago dispatch saying he might succeed George Stovall as manager of the Kansas City Federal club, said he would not play baseball this year.

"I remained out of the game last year," said Kling, "and I intend to do that again this season, unless something out of the ordinary turns up. I do not expect to be connected with the Federal league. I have had several offers from organized baseball, major league clubs at big money, but have decided to remain in Kansas City and look after my business interests."

D. J. Haff, attorney for the local club, said he knew of no efforts to turn the managerial reins of the club over to Kling.

Hoofeds, 13; Mercer, 6.

Valdosta, Ga., March 24.—The Indianapolis Federals defeated Mercer university, 13 to 6, here today. Kaiserling and Whitehouse pitched for Indianapolis.

Fort Smith, Ark., March 24.—All the catchers threatened to strike when Bob Wray, 7 feet 2 inches tall, reported at the training camp of the Fort Smith club of the Western association today and it was announced that he is to be tried out as a pitcher. If he makes good it is said he will be the largest pitcher in organized baseball. Wray has been working in a hardware store at Lenapah, Okla.

ARMOUR PLAYERS SWAMP MAROONS

Errors and Satt's Wildness Cause Defeat of Collegians, 9 to 1.

BY MAROON.

Coach John Schommer's Armour institute ball tossers had no difficulty in taking the Maroons into camp yesterday, carrying off the game, 9 to 1. The lopsided score followed frequent errors by the Midwayites, combined with a tendency on the part of Max Satt, the Maroon pitcher, to work himself into a hole.

Armour scored five in the first on three hits, a wild third strike, two passes by Satt, and errors in the infield. The tech school players counted twice in the fourth inning without a hit. The Maroons' solitary tally came in the fifth, when Chang scored after getting his second hit. The Chinese player was the only one of Page's crew to hit twice.

The Maroons will play again today against an alumni nine. Next Tuesday the Maroons and Armour will meet in their second game. Score:

GILMORE HINTS AT BIG SWITCH IN FED LINEUPS

Internal Strife Ended, Players Take Stage; Two Managers to Swap Jobs.

BY HANDY ANDY.

Internal strife in the Federal league ended yesterday with the dismissal of two lawsuits started within the ranks of the league and President Gilmore immediately announced there would be several changes in the various clubs that might affect the pennant race considerably.

Gilmore would not say what changes are to be made, but from another source it was learned that two managers in the circuit may change places. According to present plans Manager Bill Phillips of the old Indianapolis club will trade jobs with George Stovall, who led the Kansas City team last year.

Newark to Get Stovall.

Stovall is said to be "in bad" in the Kawfed town. Phillips has the prestige that goes with the leader of a pennant winning team, and the Kansas City people are anxious to have him take charge there. Stovall is considered a good drawing card and his transfer to Newark, where the old Hoofeds will perform, is expected to strengthen that club.

Gilmore announced that six or eight trades are pending in his circuit. The switch of managers is one of the deals. Gilmore expects to call a schedule meeting at some eastern city probably this week, and at that session all the trades will be arranged.

Stars for Brooklyn Team.

One detail in connection with the formal transfer of the Indianapolis franchise to Newark gave added weight to the rumor that the league intends to strengthen its Brooklyn club materially to bid for New York patronage. In the wire to Manager Phillips at the Hoofed training camp in Valdosta, Ga., it was stated that Benny Kauff and Cy Falkenberg, two of the real stars of the league, would not go to Newark. It is generally believed both will be handed over to the Wards of Brooklyn. There has been no announcement of the source of the money with which the Indianapolis franchise was purchased, but indications are the Wards put considerable cash in the deal and are to get Kauff and Falkenberg in return.

With the filing of the stipulation agreed on by the league and the Kansas City backers, the suit before Judge Baldwin was closed yesterday morning. The court declared there was no necessity of his rendering a decision. Attorney Clarence E. Eldridge, representing the Kawfed crew, filed the necessary papers.

Withdraw Receiver Plea.

At Indianapolis the plea for a receiver for that club was withdrawn. Judge Pliny W. Bartholomew, who started the action, stated the sale of the franchise had protected the stockholders and there was no need for legal intervention.

Minor league club owners all over the country are bombarding Ban Johnson with telegrams asking the wherefore of Ban's statement that most of the little leagues ought to close up for a year to give their territory a chance to recuperate from the effects of the baseball war and the general business depression. The greater number of the magnates believe Johnson is absolutely correct in his review of the situation, but they fear the announcement, coming from such a source, will work havoc with the leagues which do try to play through the season.

VIEWLAW TAKES BIG RACE.

London, March 24.—Viewlaw, the favorite, won the Lincolnshire handicap, the first big event of the British flat racing season. Lord Annandale and Polycrates were second and third, respectively. Twenty-three horses ran. The Lincolnshire handicap of 1,500 sovereigns is for 3 year olds and upwards, and was run over the straight mile course. The betting was 6 to 1 against Viewlaw, 8 to 1 against Lord Annandale, and 100 to 7 against Polycrates.

Sixteen Schools Enter Prep Race.

Sixteen schools will battle for the Chicago High School Baseball league championship, according to the schedule drawn yesterday by the faculty committee, managers, and captains. The league is divided into four sections, with four teams in each division. The winners will meet in a final round after the preliminary schedule is completed May 28.

The season will open May 10 in the central and western sections, and the following day in the northern and southern. The faculty board, headed by Col. Whigham, is making arrangements for grounds and selecting the umpire staff. Following is the schedule:

ST. LOUIS TEAM DEFEATS BROWNS

BY KEENE GARDINER.

In a stubbornly fought game featured by fast team play, clever blocking and checking the Columbia A. C. basketball team of St. Louis defeated the West Side Browns last night at West Side Y. M. C. A., 32 to 21.

The local quintet put up a stubborn game in the first period, which ended with the visitors on the long end of a 12 to 10 score. The height and weight of the Columbia players enabled them to gradually forge to the front in the closing minutes of the last half. The Columbia forwards, Zackritz and Vonback, each made five baskets. Hall of the Browns also made five ringers. Lineup:

Columbia A. C. [32].	B	F	T	P	West Side Browns [21].	B	F	P	T

Peoria, Ill., March 24.—[Special.]—Picking proved light in the minor events of the American Bowling congress tournament today.

Chicago's best was a new fourteenth place in the doubles when Jack Shannon and Stanley Kellogg shot 1,170, while Eddie Kelly of Toledo and a namesake only of the Chicago man, who tops the all-events, got 640 for ninth place in the singles. The five man teams on the early shift showed several Chicago teams in action, but they were only going easy.

Kellogg led the Chicago pair in their The El Roi Tans showed 2,712 for another high mark for Chicago, while the Frank J. Fosters of St. Louis got 2,708 for the final 900 average on the early shift.

LABOR CHIEFS HEAR BUILDING ROW EVIDENCE

Gompers and Others Sit as Jurors in Construction Agreement Case.

Officials of national labor organizations met yesterday in conference with the officials of Chicago unions. The question which brought President Samuel Gompers to Chicago is the uniform agreement submitted to the locals by the Building Construction Employers' association and approved by the Building Trades council.

The jury of national chiefs heard evidence against the agreement at the Hotel Morrison. Arrayed against the agreement were F. A. Lundmark of the electrical workers, A. Alex of the lathers, Charles W. Fry and Thomas Welsh of the steamfitters.

Fear Concentrated Power.

The lathers and the steamfitters are not in the Building Trades council and are waging a fierce fight against the uniform agreement. They charge it takes away the right to strike and puts too much power in the arbitration committee, composed of an equal number of contractors and labor union officials.

The chief supporter of the uniform agreement in the conference is President Simon O'Donnell of the Building Trades council. President O'Donnell worked for several years for the agreement, which the contractors' organization at last agreed to.

Points in Its Favor.

O'Donnell will urge before the conference today that it will place the position of the building worker on a safer basis than it ever has been in Chicago and do away with petty strikes which annoy and delay contractors and business owners. It will insure work for the men while differences between capital and labor are being arbitrated.

Union officials said after the day's conference that the uniform agreement offered the most difficult problem before organized labor in Chicago. Economic conditions, the possibility of a lockout, the cessation of all building, and the possible construction of several skyscrapers at once enter into the decision of the jury.

Girl Averts Panic at Theater Fire.

MISS JEANNETTE CONNELL

Jeanette Connell often has felt the thrill of a real fire in her capacity of pianist at the Bijou theater at 804 South Halsted street. But now she knows the difference between a real fire and a regular one. It was only yesterday she learnd.

There were 800 persons in the house when Manager George Weinberg mounted the stage.

"Please don't be alarmed," he told the audience. "There is a little fire a few doors away and the smoke is coming in through the doors."

Then he whispered to Jeanette that the theater was on fire. He told her to keep her head and play. Jeanette heard only the last word. The audience filed out to the stirring rhythm of "Tipperary Mary" and "O, for the Life of a Fireman."

Not until they reached the street and saw the firemen enter the building did the spectators know the little girl at the keyboard had averted a panic.

PILES OF BOOKS FOR U.S. TROOPS; MORE REQUIRED

Hundreds of Volumes Received for Honolulu Fight on Saloon Lure.

Books are plentiful these days around THE TRIBUNE office. They are arriving by mail, parcel post, express, and even freight.

The response to Gen. William H. Carter's appeal for books for our soldiers stationed at Honolulu has been prompt and generous. Hundreds of volumes have been received at THE TRIBUNE office since the campaign for collecting them was first announce on March 14. The campaign will continue for a period of three weeks.

Too many volumes cannot be sent in. There are over 6,000 men on the Honolulu station and it will take many more books fully to supply their needs.

Library in Bungalow.

It is Gen. Carter's desire to establish a library in the army post for the soldiers. Barracks are now nearing completion. Embraced in Gen. Carter's scheme is a large bungalow style reading-writing room.

It is to help stock its book shelves that THE TRIBUNE has published Gen. Carter's appeal. Popular fiction, books of educational value, short stories, etc., are desired.

To Compete with Saloons.

The purpose is to make the library, when established, so well equipped and so attractive that it will afford effective competition to the artifices of the saloonkeepers in the vicinity of the army post. Gen. Carter hopes to provide the soldiers with facilities for wholesome recreation and for improving the mind and at the same time to establish a high standard of physical efficiency by keeping the men away from saloons.

Send in your discarded books, new or old, anything you can spare, to room 310 Tribune building. THE TRIBUNE will see to the forwarding.

Witness at American Banking Association Hearing Testifies of Attempt to Reach Louis Frank.

John W. Worthington, head of the defunct American Banking association, completed his testimony yesterday before Referee in Bankruptcy Eastman. Worthington denied he ever said his wife had any share in the private bank. The referee was directed to ascertain the responsibility of Mrs. Worthington for the debts of the association. Another witness, David D. Stansbury, former assistant district attorney, quoted Louis W. Frank as saying a certain attorney for the creditors offered to give him $500 if he "testified right." Frank was cashier of the bank.

SMALL FARM PROJECT GETS GENERAL AID

Entire Equipment of Tools Donated and Everything Is Ready.

EXPERT TO BE PICKED TODAY.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

Most generous and inspiring is the interest displayed in the project to turn part of the vacant land belonging to the sanitary district into small farms for the unemployed.

Since the report on Sunday last the entire equipment of farm tools needed to plow and order the land has been completed and a contribution of hand tools for use by the individual gardeners has been received.

Montgomery Ward & Co. have generously offered to give to the City Gardens association a spring tooth harrow, a straight tooth harrow, and a land roller. These implements, together with the gang plow, donated by Sears, Roebuck & Co., and the disk harrow, which is the contribution of the International Harvester company, make up the necessary outfit for plowing the land, disking it, harrowing it to the desired condition of fineness, and, finally, rolling it into a compact seed bed.

Everything in Readiness.

Since the Consumers company has offered to loan the horses to pull the implements, everything is ready for the farmer to start on his preliminary work.

The farmer—who will live in the old cottage on the land contributed by the sanitary district—will be selected at a meeting of the directors of the City Gardens association to be held today, and will be ready to take hold of the work at once.

There have been a number of applications for the place from men whose records and credentials are good, and the directors—recognizing the importance of making this experiment a success—will exercise the greatest care in selecting a superintendent.

More Money Needed.

The wages of the farmer already have been guaranteed by the Garden club of Illinois, which has pledged $450 towards the fund. In addition there is a contribution of $100 made by THE TRIBUNE, and of $10 by Mrs. Leonora Z. Meder and $5 by Alfred Pearson. It will take about $400 more to cover the whole expense of the small farm project and contributions to that extent are invited.

It would of course make larger crops certain if the land could be well fertilized before plowing. A farming expert who has visited the land reports that the greatest improvement could be had by a liberal application of stable manure. Fortunately the tract selected lies along the banks of the drainage channel and can be reached by a small barge. If there is any friend of the project who wishes to donate a carload or more of manure it will be gladly received, but the offer must be made at once.

Aid for Unemployed.

For the benefit of the small farmers who are to be selected from among the unemployed families of the city, the Pull Easy Manufacturing company of Waukesha, Wis., has offered to contribute a dozen garden cultivators which can be worked by hand and will prove useful after the crops have begun to appear above the surface of the ground. There will be, of course, a great demand for other hand tools after the gardens have been started and there remains an opportunity to contribute spades, hoes, rakes, and other garden implements to the fund.

Applications for small farms continue to come in. "When you get started in your farm plan, I wish to be remembered," writes one man. "I have not worked in six months and have six children. Working an acre of land might prove just the thing for us all."

Pearson Praises Plan.

In sending in his contribution to the small farms fund Alfred Pearson writes: "Your suggestion of a fund for the small farm plan is one of the best things that could have been devised for the improvement of conditions among that class of worthy and self-respecting citizens who are willing to take hold of the idea, thus aiding themselves physically, mentally, and financially."

Vegetable seeds will be needed in sufficient quantities to plant some forty acres of land. If there are friends of the plan who wish to donate these seeds, their offers will be accepted, provided they are able to guarantee that their seeds are of the highest vitality and are free from weeds. The cultivation of the land will be most careful, and since the results are largely dependent on the quality of the seeds planted, they will all be carefully tested for germination before planting. This process will take several days and offers of seed should, therefore, be made within the next week.

Farm Idea Spreads.

Since the success of the Foster avenue small farm project became apparently assured, the idea has been taken up in other parts of the city. Considerable tracts of land are available in the vicinity of the stockyards and one large block including 5,000 city lots, is offered for small farm cultivation rent free by the agent who controls it. The last tract is located just south of One Hundred and Forty-seventh street.

It is not likely, however, that the City Gardens association will feel like undertaking any larger responsibility than that of managing the Foster avenue tract. If these other projects are put through—desirable as they all are—they must be managed by some other agency.

The Wooed Man, His Spiritual Adviser, and a Lady Friend

ONE OF THE YOUNG WOMEN FRIENDS OF DR. CLAFLIN

DR. HEBRON CLAFLIN

Hayes Hotel 77 Year Old Hero Shows Signs of Balking at Wedding.

The fates are beginning to close in on Dr. Hebron Claflin, and the 77 year old hero of many gallantries expressed himself yesterday as being not a little vexed about it.

Now that every one seems to be expecting him to get married, the doctor is not nearly so sure that he wants to. Not only is there an embarrassing number of candidates for the honor, but there are such an awful lot of people who have shown a sudden and eager interest in the match.

Lady Tennessee Cook Cables.

For example, there is Dr. Claflin's sister, Lady Tennessee Claflin Cook, who has cabled from London that she wants the wedding postponed until she can come and attend it. That message came the other day when Dr. Claflin was safely engaged to Mrs. Laura Kaufman Whitbeck, a Syracuse, N. Y., widow, but there have been developments since, so the situation there is a bit delicate.

Then there is Dr. George V. Cordingley, pastor of the Progressive Spiritual church, through whom Dr. Claflin's first wife has been sending spirit messages to the effect that "Laura" isn't the right woman at all, and that "Margaret," a 20 year old San Francisco girl, is the one the spirit world wants him to marry.

And finally there is Mrs. Whitbeck herself, who departed mysteriously from her home in Syracuse. Relatives said she was going to New York to meet Dr. Claflin there, but that she might—just might, mind you—be on her way back to Chicago.

Fine for Young Women.

Meanwhile Dr. Claflin spent the day at the Hayes hotel talking things over confidentially with two or three young women who declined to identify themselves, but were much interested. He seemed annoyed when a reporter showed a disposition to ask questions.

"Am I going to marry Mrs. Whitbeck?" he said. "Why, yes, yes, of course I am. She was here last week, but it took her just an hour to transact her business in Chicago, so she went back to Syracuse. We didn't quarrel about my financial affairs at all."

"When is the wedding to be?" asked the reporter.

The doctor waved his hands.

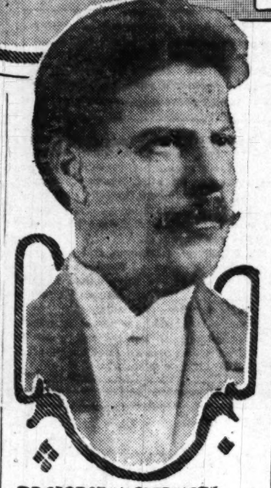

"Gracious, I don't know," he said. "Maybe five days, maybe five weeks, maybe—O, how can I tell? We are going to be married in New York and live at the Waldorf, and that's all there is to it."

Red Jacket Phantom Guide.

Red Jacket is the name of the phantom guide of Dr. Cordingly, the pastor says.

"Red Jacket sends the wonderful messages through me. His spirit hovers about me all the time," said Dr. Cordingly. "Through this beloved spirit I have been able to see beyond. Red Jacket communes with us in Balmoral park during the entire summer."

Red Jacket, who is 89 years deceased, spends his visible moments in the big gilt frame on the wall in Dr. Cordingly's parlor.

FALSE ALARM AT CHESTER.

Mrs. Elizabeth Healy's Slayer Was Not One Who Escaped Asylum.

There are two crazy Schultzes, both murderers, among the criminal insane wards of Illinois.

One of them is Robert Schultz, who killed a man in Chicago in 1912. It was he and not Richard Schultz, slayer of Mrs. Elizabeth Healy, who escaped from the state hospital for the criminal insane at Chester Monday night.

Richard Schultz was at Chester until a couple of months ago, when he was returned to Joliet. He is still in the penitentiary.

ASSERTS WOMAN'S COLLEGE IS RACE SUICIDE FACTOR.

Prof. Sprague Quotes Records of Eastern Schools to Show Big Decrease in Birth Rates.

Washington, D. C., March 24.—[Special.]—Women's colleges are one of the most dangerous factors hastening race suicide in the United States, according to Robert J. Sprague, professor of economics and sociology in the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst, who makes a statistical study of the problem in today's issue of the Journal of Heredity.

In the early days of Mount Holyoke, the oldest great women's college in New England, 85 per cent of the graduates married, but nowadays only two-fifths of them do so, and these bear less than two children each.

Only one-third of the Bryn Mawr graduates have married, and they have borne one-third of a child each, speaking statistically, and not counting graduates of the last fifteen years.

More than one-half of the Vassar graduates are unmarried, and those who do marry bear less than two children. Only a third of the girls who have graduated at Wellesley during the last quarter century have married, and they have borne only one child apiece.

BOARD TO SPEND $800,000 ON NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

Bids Opened on Thorp School at Berteau and Lockwood—$500,000 at Lake View.

Almost $800,000 worth of building will be started by the board of education within a few weeks. Bids were opened on contracts to erect the Ole A Thorp school at Berteau and Lockwood avenues, and the architect advertised for bids for the addition to the Lake View High school.

The Thorp school is to cost $265,000, and work will commence as soon as the board awards the contracts at its meeting on Wednesday. The Lake View addition is a $500,000 job, and the bids must be in in two weeks.

The school will be of thirty-two rooms, of the Herzl school type.

Supt. Ella Flagg Young instructed principals to discontinue the practice of canvassing homes in the school neighborhood for old papers to sell in order to buy supplies for the school. The objection raised was that disease might be spread.

COUNT POSTAL VOTE TODAY.

River Forest Primary Will Be Decided on 400 Ballots Out of 1,400 Sent Out.

The counting of 400 votes cast in a postcard primary for candidates for nomination in River Forest will begin this evening. Fourteen hundred cards were sent to the voters several days ago, and up to last night 400 had been returned. The primary will close this evening.

TORNADO BRINGS $25,000 CAPTURE

Scatters Stolen Chicago Bills and Mail Clerk Finally Is Arrested.

The fag end of the tornado which swept through Omaha, Neb., on March 23, 1913, had an echo yesterday in the arrest in Kansas City of Charles Oldfield, a railway mail clerk.

Oldfield, who is the son of a Kansas Socialist politician, is charged with having stolen $25,000 in bank notes shipped from the Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago to the First National bank of Pasadena, Cal., in the spring of 1912.

"Pot of Gold Mystery."

Secret service men and postoffice inspectors conducted a long investigation without result. Then a year later along came the tornado. The day after the storm, the edge of which passed through Leavenworth, Kan., residents of South Leavenworth began picking up $10 and $20 bills on the streets. Bills of large denominations had been scattered in every direction.

Residents of nearby towns heard of the "pot of gold mystery" and came flocking to Leavenworth in the hope of finding money in the streets.

Then began the job of tracing the money. Three mail clerks on the route from Kansas City to Lajunta were placed under observation of postoffice inspectors, with suspicion pointing strongly to Oldfield.

"The Dead Giveaway."

This suspicion became stronger when Oldfield spent $7,000 in one lump for the residence of former United States Senator Warner in Kansas City. The inspectors were now convinced they were on the right track, but they decided to wait for more evidence. It soon came. Oldfield, probably thinking he was safe, began spending other large sums, records of which were obtained by the federal investigators.

Accordingly, when the federal statute of limitations had only ten days more to run, Oldfield was arrested yesterday and arrangements were made for a special federal grand jury to be summoned to Kansas City so an indictment might be returned within a week.

EILEEN CHRISTOPHER WINS $8,840 IN NEW ORLEANS SUIT

Gets Judgment Only for Claims Admitted by Defense in $42,000 Action Against Priest.

Mrs. Eileen Christopher of Chicago was awarded judgment of $8,840 in New Orleans yesterday in her celebrated suit against Father Rouge. She sued to recover $42,000. The judgment she obtained was for money which Father Rouge's attorneys admitted was due her.

The suit was brought under the name of Juanita M. Roth. She first attempted criminal action, but her case was dropped by the grand jury after it was disclosed that the name of Juanita M. Roth was fictitious. The litigant attempted to conceal her identity as Eileen Christopher of "brick trust" fame. She now is married, she says, to Alonzo Franz.

Mrs. Christopher comes out loser in the suit, her expenditures in New Orleans being considerably in access of the sum regained. She is believed to be in Chicago, but could not be located last night.

HUNT SLAYER OF WOMAN.

Detectives Search for Man They Believe Can Throw Light on Kovich Murder.

Six detectives searched saloons and poolrooms of the northwest side last night in an effort to find Tony Lazarivitch, whom they believe can throw some light on the murder of 19 year old Annie Kovich, who was found strangled in her bed yesterday morning. She lived with her husband at 2361 Clybourn avenue. Kovich told the police $31 and his gold watch were missing.

TORN SILK GOWN SHOWN IN COURT

"Queen of Little Poland" Says Dr. Luehr Attacked Her in Office.

The wreck of the dress which Anna Klimaszewski wore the night of Jan. 17, when she visited Dr. Edward Luehr's office at 9141 Houston avenue, was introduced in evidence yesterday in the South Chicago court, where Anna is pressing a charge of disorderly conduct against the physician.

Torn, wrinkled, and ripped, the silken exhibit was offered in corroboration of the girl's assertion that Dr. Luehr, failing to establish an entente cordiale in twentieth century style, turned cave man.

"Queen of Little Poland."

Anna, who—being infinitely easier to look at than her name is to say—is known as the "Queen of Little Poland," was her own star witness.

"I went to Dr. Luehr's office to get medicine for my mother," she testified. "The doctor held my hand and then got a grip on my wrist and tried to put his arm around my waist. There was a couch in the office, and he forced me toward it. I was too frightened to cry for help. I just kept saying as loud as I could: 'I want to go home.'

"But all the doors of the office were closed and no one heard. I was wearing a green silk dress. Dr. Luehr tore it.

"The shock to my nerves was so great that I had to stay in bed for three days."

Fiance on Stand.

Joseph Kosłowski, the "Queen's" fiancé, was put on the stand.

"I went to the doctor's office the Sunday after the trouble," he testified. "I asked him what he meant by insulting my sweetheart. He scratched his head and at last said he remembered the incident. He said she had acted 'sporty' and had been 'too full of life and action.'

"He said Anna tickled him on the hand, but I don't believe that. When I insisted that he do something to square himself, he cried: 'My God, what am I up against?'"

Judge Robinson will continue the hearing this morning.

LE ROY BACCHUS "BROKE," RESULT OF LORIMER CRASH

Schedules Liabilities of $58,888 and Assets of $230 in Voluntary Petition.

The crash of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank dragged LeRoy L. Bacchus of Park Ridge into bankruptcy yesterday. Mr. Bacchus, who was vice president of the institution, scheduled liabilities of $58,888 and assets of $230.

He owns considerable stock in Lorimer-Munday ventures which he lists as of "no value." He mentioned 190 shares in the La Salle street bank, ten shares in the Illinois State bank, and ten shares in the Illinois Louisiana Land company.

Mr. Bucchus was head of the state banking department under former Gov. Deneen. He was discharged when State Auditor Brady came into office. This is said to have incurred the displeasure of William Lorimer.

GARY PLANTS NEAR CAPACITY

Blast Furnaces Working Full Time and Other Mills Are Close to Normal.

Gary, Ind., March 24.—The United States Steel corporation mills at Gary were today working at from 80 to 85 per cent capacity. Six of eight of the huge blast furnaces are working full time. Fifteen hundred men have been added to the payrolls here since Feb. 1, making a total of 6,200 men now employed in turning out orders which it will take months to fill. Steel officials said there would be an increase in output from now on.

FERRY HIT HARD BY COUNCILMEN FOR JITNEY ZEAL

Too Interested In Bus Line and Wasting Money, He Is Bluntly Told.

GETS OUTSIDE HIS SPHERE.

Montague Ferry, commissioner of public service, was given a severe verbal spanking yesterday by members of the council committee on local transportation.

Mr. Ferry has been criticized on previous occasions, but the oral chastisement this time was more severe than any of its predecessors. He was told that he was spending city time on subjects that were none of his business, that he was wasting city funds, and that he showed what seemed to be an undue interest in getting motor bus lines into operation.

The committee was discussing the motor bus question. Several of the aldermen heartily indorsed proposals for boulevard service, but the discussion of the merits of the plan was submerged by resentment of the activities of Commissioner Ferry.

Admits Aid of Outsider.

Ald. Henry D. Capitain started it by forcing Ferry to admit that the ordinance regulating busses which he sent to the council apparently as his own was in reality the work of S. E. Lyon, president of the Chicago Automobile Transportation company.

"I don't believe it's proper for a department head to introduce an ordinance of that sort," said the alderman. "I don't believe he should work in that way. I think it's a grave mistake. This is a case of a city employe's working altogether too much outside the city hall. This department has spent $80,000 so far, and there is very little to show for it. Much of it has gone for advertising. It's time we stopped such waste.

"The interest shown by the department head in this subject is more than interesting," said Ald. S. S. Walkowiak. "I don't understand why Ferry should take such an interest in getting signatures for the establishment of a motor bus line. He's evidently out of his sphere."

Done on "Overtime."

Ferry said most of the work in connection with bus transportation had been done on "overtime."

"It looks as though this gentleman wanted to run the council," said Ald. John Kjellander. "He complained to me he wasn't getting enough publicity. He isn't employed to get publicity but to give us information."

EVIDENCE MANUFACTURED FOR TERRE HAUTE MEN.

Police Chief Testifies He Prepared Exhibits at the Order of Mayor Roberts.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 24.—That evidence had been manufactured for the use of the defense in the trial in United States District court here of the Terre Haute election case was the testimony today of Edward Holler, chief of police, who has pleaded guilty. Holler, who testified some days ago regarding registration, was recalled today to relate his part in election day activities.

He said, at the request of Mayor Roberts he had prepared a number of exhibits, which were to be used in defense of Roberts and others, and had some in his pocket, but he was not requested to produce them.

Roberts, Sheriff Dennis Shea, City Judge Thomas Smith, and Street Inspector Alexander Aczel, alias Steel, spent tonight in jail, the result of their failure to give additional bonds of $5,000 each on charges preferred by Judge Anderson of attempting to corrupt government witnesses. Roberts presented a bond for the approval of Judge Anderson at the adjournment of court, but consideration was put off until tomorrow.

NINE MARBLES CUT FROM STOMACH OF JINGLING DOG.

"Buster" Who Made Odd Noise in Walking Back Home Again After Losing Assortment of Spheres.

"Buster" is back at home again, romping and feeling much lighter in spirits and weight. "Buster" is a prize Boston terrier belonging to J. Nahser of 7947 South Peoria street. One of the dog's tricks is to retrieve a ball thrown by 4 year old Earl Nahser.

Sometime ago Earl and "Buster" began playing marbles. Earl would throw one and "Buster" would tear through the house after it. But somehow "Buster" never brought them back.

Then it was noticed that when "Buster" ran through the house he made an odd sound, like pieces of broken china jingling. One day Mr. Nahser rubbed "Buster's" stomach. It jingled.

Veterinarian T. A. Kragness was called in and opened the dog's stomach. He removed nine marbles.

HE CLIPS GIRL'S TRESSES.

West Suburb's Residents Seek Tall Man Who Nips 'Em Off with Scissors.

Residents of La Grange, Downers Grove, and Naperville are looking for a tall, dark man who carries a large pair of scissors. Last night he cut the tresses of Miss Esther Peterson of Naperville and escaped. It is said that he has taken the hair of girls in other suburbs along the Burlington road also.

Shows Big Sums Paid to Stars by Chicago Opera Co.

Litigation After a Season's Loss of $246,136 Brings Out Salary List.

$30,000 TO CAMPANINI

New York, March 24.—Those who are familiar with operatic conditions and realities are gasping at the salary list of the Chicago Grand Opera company, now accessible because of litigation in which it is involved.

When the company was first founded it had two directors, Andreas Dippel and Cleofonte Campanini. Cleofonte Campanini drew $30,000 and Andreas Dippel $22,500. Bernhard Ulrich, in the delicate phrase of the French, touched $10,000 for the season. Julius Daiber also assisted the weary to the tune of $3,500. Thus, before a note had been sung, $66,500 of the guarantors' money had vanished.

Declared Not Overpaid.

The Musical Courier, whence the list of salaries is derived, says that the artists were not overpaid, and then goes on to state that the loss on the season of 1910-'11 amounted to the figure of $246,136.

Here are the salaries as paid at one time or another:

PRIVATE BANK UNDER QUIZ.

Peter M. Kaitis Depositary Subject of U. S. Scrutiny as Patrons Sue.

Another private banker, Peter M. Kaitis of 1607 North Ashland avenue, became the subject of federal scrutiny yesterday. An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Kaitis by three depositors. Their claims are: Andrew Kleiins, $385; Joseph Gudelis, $300, and Paul Jurgelionis, $685. The "bank" is now in the possession of the bailiff of the municipal court in execution of a judgment for $450. Judge Carpenter entered an order restraining the bailiff from selling the assets. Kaitis left town Feb. 17, according to the attorney.

STATE CATTLE BOARD DEALS DUE FOR AIRING

Padded Expense Accounts, Joy Rides Are Hinted; Dunne Jobs In Peril.

DR. DYSON MAY BE HIT.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—[Special.]—The decision of the Republican caucus to withhold confirmation of the appointments made by Gov. Dunne during the last two years pending an investigation indicates a thorough airing of the transactions of the board of live stock commissioners.

There have been so many rumors of alleged graft and misconduct by members of this board it became certain today that if the appointments on the board were confirmed an investigation would be asked in both the house and senate, and even perhaps by Gov. Dunne.

These Jobs in Peril.

The appointments on the live stock board which are to be held up tomorrow are:

B. J. Shanley of Ottawa, a political follower of Lee O'Neil Browne, chairman.

Rudolph M. Patterson of Chicago, Lorimer Republican.

Dr. L. F. Brown of Galesburg, a veterinarian.

The appointment of Dr. O. E. Dyson as state veterinarian also is placed in the balance.

One of the principal factors in the opposition to the live stock board is that it was turned over to Lee O'Neil Browne as his bit of patronage. Chairman Shanley and Commissioner Patterson are said to have strong connections.

Reports of padded expense accounts, joy rides on state money, manipulation of large contracts, incompetency in handling the foot and mouth outbreak, actions favorable to the large packing interests in Chicago, and similar charges have been made unofficially by various members of the legislature.

The open stand against the live stock board doubtless would have been made several days ago but for the fear it would influence immediate action on the emergency appropriation to reimburse the stock raisers whose cattle were killed in the foot and mouth campaign.

Mysterious Taxi Voucher.

A mysterious expense voucher which may be investigated is that of the Springfield Taxi company for $6.75, for taxi service for some one connected with the livestock commission on Dec. 17, 1914. The statement of this account, on file with the state auditor, reads:

"Dec. 17 (4), statehouse to 837 South fourth $1.25
"Dec. 17 (4), 837 South Fourth to statehouse 1.25
"Dec. 17 (5), statehouse to 123 North Eighth 1.50
"Dec. 17 (5), 123 North Eighth to St. Nick 1.50
"Dec. 21 (5), statehouse to St. Nick.. 1.25

There seems to be a mystery about this account, which was O. K'd by Chairman Shanley.

Changed on Ledger.

Inquiry at the Springfield Taxi company's office shows the items from the statehouses to 123 North Eighth street and from that address back to the St. Nicholas hotel have been changed on the company's ledger to read from the statehouse to the hotel and from the hotel to the statehouse.

Manager Smith of the taxi company said he could not explain how different destinations appear on the statement on file in the auditor's office and those named in his ledger.

The address, 123 North Eighth street, is that of an alleged resort run by Mme. Patton. She is known as the "Vic" Shaw of Springfield. While the expense voucher for this supposed "joy ride" was O. K.'d by Chairman Shanley, the records in the auditor's office and those of the taxi company do not show who the persons in the party were.

Among the rumors the senate committee likely will investigate has to do with a $4,000 viaduct constructed on the roadway to the hog serum plant north of this city.

Sublets Grading Work.

R. F. Egan, a leading Democratic politician of Springfield, was paid for this job. Egan figures on the grading for the viaduct were 55 cents per yard. He sublet the job to Charles E. Vanwormer at 35 cents per yards, according to report. It is said Vanwormer sublet the work at 25 cents per yard. The "haul" in this grading work was less than 100 yards.

The fact Egan was given the contract does not mean much except as it is coupled with the report the proceedings of the live stock board do not show that bids for this work were advertised for and opened before the whole board as prescribed by law.

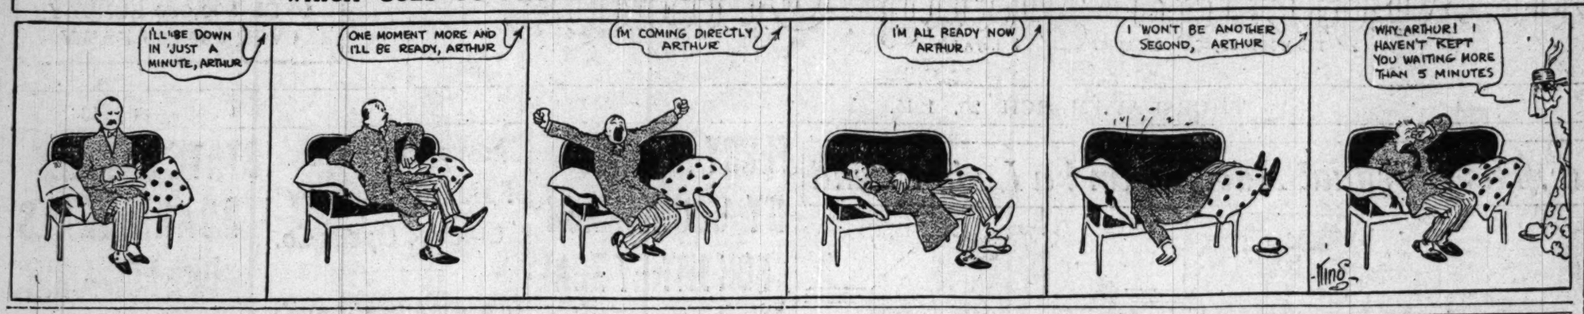

The files in State Auditor Brady's office show proposals from Egan, Vanwormer, and J. O. Patterson. It is hinted these proposals and the contract said to have been made with Egan were placed in the files of the live stock board after the viaduct had been completed.

Eye Auto Truck Purchase.

Those who seek an investigation of the board's transactions say they will ask for an inquiry into the purchase of an automobile truck by the board in October, 1913, from George H. Smith of Ottawa, Ill., said to be a business partner of Chairman Shanley. The truck had been used for several months at Ottawa before being turned over to the state at a price of $832.50.

The cost of operating the hog serum laboratory under the direction of State Veterinarian O. E. Dyson also will come up for investigation.

WHICH GOES TO PROVE THAT SOME WOMEN ARE ALSO BORN FIBBERS.

"ARE YOU A MASON?"
Famous Players.

Frank Perry	John Barrymore
Helen Perry	Helen Freeman
Her Mother	Ida Waterman
Her Father	Mr. Dickson
Trevor	Harold Lockwood

BY MAE TINEE.

IT'S a vurr' drunk, vurr' much abused and wholly ludicrous John Barrymore at the Ziegfeld this week in the Famous Players' screen adaptation of Leo Dietrichten's farce "Are You a Mason?" From the moment at the beginning of the picture when he sneezes himself helplessly and despairingly into your affections, you are for him. Drunk or sober you approve of him—disapprovingly perhaps, but, undoubtedly. "Are You a Mason" is just another demonstration of the sheer power of personality.

You first see Mr. Barrymore as a dashing young married man out of whom all the dash has been taken by the unwelcome advent of la grippe. His pretty wife is sorry for him but she does not feel that his condition is serious enough to warrant her remaining away from her mother's where she has promised to go for the night—it being mother's birthday.

She bids him a fond farewell and he sneezes her into a cab and returns mournfully to the house where he is blanketed and sprayed and dosed and mustard-bathed by the faithful Nora who has had instructions from her departed mistress. As he sits swathed in blankets there enters a friend.

"What you need," the worthy friend says — after the manner, alas, of everyman's friends—"Is just a convivial atmosphere and a little rock and rye!"

Whereupon Perry—after the manner of most Everyman, yields, is bundled up and taken to the club, from which he emerges in the wee sma' hours, in a condition of mind which leads him to tenderly clothe a barren lady statue in his outer garments—old stuff—sit on a convenient curbstone and weep on the breast of his equally affected friend, who took him out and is now taking him home—chase a keyhole around the wall and finally go to sleep in the apartment of a neighbor. His dreams are rudely shattered by the shrieks of the neighbor—who is feminine—and he has just sense enough left to hurtle out of a back door and make a getaway, pursued by police and detectives.

His lucky star causes him to fall from a fence onto the head of Trevor, a friend and the sweetheart of his wife's sister. In this part, girls, you have Mr. Lockwood and he's adorable! Trevor sends him home.

Now's the time in the picture when the laughs come. Mr. Barrymore is funny—just as funny as he can be. He plays the piano on the typewriter and yodels aloud, delightedly. He chases his bed and, finally catches it, whereupon he goes to sleep and awakens to find that the faithful Nora, suspecting that all is not as it should be in the life of a perfect married man, has written to Helen to come home. She, in receipt of the queer letter he has written to her while pretending to play the piano, and thrown out of the window to a passerby to mail—thinks it is time. She sends word she is coming, whereupon Perry in a panic, calls on the friend who took him out. He chances to let drop the bit of information that his wife has wished to have him become a Mason. Friend has a bright idea.

"Say you have!" he exclaims. "Say you were out being initiated last night." The idea takes.

Enter Mrs. Perry and her family consisting of mother, father and two sisters. Father, hearing that son-in-law has become a Mason is uneasy as he has been getting out nights to play poker on the strength of the assertion that he is Grand Master. Perry, hearing that father is a Mason privately throws a fit and publicly mimics all his father's movements—father doing the same by him—the idea being that neither shall find out the other is a fake.

This all, of course brings about endless complications.

Miss Freeman as the young wife is pretty and pleasing always and Mr. Dickson as the father could hardly be improved upon.

The bill is, as usual a double header, the Oz Film company presenting Frank Baum's "Wizard of Oz" filmed. If there are any kiddies at your house be sure and take them to see this picture. They'll enjoy every minute of it. And you'll like it yourself—that is, if there's any of the child left in you, and you'll feel better afterwards, for as I heard a little girl say the other day:

"Giggles is good for grown-ups!"

"THE FIGHT."
World.

Jane Thomas	Margaret Wycherly
Vance, misanthrope	John E. Kellerd
Dr. Root	Albert Gran
Mae, the ferret	Katherine La Salle

"I WONDER what they call it 'The Fight' for?" a woman said to a man as they stood in the lobby of the La Salle viewing the billboards showing stills of the picturization by George W. Lederer of Bayard Veiller's play. Her companion remarked succinctly:

"Because there's fights in it, I reckon."

He reckoned right. There "is" fights and lots of them. If bloody warfare isn't being waged in one scene you can pretty nearly wager you'll see it in the next. The piece is full of polished villains and villains in the rough.

And there's an arch-villain, Vance, who roams around in his home connected by underground passages with a disorderly house that he manipulates, a dance hall and, I believe, a gambling joint.

At the time the play opens Mr. Vance and all his satellites, male and female, are bending their versatile energies toward just one end—to keep Jane Thomas from becoming mayor of the city, knowing—grr-rr-rrr—deep down in their throats, that with her once in the mayor's chair their haunts will be closed and they sent about their business—which is none at all—weeping and g-g-gnashing their teeth.

You see—? Something must be done! What shall it be? Ha! Mr. Vance, sitting crouched in his lair, smoking and petting his collie, has a thought! Jane Thomas shall be inveigled to a question-chle roadhouse, kissed by a crook and flash lighted in the act. Presto!

No sooner thought than arranged. Mr. Vance chuckling unholily concocts a note which he sends to Miss Thomas, advising her as a friend to investigate conditions at the roadhouse that night. She goes with her trusty doctor friend.

But they have reckoned without Mae, the ferret. Once Miss Thomas was kind to her and she is a rara avis that never forgets. No matter where anything is being hatched up, Mae is there. Consequently she knows all about the flashlight affair—not a bad name for a scenario, is it—and she beats it for the roadhouse, where she manages to get into the private dining room, where she hastily changes cloaks and bonnets with the would-be mayoress, hustles her out the window, and resigns herself to the embrace of the crook, who slips in, raises his hand like a crossing policeman—it's a signal—and bestows a kiss on her fair cheek. The doctor? O, he was called out of the room to the telephone.

You can imagine Mr. Vance when he sees that picture, girls!

Which goes to show the kind of thing Miss Thomas is up against. She owns a bank. Villains spread rumors it is about to fail and a run ensues.

She goes boldly into the haunts of Vance to rescue a girl she hears one of his women has lured there—has a terrible time with him, but finally escapes.

At last, however, by her knowledge of a check forged on her bank by the young son of one of her enemies, she turns the tables—gives a good story to the newspapers and is elected mayor, whereat all the good citizens rush in a body to Vance's, which they demolish with one blow as it were; Vance falls down the stairs of his own underground passageway and dies in horrible agony, while the collie, wagging its tail vociferously in appreciation of this new kind of game, paws him over.

It's a perfectly beautiful dog.

More Donations to Pastors' Fund.

N. W. Harris of Chicago sent from California to the Rev. C. A. Kelley, field secretary of the endowment fund of the Rock river conference, $1,000 for the fund.

Announcement of the will of the late Dr. John K. McCulloch of Baltimore, which left to the Preachers' Aid society of the Pennsylvania conference $19,000, was also made.

FACE BROKE OUT WITH LARGE PIMPLES

Also Blackheads. Itched. Scratched Till Burned Like Fire. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Not a Pimple or Blackhead on Face Now.

Armour, S. Dakota.—"About a year ago pimples and blackheads began to break out on my face. The pimples were large and red and would fester over night. Sometimes my face would itch so that I would scratch it till it burned like fire. Then the pimples would irritate and be sore. Many times during the night I would wake and my face would burn. Then I would have to get up and cool it off.

"I tried different tonics for my blood but nothing helped me. I tried cold creams, soaps and salves but everything was in vain. I then began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my face improved in two days. First I washed my face in hot water with Cuticura Soap and then I would apply the Ointment. There is not a pimple or blackhead to be seen on my face now." (Signed) Miss Matilda Kotrous, June 5, '14.

Keep your face young by daily use of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

Fashions from London

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—The statement made a few weeks ago to the effect that military styles were on the wane, and that in a short time they would be no more has been met with a storm of disapproval on all sides. Women have declared they would not give them up and couturiers have continued to turn out this style garments along all lines.

Indeed, Cheruit and Robert have infused their enthusiasm for the military into afternoon frocks. One gown I saw which fairly shrieked of the battle line was a copy of a striped gown of the time of the French revolution. There was a voluminous skirt of blue and white striped silk, a tiny, tight fitting bodice, and a soft, frilly kerchief of white. Again in a suit I saw the flare of France's red, white, and blue stripes, the sway of a stunning gold tassel, and the sharp glitter of metal buttons.

Cheruit is receiving many of his inspirations from the Opera Comique, where there have been some patriotic productions brought forth, all dedicated, of course, to the spirit. So it is from this fount that many of our latest fashions have come. A Jenny suit, which is called "La Vivandiere," and which is being imitated here in many manifestations, is of blue faille. Its short, zouave effect jacket closes down the front with black silk buttons, and when it is open reveals a blouse of tri-colored silk. Not all military, however, for the lower part of the blouse sleeve is of tiny organdy ruffles, caught at the wrist with bands of the same faille silk.

Army cloth, too, which has been one of the popular materials of the moment these last months, is being made up in lighter weight and being even more abundantly trimmed with braid and buttons than ever. When braids and buttons are applied in soldierly motifs and set all the way down the coat and on the cuffs also, the warlike note is increased, while the broad patent leather belt adds still a further suggestion of fifes and drums.

A simple street suit in fine whipcord, with the military note struck by a patent leather belt and buttons in pewter rims.

Good Appearance Worth While.

Lillian Russell

[Copyright: 1915: By Lillian Russell.]

YOU can write out a check to pay for insurance of practically every variety, but it is not so easy to secure a policy which will insure you against the loss of an attractive personal appearance. Whether you are a man or a woman, this is one of your most valuable assets. It makes the first impression, which usually determines whether or not you will have a chance to make a second. The possibility of the destruction of your property by fire is remote. The chance of robbers stealing your jewels and valuables is not a big one. You guard against fire and you take precautions against the burglar. If you travel you insure against accident. You pay for insurance to protect you when you are sick and for the benefit of those you leave behind you when you die. In fact, you purchase insurance of practically every sort—but no policies are issued to cover your personal appearance, which is a great asset. You are the only guardian of your person so far as its appearance is concerned. It remains for you to take the precautions and exert efforts which will insure an attractive presence not only for a day but for a lifetime. And since it is to be so lasting, it must be deep rooted.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

HARRIET D.: Many persons are afflicted with a red nose in cold weather. It may be caused from internal trouble or from catarrh. Avoid tight clothing and spicy and rich foods. Bathe the nose every day in witch hazel or alcohol. I think it would be well for you to consult a physician regarding the pimples which form under the skin of the nose. I shall be happy to send you formula for French tonic for eyebrows if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

TIMID: I don't see why you can't be just as charming as your more fortunate sisters. Cultivate a graceful poise of the body. Don't slouch along. Have your feet well dressed. Every one loves to see a pretty well shaped foot peeping out from the bottom of a skirt. Living and dressing is an art. Don't hide within yourself. You want to be liked and you should be eager to charm and fascinate. The secret of charm is in giving out what one really feels and in being one's own true self.

ANXIOUS: I am sorry, but I have no cream for removing moles. The most effective and the safest way to have a mole removed is by electricity. Do not tamper with it yourself, as when irritated malignant growths are liable to result.

THE GARDENER AT WORK

The Garden Editor will give expert advice on planning gardens, organizing garden clubs, and planting flowers, vegetables, or shrubs. The amateur gardener is invited to tell his troubles with soil, pests, or plants. Practical aid will be given in arranging suburban grounds, school, vacant lot, back yards, porch, or window gardens. Ask what and how to plant for fine results. Address The Garden Editor, "The Tribune."

Poppies.

THE oriental poppy is one of the showiest of perennials, with enormous vivid scarlet flowers with purple centers. The plant is as handsome as the flower, being a soft gray green, the leaves deeply cut, clothed with white bristly hair. These originate from seed, but the root lives in the ground and the plants come again year after year like the iris.

The flowers of the blossoming poppy open from a silver sphere-like bud on a tall stem three feet agove ground. Nothing is more satisfactory to be introduced into home grounds among the shrubbery or with other perennials.

The poppy question is interesting to every one. The Iceland poppy flowers the first year from seed. The range of colors from purest satiny white, pale sunny yellow, and deep orange scarlet embraces many shades.

The Iceland poppies have a sweet odor, while the orientals have a strong bitter scent of opium. The Iceland poppies keep their petals for vase and house decoration. They are perennials.

Among the single annual and double poppies the colors, stripes, spots, fringed edges, and styles are too many to count. They do well where other plants fail and are sun lovers.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 18 and I am in love with a boy of 17. We are going to get married in April. Would like your advice about it. Do you think it will be all right for me to marry a boy younger than myself or not? Please let me know about it before April 2.

Miss G., Mounds, Ill.

I think that you are both too young to be married. Wait a few years until the young man has a good position, and until you know what the responsibilities of married life are.

He Liked Candy.

"Dear Miss Blake. Some time ago a young man from a neighboring town who had previously called several times, once on invitation, called on a friend of mine visiting me. He liked some candy I served, and asked me to send him the remainder, which I did. He wrote thanking me, and asked me to send him some more when I made it again. He also expressed the wish that he would see me again some time soon.

"I did nothing further, and have not heard from him again. Should I have replied, or should he have asked to call again? ELLEN VANE."

I don't see how the young man could expect you to send him candy. I shouldn't make any reply to him if I were you. If he cares about you and not about your candy he will ask to call.

Eggs and Superstitions.

EASTER time is the season for reviving quaint stories and customs about eggs. Some of the less well known ones are that an egg which has a double yolk should always be shared as should a double almond, otherwise ill luck will attend the eater.

The number of signs of evil luck connected with egg eating are many. The superstitious custom of breaking an egg shell after eating the boiled contents is said to date back to Roman times when there was a belief that if a witch, or a woman of that ilk, should find the shell lying about she would make use of it as a boat and cause terrible storms and shipwrecks.

One of the very pretty ways of serving the ever popular deviled or stuffed eggs at this season is with shrimps. All sorts of names are given to eggs refilled with a mashed and seasoned yolk and the following is one:

Mayonnaise Eggs with Shrimps.

Take off the shell and cut in half four hard boiled eggs. Mash the yolks or rub them through a sieve, and mix with them mayonnaise dressing and a little chopped shrimp. Fill the eggs with this mixture and serve them in a bed of cress, inserting the tails of one or two shrimps in the center of each stuffed egg.

Return of Piano Brings Back Tourists

It has been learned that the chief reason for the sudden return from the glories of the western coast of Mrs. Benjamin Winchell Jr. and her sister, Miss Martha Winslow, both daughters of E. B. Winslow, American consul general at Copenhagen, had to do with the final arrival, after a long and tedious voyage, of a beautiful piano, which came to Chicago last week to be released from the hands of the customs official.

The piano has an enviable history, and has long endeared itself in association to the members of the Winslow family. The Winslow children learned their first scales on its ivory keys when they lived on the west side in the early days of Chicago's history.

Later, when they lived at 138 Rush street, and when Mr. Winslow was appointed to Göteborg, to Stockholm, and to Copenhagen, the piano followed along with the other members of the family, and has the record of making four trips to and from Europe.

It always has been admitted without duty, first, because it is a part of the possessions of an American consul; second, because it is household furniture, and third, because it is "made in America," bearing on its glossy lid the name of Steinway.

Miss Winslow came from Europe in December of last year, but almost at once sent back for her beloved instrument when she decided to remain here for a longer period. The piano has been sent to the Winchell home at 439 Arlington place, where it will be warmly welcomed by the two daughters of the Winslow family.

For the concert to be given by the Chicago Symphony orchestra for the benefit of the pension and invalid fund of the orchestra on next Tuesday evening all the boxes have been taken, and in addition the number of subscribers for boxes has been increased to many more than the twenty-three at Orchestra hall.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Dora Williamson, daughter of Mrs. Richard Williamson of 4144 Sheridan road, to John Friar White, son of Mr. and Mrs. James White of 527 Oakdale avenue, on April 6.

Miss Frances Stevens of Kenilworth will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids, Miss Doris Wetmore, Miss Gladys Woley, Miss Alice White, and Miss Effie Ladd of Wilmette. James R. White, the bridegroom's brother, will be best man and the ushers L. Parsons Warren, Sanger B. Steel, Louis J. Naumann, and Calvin M. George of Clinton, Ia.

The ceremony will take place at St. Peter's Episcopal church, the rector, the Rev. William Carson Shaw, officiating. A reception for the immediate family and bridal party only will follow.

Monday, April 5, is the day set for the wedding of Miss Janet Anderson, daughter of Bishop and Mrs. Charles P. Anderson of 1612 Prairie avenue, to Dr. George Boyer of Toronto, Canada. The ceremony will take place at noon at the cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul.

Mrs. M. S. Lockwood announces the engagement of her daughter, Margaret L. to Dr. Frank E. Baldwin of Peoria. The wedding will take place in June.

DURWARD GRINSTEAD

Miss Lockwood is the daughter of the late Walter Lockwood, a granddaughter of Gen. E. P. Scammon of New York and a niece of the Hon. J. Y. Scammon of Chicago.

The Misses Colvin of Lake Forest are leaving to spend the month of April in California.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. King of New York are staying at the home of Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Henry Dibbles, for a few days en route to the west.

Mrs. Conrad Seipp of 3300 Michigan avenue will open her home for a fancy dress masquerade dance to be led by Miss Hinman on the evening of March 2 given in honor of her grandchildren, Katherine and Henry Bartholomay. The young guests will include:

Helena Meinrath, Katharine Bartholomay, Elsie Bartholomay, Cornelia Bryant, Dorothea Halstead, Frances Glessner, Dorothy Fewell, Beatrice Harvey, Katharine Rehm, Louise Rehm, Frances Orb, Katharine Mehlhop, Frances Lee, Lila Woodruff, Dorothy Schmidt, Constance Root, Josephine Root, John Hammond, Junior Meagher, Charles Carlisle, Wellington Leavitt, Henry Bartholomay, Tom Mehlhop, Horatio Borden, William Juergens, Richard Schmidt, Wainwright Ernst, Re Qua Bryant, Jack Smart, George Jaeger, Towner Root, Carlos Drake, William Henry, Hanson Harte, John Lee, Billy Drake.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Redfield, 1714 East Fifty-sixth street, returned yesterday with their children from a fortnight's vacation at White Sulphur Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Redfield of 422 Yale avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Margarette Lois, to James S. Barcus II. of 6400 Harvard avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barcus of Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Levy Mayer will entertain at luncheon today the members of the committee in charge of the annual spring musical given by the Ravinia club this afternoon in the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone. Her guests will be Mrs. J. B. Caswell, Mrs. W. A. Alexander, Mrs. Leeds Mitchell, Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, Mrs. Frank McMullin, and Mrs. Harry Swarts.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gehrs will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at their residence at 1846 Fremont street today. Mr. Gehrs is one of the oldest residents of Fremont street, and is well known in that neighborhood. There are eight children, twenty-nine grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

The marriage of Miss Regina Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Crawford of Oak Park, to Frank M. Swiries took place last evening at the family residence. Miss Ruth Crawford was maid of honor and Olivia Swiries, sister of the bridegroom, was flower maid. Thomas S. Swiries was best man and Lawrence Crawford was master of ceremonies.

University of Michigan students prominent as football players, track athletes, and orators will appear as chorus girls in the comic opera "All That Glitters" to be presented at Orchestra hall Tuesday evening, April 13.

Altogether 100 men students will come from Ann Arbor to take part in the production, which will be the largest affair of the kind ever presented under the auspices of the Chicago Alumni association of the University of Michigan. The association contains 1,600 members former Michigan students now living in Chicago.

The opera centers about a New York beauty parlor and "twenty thousand legs under the sea" at Atlantic City. Durward Grinstead will take the leading woman's part and do a dance with "Morry" Dunne, Gov. Dunne's youngest son, who played on the Michigan eleven.

Baron Provides Thrills for Diners.

Baron August Schillinger, at one time German vice consul in Chicago, and a great beau in Lake Forest, has provided more thrilling dinner table talk for Lake Forest this winter than almost anybody who ever lived there.

Some imaginative person pointed out that it was uncanny for Schillinger to have spent so much of his time at our naval training station at Lake Bluff.

Another added that his subsequent trip to the Philippines was equally suspicious. And still others remembered that his last post in this country was St. Louis, near one of the largest army posts in the United States, forgetting that the baron raced to Chicago to spend his week ends with friends, and that information about our training stations and the Philippine islands is given out enthusiastically at Washington.

It seems rather rough lines to make an "investigator" out of the absent Schillinger for the sake of a good dinner story, even if the professional wits of our village are hard pushed for material.

Herr von Schillinger is a Bavarian uhlan and his friends here imagined he might have been killed in the carnage last fall, but the other day he came to light, a fullfledged consul, stationed at Fiume, on the Adriatic. He has not even been in battle, but has been serving his country much more usefully, he says, as Fiume has been an open and busy port this winter.

Herr Schillinger is a typical German military man. Well set up, very blond, with clicking heels, and many bows, he was a picturesque addition to Chicago society, always mannerly and never dull.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pollock are giving up their town house in Rush street, between the Watson Blairs and the Joseph G. Colemans, and are taking a house in Lake Forest for the entire year.

Mrs. Pollock, who was a Miss McAlpin of New York, has fitted into the Lake Forest coterie until she finds the life there equally, if not more attractive than in Chicago.

Mr. Pollock has taken the Van Wagenen Alling house for a year and the north side thus loses two of its foremost bridge players and dinner givers.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will be back in their Rush street house after the first of April, and the George A. McKinlocks, who have had it, will go out to their Lake Forest place to look after the "crops."

Mrs. McKinlock especially is solicitous about her garden. Her farewell luncheon and bridge before leaving for Atlantic City for Easter was one of the largest parties of Lent.

Mr. and Mrs. Secor Cunningham are just home from Atlantic City. The latter has been walking this week in a most becoming array, a simple black toilette and hat, with furs the whitest, fluffiest, bushiest imaginable.

Music and the Musicians

MISS CHRISTINE MILLER

Christine Miller, one of the popular singers in oratorio in this country, is to appear on Sunday at Orchestra hall in a production of Handel's "Messiah" with the Irish Choral society.

The concert for the benefit of the Chicago Symphony orchestra's pension and invalid fund will take place in Orchestra hall Tuesday evening. The program will be given, of course, by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, with Mr. Stock directing, and with Mme. Julia Claussen, mezzo-soprano, as soloist. Although changes have been made since first announcement, the program will be all Wagner.

Mme. Claussen will be heard in Senta's ballad, from "The Flying Dutchman," as Brunnhilde in Brunnhilde's Immolation, from "Die Goetterdaemmerung," and in three songs—"Schmerzen," "Der Engel," and "Traume." The program also includes the overture to "The Flying Dutchman," the Bacchanals from "Tannhaeuser," the "Lohengrin" prelude, Waldweben, from "Siegfried," and the prelude, love scene, and Brangaene's warning, as arranged for concert performance by Frederick Stock, from "Tristan and Isolde."

At the regular Friday and Saturday concerts the soloist will be Bruno Steindel, the principal cellist of the orchestra.

Mr. Steindel will play Molique's concerto, opus 45. The program also includes Weber's "Oberon" overture, Bach's "Chaconne" [transcribed for string orchestra and organ by Mr. Wilhelm Middelschulte], Schumann's symphony, No. 2, in C major, and Tschaikowsky's overture fantasia, "Hamlet."

The Chicago Sunday Evening club choir, O. Gordon Erickson conducting, will give its annual concert at Orchestra hall Thursday evening, April 22. Mr. Erickson has arranged a program of novelties, all of which will be heard in Chicago for the first time. The soloists will be Mabel Sharp Herdien, soprano; Rose Lutiger Gannon, contralto; John B. Miller, tenor, and Gustaf Hohnquist, bass.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra will furnish accompaniments.

The last of the "three evenings of chamber music" in the Fine Arts assembly room will be a sonata recital by Harry Weisbach, concertmeister of the symphony orchestra, and M. Jennette Loudon, pianist, this evening at 8:15.

Clubs & Societies

There will be a meeting of the Sixth Ward Civic league tomorrow evening in the Kenwood school, Fiftieth street and Blackstone avenue. The following mayoralty candidates will speak. Robert M. Sweitzer, William Hale Thompson, Seymour Steadman, and John Hill. A. A. McCormick and Anthony Czarnecki also will speak.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley will speak on "Mouth Hygiene" today at a luncheon at the City club. Dr. A. J. Carlson will preside.

Members of the Women's City club were guests of the Chicago Telephone company at the company's main office, 212 West Washington street, Tuesday and yesterday afternoons, between the hours of 2 and 6. More than 300 members of the club visited the telephone building on the two afternoons.

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, president of the club, and officials of the telephone company held an informal reception in the operators' rest room to the visitors. Tea was served in the operators' luncheon room.

OTHER MEETINGS TODAY.

Ravinia club musicale, Blackstone hotel.
Arché club board, 448 East Forty-sixth street.
Rothschild & Co. Employes' Social club, 7:30 p. m., Masonic temple.
Neighborhood House Woman's club, 2:30 p. m., 6710 May street.
Holstein park lecture, 8 p. m.
Woodlawn W. C. T. U., 2 p. m., Woodlawn Universalist church.
Lambda Sigma Phi fraternity dance, Ravenswood club.
Third Ward Civic league, 8 p. m., Wendell Phillips High school.
Esther Falkenstein Settlement Woman's club, 2 p. m., 1917 North Richmond street.
Electric club luncheon, Hotel Sherman.
Phi Kappa Gamma, Zeta chapter, 8 p. m., Hotel Sherman.
Woman's Club of the Allied Drug Trade, Hotel Sherman.

"Merry Whirl" Rehearsals Changed.

Owing to the Ravinia park concert, the rehearsals for "The Merry Whirl," to be given by the Junior league at Orchestra hall on April 6 and 7, will be held this afternoon at the Congress hotel instead of at the Blackstone, as usual.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand

Letters for Invalids.

Is it out of place to report from time to time of work being done? I wrote to the old lady whose address you gave me and have written her and sent several packages of reading matter. She has been so appreciative and the exchange of letters has done us both good. She is indeed deserving, but I often think the benefit is equally distributed, for it makes one feel as if he were not entirely useless when a little will cheer a lonely heart. I can write a letter occasionally to a child, shut in, or one isolated as to environment, if you will send me the address of such. Even the more fortunate of us enjoy letters and I think they mean much to a child. I wrote to two others whose names I secured through the Corner, but received no response to my offers of magazines. I am in no way discouraged; on the contrary, the avenues that open up for service have made life fuller in many ways. I shall continue to write to my old lady and can take on one or two others I think. RUTH B."

So far from being out of place it is exactly what you ought to do. To receive reports from regular workers together with the Corner is like keeping one's finger upon the pulse of a body in the welfare of which one is warmly interested. You cannot do the overseer of the H. H. C. a greater kindness than to let her know from time to time how the work prospers in your dear, capable hands.

Who Is the Author?

"Will you ask in the Corner if Helen Hunt Jackson is the author of the lines:

Is it true, O, Christ in heaven,
That whichever way we go,
Walls of darkness must surround us,
Things we would but cannot know?
That the infinite must bound us
Like a temple veil unrent,
Whilst the finite ever wearies,
So that none's therein content?

Or were these lines taken from an old time poem and put in a simpler setting? Any information that I may gain will be appreciated. M. A. V."

Will Copy a Poem.

"If P. C. C. will send a stamped and self-directed envelope to me, I will copy and send her the desired poem.

This is one of many answers that came in response to the request of P. C. C.

Cover for a Trunk.

"I send in an item that may be of interest to some of your readers who would cover an old trunk. It may be an old one standing uncovered and unnoticed in your bedroom. If your room is done in tints buy a few extra yards for a cover. If it is not, you might try a strip of that 'futurist' material. If, however, you have a figured wallpaper, use a plain cover, slightly darker than the tone used in the room. One strip of material will cover the four sides of the trunk. This should reach from the lid to the floor. For the top of the trunk cut a flat cover of stiff cardboard, just a half inch wider on all sides than the lid of the trunk. Then cut out a strip of the goods, just a half inch wider than the cardboard, to allow for seams. Then stitch the long piece obtained for the four sides on to the four sides of the piece for the lid, and stitch together the two ends of the long strip. This should form a box of the goods without a bottom. Smear the cardboard lid with glue and paste it under the top piece of the cloth cover. This then fits on over the trunk without a wrinkle. Where the seams are, braid may be sewed on if desirable.

DAILY READER."

Song Mother Used to Sing.

"I am much interested in your Corner. In reading it, I see that H. J. M. asks for a song his or her mother used to sing, 'Take This Letter to My Mother.' Will you forward the verses that I enclose? This is my first introduction to the Corner. I hope I may become acquainted with some of the good people.

"J. H. B."

Origin of "Tipperary."

"Will you be so kind as to tell me the origin, the meaning of, and under what conditions the popular song 'Tipperary' was written? JOSEPHINE L."

"It's a Long Way to Tipperary" has sprung so suddenly and conspicuously into public notice of late that you are not the only person puzzled by the apparently arbitrary selection of the song as martial music. Will readers tell us how this happened and something of the earlier history of the Irish melody? It is a curious choice—and, thus far, unexplained.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhœa, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

800 Ad Men Offer Aid to Churches.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

All Chicago churches, without respect to denomination and without cost to them, are offered the services of the 800 members of the Chicago Advertising club in planning effective advertising in the newspapers and through other legitimate channels.

The offer came yesterday from the educational committee of the club, through its chairman, Albert Joerns, who announced he had appointed a special committee on church advertising. Those composing the special committee in addition to Chairman Joerns are: A. B. Chamberlain, A. B. Jensen, H. Walton Heegstra, Homer J. Buckley, Charles S. Fredericks, and Anderson Pace.

In explaining the purposes of the committee Mr. Joerns said it was a movement to give the result of the experience and training of advertising men as their contribution to the good work the churches are doing.

"The motive of the advertising men in offering their services is entirely altruistic," Mr. Joerns said.

"We propose to confer with the representatives of such churches as desire to have our help. If we are called on we will detail a man who will seek by personal study to ascertain the needs of the particular church and to outline a plan of advertising adapted to the conditions. We will prepare copy for the newspapers and for advertising matter put out in the neighborhood. We will work with any church or with any organization of pastors or laymen who are interested. We will offer trained brains, open hearts, and willing hands."

Mr. Joerns said he indorsed the sentiments of Dr. Talcott Williams, printed in The Tribune yesterday, in which it was asserted that persistent and intelligent advertising would fill the churches.

"The minister needs a church full of people in order to preach a full sermon," he said.

"The churches are as worthy of patronage today as they ever were. They simply have fiercer competition in moving picture shows, easy means of travel, late hours of work, or pleasure seeking, which prevent early rising.

"But it is poor advertising for a minister to bemoan in the pulpit the small attendance either at church or prayer meeting.

"The antiquated rule followed by many churches is 'All things come to him who waits.' Modern advertising has revised the rule to read:

'All things come to him who waits,
But here's a rule that's stickier;
The man who goes after what he wants
Will get it all the quicker.'

"We believe that church advertising ought not to be used simply to increase the attendance at the churches, but also to preach to those who do not go to church."

Obituary.

MRS. JANE ELIZA HOWLAND, a resident of Chicago since June 1, 1837, died yesterday at the home of her son, Allen M. Howland, of 3220 Warren avenue. Mrs. Howland was born in Fort Covington, N. Y., and was 2 years old when she came to Chicago. Her father, John Gray, was a member of the first school board in Chicago and sheriff of Cook county from 1858 to 1860. In 1856 she was married to Henry Howland, a Chicago lumber merchant, who afterward became a colonel and division quartermaster on Gen. John M. Palmer's staff. Mrs. Howland was closely identified for sixty-five years with the missionary enterprises of the Presbyterian and Reformed churches. She leaves three children—Prof. George C. Howland of the University of Chicago, Allen M. Howland, and Mrs. Frank S. Webster.

RAYMOND E. JENNINGS, newspaper writer and advertising expert, who died on Tuesday, will be buried today from Our Lady of Sorrows' church at 9:30 a. m. Interment at Calvary.

VALUES FLIGHTY IN ALL GRAINS

Many Elements of Uncertainty Reflected in Frequent Price Changes.

GENERAL TREND LOWER

Irregular fluctuations and a decidedly uncertain tone prevailed in wheat. At the last there were net declines for the day of ⅝@1¼c, with May delivery showing the most lost. The complete range covered was 1⅝@2½c for the entire session.

Sentiment was bearish a good part of the time, but export sales of quite a quantity of spring wheat, along with some Hessian fly reports from Kansas, caused considerable rally. News indicating an early closing of the war in Europe was chiefly responsible for the weakness shown at the last. This news was given much color by the strength in the market for American stocks, which was taken to mean that European money was being released for investment here. There was a decided difference between the tone of the winter and spring wheat market. Spring wheat was firm with the cash grain and demand from exporters at Duluth and Winnipeg. Winter wheat showed much weakness and decreased its premium here, at the Atlantic seaboard, and at the gulf.

Exporters Buying May Wheat.

One of the features of the day was persistent but not conspicuous buying of May delivery by some of the cash grain concerns. Probably the most persistent was by Knight-McDougal, who were followed by Norris and Jackson Bros. The selling pressure came principally on the July delivery. The Hessian fly claims came from Sedgwick county, Kas., but were generally scouted by the southwestern trade and had no effect on southwestern markets. Primary receipts were larger than a year ago, at 729,000 bu, as against 514,000 bu. Shipments from primary markets were only about two-thirds as large as the receipts. Winter wheat millers in the southeast were credited with trying to sell their reserves of wheat for export. Exports of wheat and flour as wheat were light yesterday, at 176,000 bu. Winnipeg messages said that exporters were buying May delivery freely and Duluth told of good sales abroad. A Duluth exporter claimed sales of 1,000,000 bu. done late Tuesday, and the sales reported in all positions yesterday were 1,100,000 bu. including 500,000 bu to the Holland government.

Corn Situation Little Changed.

Corn fluctuations were almost as uncertain and irregular as wheat, but were within a much narrower range and were never sudden or pronounced. The situation was little changed. The country was selling and the east was buying little. There were further sales of corn from Duluth, and all of the grain urgently offered from that market has now been disposed of. Bearish sentiment was increasingly rampant and based largely on the belief that there would be severe liquidation in May holdings. Clearances yesterday were 152,000 bu. The general volume of speculation was limited, but bears were inclined to be aggressive on hard spots and their offerings were being well taken on scattered commission orders on declines. Net losses for the day were ⅝@1c.

Oats Market Closes Weak.

Oats finally closed as weak as any of the other grains, although there was a period during which the market was very strong. This was due to continued buying of the same interest—mostly cash handlers and exporters—that had been previously buying for several days. This, in turn, frightened a lot of pit shorts into covering. The weakness in wheat and the war news together made a very weak market at the last. Export sales were lacking and the domestic sales very light. Export clearances for the day were 193,000 bu. Final prices showed net losses for the day of ½@⅝c for May and ¼c for other futures.

Packers Feed Provision Market.

Provisions developed a weak undertone, but the trade was very light during most of the day. It was the belief in the pit that the packers were feeding the market with product, but not forcing sales sufficiently to break values. The expected falling off in hogs receipts west has not yet appeared. Hog receipts west yesterday were 106,500, as against 82,000 a year ago. The principal selling was in lard, with Knight-McDougal, Hately, and Logan-Bryan prominent. The best buying was by Roberts-Oake. Pork closed with a decline for the day of 2½c to 5c, lard lost 5c, and ribs 2½c to 5c.

Rye Scarce and Firm.

Rye was firmer, with sales of No. 2 to arrive at $1.17@1.21. Receipts, none.

Barley was dull but steady, with malting 77@82c; feed, 74@76c, and screenings, 75c. Receipts, 24 cars.

Timothy seed was dull at $4.25@6.25 for cash. Clover seed was quiet at $9.00@13.00 for cash lots.

Duluth flax closed 3@3¾c higher, with cash on track $1.95; May, $1.96; July, $1.98¼, and September, $2.01¼. Receipts, 14 cars. Minneapolis was 3c higher at $1.90¼@1.94 for cash on track. Receipts, 12 cars. Winnipeg closed 2@4½c higher, with May $1.76⅞; July, $1.79¼, and October, $1.81⅞. Receipts, 15 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Owners of wheat hold to the belief that there is nothing short of peace in Europe that is likely to put much pressure on the market. There is no burdensome stock in any direction and exporters buy periodically whenever they are able to secure a fair quantity at a reasonable price. There was much difference yesterday in the tone of the spring and winter wheat cash markets. Spring wheat was firm, with exporters buying both cash and May delivery, while winter wheat premiums declined. Winter wheat mills are having a dull trade and some of them are placing their wheat surplus with exporters.

Bearish sentiment forced quite a decline in privileges after the close of business. There was heavy buying of bids led by Logan-Bryan and Finley Barrell which the trade assumed was on peace developments. The peace talk had been given much color by the strength shown in railroad and other securities. The trade was already bearish on the theory that there would be heavy liquidation of May holdings of corn and oats some time during the next thirty days. Oat traders were particularly bearish because of the continued large receipts. Current arrivals, they claim, are large enough to take care of all current needs without encroaching on the enormous visible supply.

Sedgewick county, Kansas, came in with a report that an 80 acre wheat field had been plowed up and put in oats because of bug damage. Another field seven miles southwest of Wichita and twenty miles from the other field also is being plowed up to be planted with oats. The damage is in the early sown wheat.

Broomhall's Argentine agent estimates a loss of 20 per cent in the wheat crop there as a result of the prolonged rain. The supply of sacks was insufficient and the rainfall unusually heavy—thirty inches since Dec. 15. The quality was also greatly impaired.

Wet weather in Argentina has affected the value of the corn there, according to New York handlers of cash grain. The crop is now being gathered, but its price is too high at present to admit of imports into the United States.

Export sales of wheat since the close of business Tuesday are estimated at nearly 2,000,000 bushels. Practically all of this was spring wheat and one-half of it from Duluth. The Dutch government took 500,000 bushels.

E. W. Wagner & Co. will move into larger quarters April 1, on the seventh floor of the Continental and Commercial Bank building.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 52 cars; corn, 45 cars; oats, 171 cars; rye, none; barley, 24 cars; hogs, 26,000 head.

Oat seeding is far advanced in the vicinity of Springfield, Ill., and is expected to be finished this week.

Spain has removed all import duties on wheat and the effect is to bring out needed supplies.

CUT IN PRICES AT BUFFALO ENLIVENS PIG IRON MARKET.

New York, March 24.—The Iron Age in its review of the iron and steel industry says:

"Buffalo furnace companies have shaken the pig iron market out of its stagnation in the last week by offering their product at prices attractive enough to bring over 175,000 tons to their order books. The bulk of the business was done in three or four days and the end of the movement has not yet been seen.

"In the main $12.00 at furnace for No. 2 X foundry iron was the basis, or 50 to 75 cents below the recent level, with indications that some No. 2 iron went at $11.75 or less. New York, New England, and New Jersey foundries took hold freely as the Buffalo cut became general, and some buyers covered for the entire year. Most of the sales were for the second half, and while a number of 5,000 ton lots were included there were scores of sales of 500 and 1,000 tons.

"So quietly was the Buffalo coup executed that other districts scarcely felt a tremor. But it is to be expected that, as in November, when Buffalo furnaces sold 250,000 tons in ten days, foundrymen in the central west and the Chicago district will come into the market. Thus far furnace companies in those sections have not offered concessions such as have resulted from the large production of Buffalo iron, but in the Cleveland district lower prices have been made on Indiana business. These, with the unsettling of southern prices due to liquidation of warrant iron, have made a weak market.

"In the finished steel market the main features are continued operations by most of the larger companies on a 70 per cent scale, further large war orders from abroad, and a volume of new domestic business somewhat less than that of shipments. There is still surprise at so good a volume of business as the mills now have, with railroad buying so limited, but the domestic sources are widespread. While shipments in the next two months may exceed new orders, implement and other large bar contracts are counted on to restore the balance in June."

IN BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., March 24.—[Special.]—Today's market was strong and active, with coppers again showing the way under the lead of Calumet and Hecla, which advanced 13 points to 423. Ahmeek did even better, rising 15 to 310. The whole list was buoyant early in the day, but late profit taking wiped out a good part of the gains in some cases. Strength in coppers is due to enormous buying of the metal for Europe at steadily advancing prices. Lake sold today at high as 16⅝c a pound. Call money, 3 per cent; time loans, short dates, 3½@4 per cent; time loans, six months, 3½@4 per cent; time loans, year, 4¼@4½ per cent.

ROADS SEEK TO JUSTIFY COAL RATE ADVANCE MOVE.

The western railroads yesterday put witnesses on the stand to justify the coal advances before the interstate commerce commission at the Hotel La Salle. J. M. Daly, former general superintendent of transportation for the Illinois Central railroad, was called to explain the increases which the carriers propose on soft coal.

"Soft coal as a predominating article of freight is a liability rather than an asset," he asserted. "From 2,000 to 10,000 cars are standing idle a day and are not in use nine months of the year. Soft coal requires special equipment, which in the western fields cannot be used for iron ore, and lumber. Then there is the empty haul back.

"Moreover, every two years, with clocklike regularity the mines close down or threaten to close down because of labor disputes and the loaded car mileage on one coal branch fell to one-twenty-fifth of normal is a few days."

BROADWAY SALE SHOWS BIG GAIN

Berwyn Av. Corner Bought at $50 a Front Foot Sells at $600.

INCRESE IN 8 YEARS.

The property at the southeast corner of Berwyn avenue and Broadway has been sold by the Consumers company to Le Roy C. Towle, and the transaction is of unusual interest because of the remarkable advance in values since the property was acquired by the company eight years ago. The plot has a frontage of 230 feet on Berwyn and 53 feet on Broadway, and was sold for a reported consideration of $32,500, which is at the rate of a little over $600 a front foot for the Broadway frontage and about $141 for the Berwyn avenue frontage.

Eight years ago the Knickerbocker Ice company, now a part of the Consumers company, purchased about 400 feet on Broadway, including this property, at an average price of $50 a front foot, so that the corner is now selling for more than the entire tract did eight years ago.

It is stated that Mr. Towle plans to subdivide the holding into business lots fronting on Berwyn avenue. Frederick A. Cooper & Co. represented both parties and will have charge of the property.

Interesting Theater Deal.

An interesting deal in Thirty-first street theater and business property, closed and made a matter of record yesterday, covers the property at the northwest corner of Calumet avenue, which has been sold by William H. McDoel to Caroline Braun for an indicated consideration of $68,000, subject to an incumbrance of $42,000, the grantee paying $26,000 for the equity, as indicated by the stamps on the document.

The lot fronts 93¾ feet, with a depth of 120 feet, and is improved with a four story and basement store and flat building on the corner and with the Franklin theater adjoining on the west, the theater having a seating capacity of about 800 people.

The apartment house property at 4421-27 North Lincoln street, between Montrose boulevard and Sunnyside avenue, has been sold by Robert F. Mansell to Louis Rosenbluth, the consideration being withheld. A nominal consideration appears in the deed, but the revenue stamps, amounting to $35, together with an incumbrance of $50,000, indicates a consideration of $85,000. The building contains twenty-four apartments, and is said to have a gross annual rent of about $12,000. George Mickel of E. B. Woolf & Co. was the broker, representing both parties to the transaction.

Woodlawn Avenue Sale.

Frederick Becklenberg has sold to Walter S. Ayres the residence property on Woodlawn avenue, 232 feet north of Forty-eighth street, lot 96x297 feet, east front, improved with a twelve room modern brick dwelling. A nominal consideration is given in the transfer, but $25 worth of revenue stamps indicate a consideration of $25,000. J. Grafton Parker & Co. were the brokers in the transaction.

Samuel Meyer and Morris Leiberman have sold to Charles S. Ross the property at the southeast corner of Leland and Winchester avenues, lot 89 feet on Winchester and 152½ feet on Leland, improved with a three story twelve apartment building.

A nominal consideration appears in the transfer, but the incumbrance of $25,000 and the revenue stamps on the deed indicate a consideration of $39,500. In this connection Mr. Ross conveyed to Morris Levin the 53.3x100 feet, east front, on Ashland avenue, 51.6 feet north of Augusta street, improved with two and three story store and flat building.

Augusta Street Transaction.

Mr. Ross also conveyed to Samuel Meyer the 30.4x111 feet, south front, on Augusta street, 100 feet west of Ashland avenue, improved with a two story brick store and loft building. The transaction was negotiated by L. Loewenstein & Co. and S. E. Miller & Co., the former having just succeeded to the sales department of Isador Ferguson & Co.

The property at the northwest corner of Sawyer avenue and Forty-fifth street, 300x125 feet, east front, and other property, has been acquired by Frederick P. Hart from Thomas L. Chadbourne for a stated consideration of $22,000.

The apartment house property on Kenmore avenue, 100 feet north of Berwyn avenue, lot 200x150 feet, west front, has been conveyed by the Fort Dearborn Trust and Savings bank to Harry M. Crowe. The consideration is withheld, but the revenue stamps on the document indicate $15,000 was paid for the equity.

Buys in Sheridan Road.

L. A. Heine has conveyed to Lovisa Nelson the property in Sheridan road, 141 feet west of Halsted street, lot 39x122 feet, south front, with brick improvements, for an indicated consideration of $17,500, subject to an incumbrance of $7,500.

James A. Barry has sold to Johanna Hoff the property at the northwest corner of Magnolia and Catalpa avenues, lot 50x124 feet, east front, with flat improvements, for an indicated consideration of $14,500.

Record has been made of the lease by the Empress Theater company to Alfred S. Shaw of building space on Halsted street, 155 feet north of Sixty-third street, for a term of twenty-seven years from May 1, at a term rent of $175,500, or at the rate of $6,500 a year.

The Glacier National Park and the Blackfeet Indians will be the subject of the travelog to be given by Laurence D. Kitchell at the weekly luncheon of the Chicago real estate board today. It will be illustrated by hand colored dissolving stereopticon views and motion pictures.

From the President's Report.

The freight revenue was $20,717,272, a decrease of $2,452,245, resulting from a decreased movement of lumber, iron, steel, coal, and manufacturing products. The restrictions placed on the movement of live stock as a result of the hoof and mouth disease and on hay and packing house products resulted in a loss of $103,-

The passenger revenue was $8,880,613, a decrease of $488,442. The European war caused a decrease of approximately $170,000 in immigrant business. Revenue from transportation of mail was $469,259, an increase of $24,532, due to parcel post. Express revenue was $1,443,143, a decrease of $273,160, as compared with last year.

Total operating expenses were $25,181,483, a decrease of $2,821,614 on maintenance of way and structures, equipment, track expenses, transportation expenses, and miscellaneous operations. The decrease in maintenance of way alone was $1,248,157, showing the general retrenchment policy followed during the year.

Financial News Notes.

Lazard Freres announced they had engaged $2,500,000 gold for shipment from Ottawa to New York.

The New York subtreasury gained $376,000 from the banks on Tuesday and since last Friday has gained $979,000.

The United States Steel corporation is operating at about 75 per cent of capacity. Orders received since the beginning of March have been about on a parity with production.

Six abstract companies of Kansas City have been consolidated into a company to be known as the Kansas City Title and Trust company. The company will have an authorized capital of $1,000,000, of which $750,000 will be outstanding.

It is announced that the Recording and Computing Machine company of Dayton, O., will probably purchase the plant of the Speedwell Motor Car company.

Announcement was made in London of another Canadian loan of $25,000,000. It will bear interest at 4½ per cent. The issue price is 99½ and the loan will be redeemable in five and ten years.

Chicago Securities.

The local stock market was fairly broad and prices generally steady. Sears-Roebuck common ruled between 136¼ and 137⅝. Swift & Co. shares were up fractionally, closing at 109⅝. The advance was accompanied by gossip of a stock issue which may be accepted for what it is worth.

There was some buying of Peoples Gas in New York and on transactions amounting to 45 shares the price advanced to 123. Bonds were steady. There was, however, a sale of Cicero Gas 5s at 95¾.

Jeweler Sues for Damages.

Philip Barnett, member of the jewelry firm of Barnett Bros., at 104 West Jackson boulevard, filed suit in the Superior court yesterday seeking damages of $25,000 from Fred Abels of 1641 South Michigan avenue. According to Moses, Rosenthal & Kennedy, attorneys for the plaintiff, the action is for alleged malicious prosecution growing out of a criminal complaint involving $2,500.

NEW TOP MARKS IN WALL STREET

Stocks Again Soar, Quoted Values Going Above the July 30 Average.

OVERTURN IS IMMENSE.

New York, March 24.—Prices of stocks mounted to new high levels today on a volume of business almost as large as the previous day's big overturn. With few important exceptions quoted values were not only the highest of any period since Dec. 12 last, when market operations were renewed, but in many instances they were considerably above the average of July 30, 1914, the day the exchange deemed it expedient to suspend because of the war clouds.

Union Pacific was the leader of today's session, which had all the breadth of the previous day, making a maximum gain of 3½ points on the largest individual number of transactions. United States Steel, Reading, and Amalgamated Copper followed in the order named, all at striking advances, while Erie was well to the fore in the minor group. Final prices were substantially under the best, but the close was strong.

Metal Advance Helps Copper.

Coppers were further benefited by another advance in the metal and steel's strength was accompanied by reports of increased production, resulting from large export orders. Equipment shares made material gains, American Locomotive preferred rising 8 points on the unexpected declaration of the regular dividend, and many hitherto dormant issues rose from 1 to 5 points. Total sales of stocks amounted to 578,400 shares.

Bonds moved more in harmony with the stock list, with a diminution of sales for future delivery. Total sales, par value, $2,579,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Good Railroad Returns.

More gold imports and some very excellent railroad returns for February contributed to the movement in the stock market. Baltimore and Ohio reported a net increase of $1,006,000. Comparison with the same month of last year is unfair, however, as the road suffered from severe weather conditions throughout the early part of 1914. Northern Pacific earnings increased by $430,000 and Lehigh Valley $322,000.

Foreign exchange markets were less of a factor today than at any time for weeks. Remittances on London, where buying of our stocks was reported, fell to within a fraction of yesterday's low quotations, but recovered later. Continental bills were generally firmer on lighter offerings by local bankers.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, March 24.—Discounts were firmer today on the outflow of gold and rumors that the Bank of England intends to reduce the supplies of money in order to keep the rates stiffer. On the stock exchange another large business was transacted in investment securities, especially war loans, colonial bonds, and home rails indicating the further reinvestment of dividends. Copper shares maintained their strength and Anacondas were frequently marked. Rubber stocks were steady. The feature in the American section was the very large number of markings in Union Pacific between 126⅝@128⅝. There were also sales in United States Steel from 50¼ to 50. The market closed firm. Bar silver, 23 13-16d per ounce. Money, 1 per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 2¼@2⅜ per cent; three months, 2¼@2⅜ per cent.

PARIS, March 24.—Prices were firm on the bourse today. Rentes, 71 francs 50 centimes. Exchange on London, 25 francs 50½ centimes.

Defaults on Bonds Possible.

J. O. M.—You ask how it is possible to lose money on a first mortgage real estate bond. If the rent or other income from the mortgaged land and buildings is not sufficient to meet the interest on the mortgage, presumably the mortgagor would fail to pay it. Then if the property, when sold at foreclosure, did not bring a price high enough to pay the expenses of the legal proceedings and the principal of the mortgage, the holders of the bonds would lose part of their principal. The fact that the title is guaranteed assures investors against loss through a flaw in the title, not against loss through lack of value in the property. Reputable dealers in real estate bonds use the utmost care to have ample security back of the mortgage. It is due chiefly to this that defaults on such bonds are few. All bonds "that will pay interest and principal when due" are more or less attractive, but unless you have a wide margin of security you are not certain that interest and principal will be paid. The term "attractive" is ordinarily used to designate a bond that gives more security than the average bond of its class.

Peoria Railway Company.

F. C. C., Iron Mountain, Mich.—The $2,810,000 first and refunding bonds of the Peoria railway company are now secured by first lien on all the company's property. The gross earnings have shown a steady increase for the last seven years. The net decreased somewhat in 1910 and 1911 because of a big increase in operating expenses and taxes. Net earnings in 1914 were over twice the interest on the first and refunding bonds. There is also a junior issue of $813,000 general mortgage 5s. The bonds are all guaranteed by the Illinois Traction company and the underlying issue appears to be in a strong position.

Telephone Convertible Bonds.

M. R. G.—The American Telephone and Telegraph company pays 8 per cent dividends on its capital stock. The amount of stock outstanding on Jan. 1 last was $344,681,900. This has been increased somewhat by the converting of convertible bonds into stock. The total amount of bonds outstanding on Jan. 1 was about $160,000,000. The net earnings in 1914 were $40,557,877, of which $8,223,163 was taken by interest charges and $27,454,097 went for dividends, leaving $4,762,139 to be carried to surplus. The conversion of bonds into stock is on the basis of stock at 120, or 25 $100 shares of stock for three $1,000 bonds. At present prices there is little or no profit in the conversion, but the income is increased.

Brief Answers.

L. H.—Preferred stock is a much safer investment than common. The company you ask about pays 7 per cent on both classes of stock. If any cause should bring about a large reduction in earnings the dividend on common would be reduced. The converse also is true, that any big increase in profits would benefit the common stock chiefly.

G. B.—A purchase of Union Bag and Paper common shares would not be a conservative investment. The company never has paid a dividend on its $16,000,000 of common stock, and there are now 34½ per cent of accrued dividends unpaid on the $11,000,000 of preferred.

W. E. D.—No doubt the oil promotions of 1900 in which you bought stock are dead. The number of dead oil companies is so great, however, and their graves are so often unmarked that it is often, as in this case, impossible to find definite proof.

F. D.—The Flexible Shoe company refuses to give this department information regarding its capitalization, earnings, and dividends.

To the Man of Precaution

You are a man of precaution in financial affairs. You safeguard your business; invest your money wisely; insure your life; run no unnecessary risks.

But what about your estate? Is it safeguarded? When you are no longer here to manage and invest, will your heirs have competent assistance?

Have you looked into the service this company can render as executor of your will and trustee of your estate? Do you realize that this service is more responsible, more experienced, more resourceful, more accurate, than can be expected from an individual trustee? That it is under state supervision? And do you know that the cost is no higher?

Why not confer with our officers about this important matter, before it may be too late?

Shippers paid firm to 10c higher prices for cattle at Chicago yesterday, while packers bought offerings in the quarantined division on a steady basis. Only about a third of fresh receipts of 10,000 head were in the "free" division, available for shipment east, and the trade in that section of the yards was active and strong. In the restricted part the cattle moved slowly and the trade was weak. Best steers offered were yearlings that topped the market at $8.80. There were not many steers good enough to bring higher than $8.40, and the bulk sold at $7.25@8.15. Cows and heifers made firm to 10c higher prices, while bulls and calves held steady.

Speculators bought hogs at a decline of 5c on receipts of 30,000 head, while packers held back and filled their orders at a reduction of largely 10c from Tuesday's prices. The trade was fairly active at the decline, with packers taking 25,400 head and shippers 3,500. The latter included 1,500 head to Cudahy Bros. of Milwaukee. Top sales were made at $6.77½.

Live muttons showed little change in values. Receipts of 12,000 head found a ready outlet and the market had a buoyant undertone. Lambs topped at $9.80, with clippers at $8.25. There were no prime sheep offered.

Hog purchases for the day: Armour & Co., 6,500; Swift & Co., 2,000; Sulzberger & Sons, 2,100; Morris & Co., 3,000; Anglo-American, 1,500; Hammond, 1,000; Boyd-Lunham, 1,500; Roberts & Oake, 900; Western Packing company, 2,000; Miller & Hart, 500; Independent Packing company, 1,700; Brennan Packing company, 1,200; butchers, 1,500; shippers, 3,500; total, 28,900; left over, 1,000.

STRICTLY MODERN, SMALL APARTMENTS

NORTHEAST CORNER 60TH-PL. AND ST. LAWRENCE-AV.

Located in one of the most desirable sections of the South Side, overlooking WASHINGTON PARK; easy walking distance to "L" express, Cottage Grove and Indiana surface lines; convenient to tennis courts, theaters, and shopping district.

Apts. contain TWO, THREE, and FOUR ROOMS EACH. Every apt. has sun parlor or front porch. Large, light, airy rooms, plenty of large closets, full size kitchens and pantries. Each apt. has large dressing rooms and MURPHY IN-A-DOR BEDS. This makes these apts. as efficient as ordinary apts. of four, five, and six rooms, with two less rooms to light, furnish, and keep clean. Bath and electric fixtures are the best, and everything has been installed that will solve the servant problem and simplify housekeeping. The efficiency of these small apts. can not be appreciated until you see them. Ready for inspection NOW. See them today, as they are going fast. Agent on premises.
